ARMY AND NAVY JOINT DEFENSE PROGRAM SET UP

Act to End Rising Toll of Ships.

BY WALTER TROHAN.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., March 27.—The army and navy have effected a joint program of operations under which the navy is in supreme command of the anti-submarine campaign, it was announced today. The program represented a move to curb the mounting menace of axis submarines.

The navy was given command of army anti-submarine activities on the Atlantic, Pacific, and gulf coasts as well as on the high seas. In the past the army has clung to its coastal establishments, holding that its task of defending the nation begins at the shore line.

The naval officers in command of the anti-submarine operations are Rear Adm. Adolphus Andrews on the Atlantic coast and Rear Admirals C. S. Freeman and J. W. Greenslade on the Pacific coast. The navy said Freeman was in command on the northwestern sea frontier and Greenslade on the western sea frontier.

The unification of command was achieved at a time when the halls of congress still were echoing to demands to place the entire military establishment of the nation—land, sea, and air—under a single command which would unify the war and navy departments into a department of defense.

One Hundred Vessels Sunk.

Consolidation of the submarine command was effected thru instructions from Gen. George C. Marshall, army chief of staff, and Adm. Ernest J. King, chief of naval operations and commander in chief of the fleet. In identical communiques the war and navy departments announced the step was taken to increase the effectiveness of the battle against U-boats off the American coasts. In most ports the operating centers of the commands have already been combined in one room.

Submarines have sent 100 united nations or friendly neutral vessels to the bottom of the sea since Pearl Harbor. Approximately half of the vessels sunk were American, and about 90 have been sunk in the Atlantic.

As the command was unified today an official spokesman in London aroused the indignation of American officials by asserting that "our end of the battle of the Atlantic is going pretty well, but the United States' end is not so hot."

Convoys Aiding Britain.

Altho no formal comment was made on the remarks of the British spokesmen, who said Germans had been quick to attack unescorted ships in United States waters, army and navy officers here said the reason ships have been unescorted in American waters is that American men of war have been occupied in escorting convoys to Britain.

The joint communique also said:

"Unity of command already exists for all army and navy forces in the Hawaiian Islands and the Caribbean, those at Hawaii being under the navy, those in Panama under the army, and those along the eastern Caribbean being under the navy."

At the same time the navy announced Lieut. Comm. Frank V. Lauden has been promoted to the rank of captain and placed in charge of improving the protection of harbors and water fronts against sabotage.

'Teacher Hit Me', Boy Tells Flogging Jury

BY RITA FITZPATRICK.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Lafayette, Ind., March 27.—Dannie Leslie, the wan faced, dark haired little boy whose school troubles are the talk of the town, took the stand today in defense of his mother, Mrs. Virginia Leslie, accused of flogging Miss Constance Davis, his fifth grade teacher, for disciplining him.

Dressed in shabby trousers and an old plaid shirt, Danny was the center of all eyes as he clambered to the witness chair and faced a jury of 11 grim men and one smiling grandmother. Altho more than 400 men, women, and children were jammed in side by side, sitting, standing, and perched on window sills, an expectant hush hung over the courtroom.

Toning down his voice, which has become a hoarse rumble during the five days of the trial, Attorney Francis Murphy, representing Mrs. Leslie and her husband, Arthur, who is charged with being an accessory to the whipping, asked Danny if he ever had any trouble with his teacher before the incident.

Fingers Slapped.

"Yes," the boy began. "She hit my hand with a book several weeks before. I had raised it to be excused when she came into the room. She said 'there are some good hand wavers in this room' and came over and slapped my fingers with a grammar book."

"Did it hurt you?" Murphy put in.

"Well, it didn't feel very good."

On the day of the alleged attack, Danny explained that he had been leaning out of his desk to pick up a pencil when Miss Davis came in to teach.

"It was supposed to be our grammar lesson but she wanted us to use readers. I didn't have mine with me and she hit me over the head with hers. I said, 'Ouch, that hurts.' She said 'I meant it to.' After a while I got up and started out of the room. She said 'goodby'."

Says His Head Hurt.

Hitching himself further back in the chair with his feet dangling several inches from the floor, Danny recounted how he went home and told his parents about the blow. He was lying down because his "head hurt" when his mother told him to get up and go back to school with her.

"I didn't know she was going to whip Miss Davis." The boy's voice was almost a whimper.

Under cross-examination by Daniel [The Fox] Flanagan, prominent criminal attorney who was hired by a committee of school sponsors to aid the prosecution, Danny denied that he had seen his mother wield the strap, saying that he had been out in the hall at the time.

Told About Whipping.

"How do you know that there was a whipping then?" Flanagan countered.

"That's what they tell me," Danny piped up pertly.

Questioned as to his deportment grade from the school, Danny explained that the mark had been omitted on his card since the whipping.

Arthur Leslie, 47, Danny's father who is a locomotive engineer, now on sick leave, was next to take the stand. A gaunt, nervous man, Leslie was unable to be heard by the jury because of a paralyzed nerve in his throat which he said was the result of wounds in the World war. His

Pork, Tea, Sugar, and Wool Hit in New U. S. Regulations

Shift in Food Control

Washington, D. C., March 27 (AP).—Donald M. Nelson, chairman of the War Production board, was reported preparing today to transfer virtually all WPB's control over the nation's food supply to other government agencies—probably the department of agriculture and the Office of Price Administration.

One step in that direction already had been taken, it was disclosed officially. Nelson will issue an order shortly giving OPA exclusive control over sugar supplies from the refinery to the consumer. Heretofore OPA has had jurisdiction at the retail level only.

Washington, D. C., March 27 [Special].—Far reaching actions affecting essential consumer goods were taken today by government wartime agencies. They were:

PORK.

Retail meat markets were called upon by the Office of Price Administration not to raise prices of ham, bacon, pork chops, and other pork products above mid-March levels. The action was taken to prevent price gouging at the retail level.

OPA warned it was ready to crack down if retailers made unwarranted price increases and asked consumers to report such price raises to the OPA in Washington. Under an order of March 10 meat retailers are protected against rising wholesale prices.

Average retail prices for popular pork cuts in Chicago on March 17 were listed as: Pork chops, 41.7 cents a pound; sliced bacon, 41.2; sliced ham, 60.6; whole ham, 36.5, and salt pork, 28.8.

TEA.

In the most drastic food action since the government decreed sugar rationing, the War Production board ordered a 50 per cent reduction in the amount of tea which may be sold by grocers, wholesalers, and packers, cutting the average annual tea consumption of each American from 11 to 5½ ounces.

Altho the order contained no formal rationing provisions, grocers were asked to set up a ration system of their own by limiting sales to each family so each store's 50 per cent allotment would be distributed evenly and not bought up by hoarders. It was understood a retail price ceiling on tea would soon be applied.

WOOL.

The OPA authorized a general price increase on all woolen products, ranging from wool pulled from sheepskin to worsted yarn. While the increase will not affect the average consumer immediately, it is expected to do so later.

The old ceiling prohibited any prices higher than those prevailing between Oct. 1 and Dec. 15, 1941. An example of the new levels, one of the most comprehensive price orders yet issued, raises the maximum on "average domestic wool tops, 64s and finer," from $1.44 a pound to $1.60.

The price ceiling was rushed to permit manufacturers to prepare bids on army purchases of 75 million yards of woolen goods, the largest army cloth purchase on record.

REFRIGERATORS.

WPB released frozen stocks of domestic electric refrigerators held by dealers, permitting retail sales of about 75,000 of the machines. The action will allow dealers to dispose of the entire stock they had on hand Feb. 14, when the government froze such inventories. Production of refrigerators is to be discontinued April 30.

Restrictions still apply to gas and kerosene refrigerators because of shortage of such equipment.

MOTORS.

WPB prohibited further production of outboard motors, except to fill war orders, and froze all manufacturers' stocks of motors of 6 horsepower and over, permitting delivery only of those actually in transit at the close of business today.

SUGAR.

WPB amended the sugar priority order to authorize sugar refiners to fill all sugar requirements of beekeepers and the United Service organizations.

HOUSE OF LORDS FACING REFORMS

Urge Ability Not Birth as Membership Basis.

BY LARRY RUE.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, March 28 [Saturday].—The government is considering a plan to reform the house of lords by making ability instead of birth the qualification for membership, it was asserted today.

The revolutionary proposal is being considered by Sir John Anderson, president of the council, and a "home front ministerial committee of ministers" which is making a comprehensive review of Britain's constitutional and electoral problems.

"Super Brain Trust" Planned.

Application of the plan, according to the Daily Herald, might make the house of lords a "super brain trust of parliamentary government."

The Herald said the government is planning to "create an entirely new second chamber on a 'representative' basis" by removing an individual's right to sit in the house of lords merely because he is the "son of his father." The reformed house of lords, he asserts, would be comprised of leaders of churches, spokesmen of organized employers and workers, representatives of science and literature and leaders of coöperative movements.

At present, according to Whitaker's "Peerage," 708 of the 768 members of the house of lords hold seats by virtue of birth.

Debate Reform for Years.

Reform of the house of lords on democratic lines has been the subject of periodical proposals and promises in the house of commons for many years, but so far nothing has materialized.

It also was made known last night that Capt. Henry David Margesson, who was bitterly criticized during his short career as secretary of state for war, has been elevated to the house of lords together with Lieut. Col. John Theodore Cuthbert Moore-Brabazon, former minister of aircraft production. Margesson follows in the footsteps of previous secretaries of state by becoming a viscount. Moore-Brabazon becomes a baron in recognition of his "services to aviation."

RUSSIA LANDS ARMY BEHIND NAZIS IN ARCTIC

Seeks to Clear Allied Lane to Murmansk.

MOSCOW, March 27 (AP).—A Russian seaborne force has landed behind the German lines on the Murmansk coast under the protecting guns of the Red fleet in a surprise Arctic offensive to clear the allied northern supply lanes and menace the Nazi-Finnish northern flank, it was announced tonight.

Pressure by the landing parties from beachheads behind the left invasion flank, combined with soviet sea and air attacks, was reported to be making the position of the German Alpine army before Murmansk extremely difficult.

Meager accounts of the new action, broadcast by the Moscow radio, said the Russian landings—presumably on the Rybachi peninsula northwest of Murmansk—caused vast confusion among the German troops who have holed up there all winter. The Nazis were said to be trying to meet the new offensive with heavy air attacks.

Red Subs Sink Ten Transports.

Small soviet submarines, operating in adjacent waters, were reported to have sunk at least ten German transports in operations connected with the Russian troop move.

The whole action was described as "a purely Russian operation."

[The landing has deep implications, observers stated, because the area between Murmansk and the north cape of Norway has long been regarded as a logical setting for the opening of a second front by Russia's United States and British allies, in order to assure constant and increasing use of the Murmansk supply route and its rail connections south, knock Finland out of the war and bring heavy pressure from a new sector on the whole German position east and north of the Baltic states. Anticipating such a maneuver, the Germans have sent a powerful naval flotilla to northern Norwegian waters, led by the superdreadnaught Tirpitz. Up to now most British-American supplies have been reaching Russia by way of the White sea and Archangel, but Murmansk is a better, all year port with superior rail connections.]

Balk Nazi Counterattacks.

Other Russian dispatches told of repulsing continued German counterattacks.

At one of ten settlements retaken by the Russians on the central front, the Germans counterattacked four times without avail, it was stated, using thousands of men and tanks.

A supplementary communique said 2,500 Germans had been killed and many wounded in a five day battle on the Kalinin, or northwestern, front when the Nazis used huge reserves in an effort to break a soviet wedge driven into their lines. The Deutschland Schutz Staffel regiment alone was said to have lost 900 of its 1,400 men.

Destruction of 32 German planes in two days, including two Junkers-52 transports which had landed on the airdrome at Staraya Russa with supplies for the 16th army trapped below Leningrad, also was reported.

"Free Leningrad" Drive Begun.

LONDON, March 27 (AP).—Military reports from Stockholm said tonight that Maj. Gen. Fedyuninsky, who has been assigned by the Russian command to raise the siege of Leningrad, has opened a "now or never" battle for his objective.

NEWS OF FIGHTING ON MAIN FRONTS TOLD AT A GLANCE

Latest war developments:

The accuracy of American and Filipino anti-aircraft gunners on Corregidor was credited with beating off waves of Japanese bombers which attacked that island fortress in Manila bay. The war department said most of the bombs fell into the bay. Those which struck Corregidor were reported to have caused little damage. Several of the attacking planes were believed to have been hit by shells. Enemy bombers also attacked the defenders' rear lines on the Bataan front, a communique said, adding that fighting between patrols occurred along the front lines.

Advance in New Guinea.

A dispatch from Port Moresby said the Japanese were trying to set up a big air base in the eastern section of New Guinea Island for the apparent purpose of launching large scale bombing attacks on the northern coast of Australia. On the other side of a spine of mountains the invaders were reported to have advanced in "considerable strength" along a river valley. Port Moresby, which is held by the Australians, was raided for the 20th time.

The Chinese, who are helping to defend Burma, announced their troops had "liquidated" Japanese forces which captured an airdrome at Toungoo. They said that with the help of reënforcements the encircled Chinese were fighting the enemy on three sides of the city. It was acknowledged that the Japanese, too, were bringing up reënforcements. The British declared the Japanese were moving northward along the Irrawaddy river valley toward the rich oil fields in central Burma.

Land Troops Behind Nazis.

The Russians said that ships landed a soviet force behind the German lines on the Murmansk coast. Moscow declared this surprise arctic offensive was designed to clear the allied sea lane to the Russian port and to menace the German and Finnish flank in the north. The Reds said the landing of troops caused confusion among Nazi troops, adding that German bombers were dispatched to meet the drive. Soviet dispatches said German counterattacks elsewhere were repulsed.

MEXICO TO GET PLANES AND GUNS BY LEND-LEASE

Washington, D. C., March 27 (AP).—Mexico and the United States signed a lend-lease agreement today. Francisco Castillo Najera, Mexican ambassador, who signed the agreement with Acting Secretary of State Sumner Welles, said the pact involved a "substantial amount."

MEXICO CITY, March 27.—Military circles said tonight that the lend-lease agreement signed in Washington today involved supplying Mexico with 200 military airplanes, "many" anti-aircraft guns, motor trucks for use in the newly organized mobile defense system on the Pacific coast, and 30 locomotives.

HELP RECEIVED AFTER 60 HOUR TOUNGOO SIEGE

'Liquidate' Foe in Seizing Airport.

NEW DELHI, India, March 27.—The Chinese holding the eastern anchor of the allied lines in Burma have "liquidated" the Japanese force which captured the Toungoo airdrome, and with the help of newly arrived reënforcements are now battling the invaders on three sides of the city, a Chinese communique announced tonight.

The Japanese, too, are bringing up reënforcements in the severe conflict in the western, southern, and northern outskirts of Toungoo, the Chinese acknowledged, but the arrival of help for the encircled defenders was declared to have given their already high spirit a tremendous boost.

Aid reached Toungoo's defenders after they had fought without pause for 60 hours under intense pounding by enemy bombing planes.

Break-out Still Problematical.

Whether the reënforcements would be enough to enable the Chinese to smash out of the trap remained unanswered but before the announcement of their arrival it was admitted here that the allied position there was in grave peril.

Lacking air support, the Toungoo force was cut off from a retreat to the north by an enemy enveloping movement which had bypassed the city and captured Kyungon.

The British afternoon communique issued here said that enemy pressure against the Chinese was most severe from the northwest and that "enemy bombing continued all day in flights of 10 planes."

On the Prome front—where the British troops bar the way to the central Burmese oil fields—the enemy was moving northward up the Irrawaddy river valley. Boats were being used by some while others advanced along the river banks and the main highway to Prome. It also appeared that the Japanese bodies were striking obliquely thru the gap in the Pegu Yoma mountain chain.

Expect Decision Near Opho.

Action on this front was for the moment light, the British command reporting that there had been no contact north of Opho, which lies 65 miles below Prome, but the enemy's movements indicated that it was here that the decision would fall. The Japanese purpose, it appeared, was to wholly separate the allies, attempting to roll the British back toward the coast, occupy the oil fields, and then turn on the Chinese to the east.

Allied air reconnaissance established also that small enemy naval forces of one cruiser and a few destroyers were operating along the flank of India in the bay of Bengal, near the recently fallen Andaman Islands.

Stilwell Sees More U. S. Aid.

CHINESE HEADQUARTERS IN BURMA, March 25 (AP).—[Delayed.]—Lieut. Gen. Joseph W. Stilwell, commander of the Chinese and American forces in Burma, predicted today that allied forces in the Asiatic war theater soon will be strengthened sharply by increased shipments of war materials from the United States under supervision of United States service of supply units.

Jap Navy Enters Rangoon.

TOKIO, March 27 [From Japanese broadcasts] (AP).—Units of the Japanese fleet steamed into Rangoon harbor Thursday after sweeping up mines which the British had left to guard the sea approaches to the Burmese capital, Domei news agency reported today.

GOERING'S PAPER HINTS JAPS MAY ATTACK SIBERIA

STOCKHOLM, Sweden, March 27.—The possibility of a Japanese attack on Siberia was considered for the first time today by Herman Goering's newspaper, the National Zeitung of Essen, Germany.

Commenting on the visit to Tokio of the chief of the Manchukuo puppet government, the newspaper says that it is possible that the German spring offensive will be coupled with a Japanese attack on Siberia. The National Zeitung plays up the following declaration made by the Manchukuoan premier in Tokio: "The Red shadow of the soviet union looms threateningly over our frontier. It must be forced back."

TRAITORS IN RAGS AID JAP ADVANCE ON BURMA FRONT

Fifth Columnists, Dacoits Act as Spies, Guides.

LONDON, March 27 (AP).—A ragged army of "free Burmans" drawn from the teeming slums of Rangoon and the hill jungles of the north has joined the Japanese army in its fight northward against British and Chinese forces in Burma.

Fired with lust for loot, these opportunists "come and go as Japanese fortunes wax and wane," a British military source said. There are probably not more than 2,000 with the Japanese altho undetermined numbers of hardy Dacoit warriors may be operating independently in the north, he declared.

Dacoits Most Dangerous.

Japan's Burmese allies, this source said, fall into three classes: The remnants of radical elements which rioted for freedom against the British in 1938 and 1939; Burmans who believe the Japanese are winning and want to share in the booty; and the most important and probably most formidable, the Dacoits, guerrilla fighters mostly drawn from the Karen tribe in north Burma whose people have waged intermittent warfare against the British since 1885.

Wandering thru the hills with elephants for pack animals, sleeping in heavily stockaded villages and fighting with ancient rifles and dahs [heavy Burmese knives], they have never been wholly conquered. The Burma frontier force has sent dozens of punitive expeditions against them but usually have lost the Dacoits' tracks in the jungle.

The main military value of the "free Burmans" to the Japanese is as guides and scouts. Penetrating the British lines in disguises varying from the orange robes and shaven pates of Buddhist priests to the breech cloths and begging bowls of wandering mendicants, they spy for the Japanese.

Take Strong Measures.

Recently British officials reported they had taken strong measures against "civilians" near airfields and ground positions. Reports from American volunteer flyers with Chinese forces said these pilots had noticed "orange robed priests strolling by the field" before Japanese aerial attacks.

"These natives watched every bit of activity at our field," one American pilot said. "We got the impression there were many traitors in the adjoining villages which most civilians had evacuated."

Japanese bombers have been reported dropping parachutists in primitive Karen villages north of the British lines.

HESS REPORTED UNDER GUARD TO THWART SUICIDE

LONDON, March 27 (AP).—Unconfirmed reports spread in London today that Rudolf Hess, once deputy leader of the Nazi party, has been placed under close medical supervision because of fears that he may try to end his life. These rumors said Hess had been growing gloomy over his failure since he parachuted down in Scotland on May 10, 1941, with the announcement that he was on a mission to save the world by ending the war between Britain and Germany. Since then his movements have been kept secret.

Vichy Reports Conference Between Petain and Laval

BERLIN, March 27 [from German broadcasts] — (AP). — Dispatches from Vichy today reported Chief of State Marshal Petain and his former deputy premier, Pierre Laval, met yesterday in the forest of Randan, near Vichy, and said sources close to Laval described the meeting as "the reverse of Dec. 13."

[Laval was removed Dec. 13, 1940, from Petain's cabinet under criticism for going too far in efforts to line up France for collaboration with Germany.]

PEARL HARBOR SLOGAN ERASED FROM REGISTER

L. A. Fortman, who claimed to have originated the slogan, "Remember Pearl Harbor," said yesterday he had received a letter from Secretary of State Edward J. Hughes in Springfield telling him his registration of the slogan had been canceled.

He said the matter had been placed in the hands of his attorney, Norman Gerlach, who is out of the city.

Fortman is a printer, with offices at 6913 North Ridgeway avenue. Recently Gerlach said that on Dec. 8, the day after the attack on Pearl Harbor, Fortman had designed an emblem which pictured a battleship with the slogan beneath it. This was first registered in Washington, D. C., and later with Hughes' department on Jan. 22.

MacARTHUR FANS FORM LONG LINES TO BUY BUTTONS

15,000 Sold Friday at 2 Tribune Offices.

Hundreds of persons stood in line yesterday at THE TRIBUNE's two public service offices waiting their turn to buy Gen. Douglas MacArthur buttons. Four times during the day both offices were sold out.

The day's total sold by 6 p. m. stood at 15,000, making a cumulative total of 84,000 in the three days the buttons have been on sale.

It took only 35 minutes to dispose of 2,500 buttons when the two offices, at Dearborn and Madison streets and in the Tribune Tower, opened at 8:30 a. m. From 9:05 to 12:45 p. m. thousands of disappointed customers were turned down because the supply was exhausted.

Supplies Sold Quickly.

At 12:45 a batch of 5,000 more went on sale and 35 minutes later they were gone. Another batch of 3,500 came in at 2:15, and this supply was exhausted at 3:30. Another 4,000 went on sale at 4:30 and they were cleaned out at 6 p. m.

The red, white, and blue buttons honoring Gen. MacArthur, American hero of Bataan, are being sold over the counter at 2 cents each, with a limit of five to each customer. They cost 5 cents by mail. The buttons bear a front view likeness of the general taken from his portrait painted for THE TRIBUNE by Oskar Gross.

On Monday 100,000 buttons are expected to go on sale at the two offices, John F. Gillespie, manager of The Tribune Public Service department, announced yesterday.

Sailors, Soldiers to Benefit.

Profits from the sales will be used on behalf of sailors and soldiers in nearby camps.

The Chicago plants, now working to capacity to produce the buttons, are turning them out day and night but up until now have been unable to keep up with the demand. Each button bears a union label.

Because of the enormous demand, Gillespie said, the plant making the buttons will change its method of manufacture so as to produce a greater quantity in a shorter time.

15,000 SOLD IN NEW YORK.

New York, March 27 [Special].—Sales of Gen. MacArthur buttons by the information bureau of the New York Daily News today at 6 p. m. were 15,000, bringing the total to 90,000 in the seven days they have been on sale. Because of a shortage in the supplies, the button sales were limited to [illegible] each customer.

NEGRO SOLDIERS WITH MacARTHUR ARMY: STIMSON

Washington, D. C., March 27 (AP).—Secretary of War Stimson reported today that Negro troops were included in the American forces which have reached Australia. The secretary declined to state their numbers or give additional information but told his press conference that Negroes were in virtually every branch and grade of the armed forces, and that their service ratio was about the same as their national ratio with the white population.

PETRILLO O. K.'S SCHOOL BANDS AT DEFENSE RALLIES

James C. Petrillo, national president of the American Federation of Musicians and also president of the Chicago local, said yesterday that the union has no objection to high school bands playing at civilian defense rallies.

He described as a mistake an order by subordinates banning the appearance of the South Shore High school band at a community defense meeting in the school next Monday. The matter was taken up with Mayor Kelly, who telephoned Petrillo. "Mr. Petrillo said he never issued the ban and that evidently there had been a misunderstanding," said the mayor.

Petrillo amplified this statement later by declaring his union has no objection to high school band appearances at patriotic rallies, and that he has given full approval to such appearances.

Mayor's Wife Is Stricken with Bronchial Pneumonia

Mrs. Edward J. Kelly, wife of the mayor, was stricken with bronchial pneumonia yesterday and will be confined to her apartment at 209 Lake Shore drive for at least two weeks, according to her physicians, Drs. Robert A. Black and Walter H. Theobald. Mrs. Kelly's illness was attributed in part to overwork in the Service Men's center, 174 West Washington street, where she had been on duty for 12 hours daily for several months.

A YANK IN JAVA DISCOVERS JAPS AREN'T SO TOUGH!

Washington, D. C., March 27 (AP).—Take it from a naval officer who just got home from Java—

The Jap is not a very tough opponent as an individual. The Americans, Australians, British, and Dutch are tougher. Japanese planes are inferior to the best that the United States can turn out against them. And the Jap navy, despite its successes due to numerical superiority in the battle of Java, is regarded by American navy men as inferior to ours.

But, said Capt. Felix B. Stump of Clarksburg, W. Va., who was attached to the allied high command in Java—

Japanese pilots are "damn good." The Japanese forces have a splendid organization, know where they are going and altho you destroy their planes and ships, they always have something left to keep on going with.

Chilean President Elect to Tell Foreign Stand Soon

SANTIAGO, Chile, March 27 (AP).—President Elect Juan Antonio Rios of Chile, which still maintains diplomatic relations with the axis, last night said he plans to state his views on international politics after his inauguration April 2.

NAMES IN THE NEWS ON FIGHTING FRONT IN NEW GUINEA ISLAND

MARKHAM RIVER, a New Guinea stream along which the Japanese are reported to be advancing, is large. The river rises in the island's mountains and carrying a great volume of water to the sea. It is about 300 yards wide at its mouth.

FRANCISCO RIVER in New Guinea flows thru a picturesque valley and empties into Bayern bay. Navigators customarily avoid it because the mouth of the stream is cluttered with sandbars.

Lisbon Prepares for Swap of Envoys and Writers

BERNE, Switzerland, March 27.—Altho nothing is known yet of an approximate date for the exchange of diplomats and newspaper men between the various belligerents, dispatches from Lisbon today reported that preparations are being made there by the Portuguese authorities for the coming exchange between the axis and the United States. According to estimates the exchange will involve 1,000 persons.

GEN. MacARTHUR STILL KEEPS EYE ON BATAAN WAR

Quezon Expected to Tell General of Campaign.

BY E. R. NODERER.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

UNITED STATES ARMY HEADQUARTERS IN AUSTRALIA, March 27.—The transfer of the Philippine government to Australia was regarded today as lending additional emphasis to Gen. Douglas MacArthur's statements that he is still commander of the Philippines and has no intention of giving up the fight against the Japanese there.

This belief was expressed following the announcement that President Manuel Quezon of the Philippines has reached Australia to join Gen. MacArthur at his headquarters. Accompanying Quezon were his war cabinet and his family.

MacArthur on the Job.

The supreme commander of the allied forces in the Western Pacific returned to his headquarters tonight to take over his command in earnest after having established the necessary contacts with the Australian government thru his visit to Canberra.

MacArthur is expected to have an early conference with Quezon and the latter's cabinet on the military developments on the Bataan front since the general's departure and the means for continuing the struggle there.

The shift of the Philippine government to Australia was made with the approval of both the United States and Australian government, an American army spokesman said.

Communication Lines Open.

The step was taken to permit Quezon to obtain collaboration between his government and MacArthur, he said. In the Philippines the functions of government are carried on at MacArthur's former headquarters.

Quezon's arrival indicated that the lines of communication with the Philippines still are open. There had been some fear here that the publicity given to MacArthur's dash from Bataan might enable the Japanese to tighten their blockade to the extent that further travel between the Philippine and Australian theaters of war would be prevented.

Continue Coöperation.

Washington, D. C., March 27 (AP).—The war department today said that President Manuel Quezon had transferred the government of the Philippine commonwealth to Australia in order to continue the close coöperation with Gen. Douglas MacArthur which has existed since the start of the war.

Quezon's arrival in Australia with members of his cabinet was greeted with expressions of personal satisfaction from Francis B. Sayre, American high commissioner to the Philippines, who returned to Washington last week, and Secretary of War Stimson. Joaquin M. Elizalde, Philippine resident commissioner in Washington, predicted that Quezon would come here for conferences with United States officials.

Broadcast to People Nightly.

At his press conference this morning, Stimson said that for some time Quezon had been touring the central Philippine Islands not occupied by the Japanese, and broadcasting to the Filipino people each night. When these broadcasts ceased because Quezon was on his way to Australia, Stimson said, "at once the Japanese killed him."

"They killed him in all sorts of ways," Stimson added. "They had him dying of various diseases, and they had him assassinated by the Americans. You could take your pick from the Tokio radio."

Bootleg Whisky Kills First Victim in London; Many Ill

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, March 27.—Bootleg whisky killed its first victim today in London and made another man an invalid for life, doctors report. Hospitals for weeks have been treating Britons, usually men of the armed forces, for methyl or wood alcohol poisoning. Most bootleg liquor sold here is said to be made from methylated spirits but sealed in proprietary brand bottles and sold in low class night clubs.

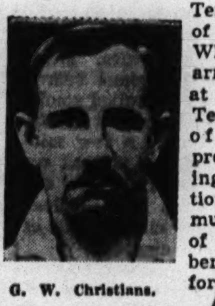
HOLD CRUSADER FOR ATTACKS ON ARMY'S MORALE

White Shirts' Chief's Letters Cited.

Washington, D. C., March 27 (AP).—George W. Christians of Chattanooga, Tenn., organizer of the Crusader White Shirts, was arrested tonight at Chattanooga, Tenn., on charges of distributing propaganda urging insubordination, disloyalty, mutiny, or refusal of duty by members of the armed forces.



G. W. Christians.

At the same time Attorney General Francis Biddle announced issuance of an order for the prosecution of Rudolph Fahl of Denver, Colo., on charges of attempting to undermine the morale of the military forces.

These are the first such charges to be brought in the second World war and will be prosecuted, the justice department announced, under a section of the 1940 Smith act, which provides a maximum penalty of 10 years' imprisonment and $10,000 fine. Both men are native-born Americans.

Letters to Officers Charged.

Christians, described as organizer of the Economic Liberty Movement as well as the Crusader White Shirts, was charged with sending a communication addressed to "officers of Fort Oglethorpe [Ga.] and Camp Forrest [Tenn.]" on the letterhead of the Crusader White Shirts, which he signed as "commander in chief."

Fahl is charged, the department said, with verbal statements to officers from the air corps gunnery school at Las Vegas, Nev., while they were at Lowry Field, Colo., on Jan. 31. He is alleged to have told them they were "suckers" and were not fighting for democracy.

The Christians communication, as quoted in part by the justice department, said:

"Even in wartime we are permitted to ask questions, so on the reverse side of this page is a list of them which are designed to finish the demoralization and disintegration of the existing order and create a reign of terror."

Note Is Inclosed.

Included was a hand written note addressed to "C. O." [the usual abbreviation for commanding officer] and signed "G. W. C." which read:

"The enclosed ought to make me shot, but if our boys in the Philippines can take it—I can, too—and dish it out to the stuffed shirts whose stupidity and stubbornness got us into this mess. You are supposed to be an American. See if you can get these questions answered. Maybe you will get shot instead of me."

Among the questions asked were these:

"Do we die for dollar domination?" "Are we fighting to quiet the struggles of the victims of economic strangulation?" "Do Germany, Italy and Japan have the right to fight for freedom from our economic strangulation?" "Are we fighting to make Roosevelt the dictator of the world?" and "Does our commander in chief have ideas or is he just the world's greatest humbug?"

JAPS SEEK TO SET UP BIG AIR BASE IN NEW GUINEA

Port Moresby Raided for 20th Time.

PORT MORESBY, New Guinea, March 27 (AP).—The Japanese today were reported to be striving to establish a big air base 27 miles inland from the east coast of New Guinea to direct large scale raids against the north shores of Australia.

Against them, the Australian flyers are using speedy American fighter planes whose successes already have strengthened morale in this outpost where air power may prove the decisive factor.

Port Moresby, a vital point for defense or offense, was raided for the 20th time today, but only two planes participated. One was shot down.

Japs Move up Valley.

On the other side of New Guinea's mountainous spine, the Japanese who landed at Lae and Salamaua were reported to have moved in considerable strength up the broad, flat Markham river valley, halting at Nadzab.

Air fields can be created merely by mowing the long grass, and it was believed possible that the Japanese intended to make Nadzab the site of a large central airdrome to reënforce the small emergency fields they already possess.

The invaders were reported to have made little attempt to go farther inland into the rougher country, altho they did recently cross the Francisco river and raid Australian supply dumps at an undisclosed spot.

A native runner who made a 10 day journey thru some of New Guinea's wildest jungles reported yesterday that eight Japanese planes dropped 30 bombs on Madang on the northeast coast March 15. Madang remains in Australian hands, but the latest bombing was declared to have destroyed its "Chinatown" and part of the main town.

It was disclosed here that American and Australian bombers raided the Japanese base at Koepang, Dutch Timor.

Aussie Veterans Return Home.

UNITED STATES ARMY HEADQUARTERS, Australia, March 27 (AP).—Battletried Australian "diggers" brought home from the middle east were organized tonight under Gen. Sir Thomas Blamey and assumed their rôle in the defense of Australia beneath the supreme command of Gen. Douglas MacArthur.

The government, in announcing Gen. Blamey's appointment as commander in chief of the allied ground forces in Australia, said all Australian forces which it intended to return from abroad now had arrived with full equipment.

The number was not disclosed. As deputy commander in chief of all British forces in the middle east Gen. Blamey first went out with 20,000 men and these were periodically augmented.

CORREGIDOR GUNS BEAT OFF WAVES OF JAP BOMBERS

Yanks Destroy Accuracy of Enemy's Assault.

Washington, D. C., March 27 (AP).—The straight shooting of American and Philippine anti-aircraft gunners, who already have downed at least seven enemy bombers this week, today appeared to have frustrated a dawn to midnight assault on Corregidor by successive waves of Japanese planes.

A report to the war department from Lieut. Gen. Jonathan M. Wainwright, commanding in the Philippines, indicated that the defenders' fire kept the enemy aircraft high enough to destroy the accuracy of their attack. Most of the bombs fell in Manila bay, said a communique, and those which struck the fortified island caused little damage.

Yanks Without Air Strength.

Since the defending forces are without air strength which could intercept the formations of enemy bombers, only anti-aircraft guns can counter the attacks.

Japanese bombing on other fronts in the Pacific war has shown a high degree of accuracy, and observers said the guns of Corregidor must have kept the enemy at a tremendous height to have interfered with their aim at an island four miles long. Capt. Colin Kelly sank the battleship Haruna with a direct hit from an altitude of more than 20,000 feet.

Several of the attacking planes were believed to have been hit, but Wainwright was unable to verify the destruction of any of them. Early Thursday morning the Japanese began the attack, heaviest since they resumed aerial bombardment of the fortifications last Tuesday, and they kept hammering at Corregidor with seven successive waves of bombers.

Raid Japanese Position.

Except for a short lull at sunset, the assault was maintained until midnight, altho decreasing in intensity in the late afternoon and night, and it was resumed early today.

While this attack was in progress, fighting between patrols also occurred along the front lines in Bataan, and one American-Filipino patrol carried out a successful raid on a strong enemy position.

Japanese dive bombers engaged in unsuccessful operations against the rear of Wainwright's lines. He reported that movements of troops and trucks behind the enemy's lines led him to expect an increase in the Japanese pressure in Bataan.

DEAT SNUFFS OUT FUSE OF A BOMB HURLED AT HIM

Marcel Deat.

PARIS, March 27 [from German broadcasts]—(AP).—Marcel Deat, leader of the French-German collaborationist National Popular party, saved himself from a bomb during a political meeting by stamping out its spluttering fuse.

Deat was addressing the meeting in a theater at Tours last night when the bomb was thrown at him. It struck his coat and fell to the floor. He stepped on the fuse, handed the bomb to a policeman, and continued his speech.

[Deat already had been wounded once for his support of collaboration between France and Germany. He was one of six victims, including former Vice Premier Pierre Laval, of shots fired by Paul Colette at Versailles Aug. 27, 1941, during inauguration ceremonies for the French anti-bolshevik legion.]

Sentenced

Ralph E. Nichols after he was sentenced for draft law violation.

FIRST C. O. GETS PRISON TERM AS A DRAFT DODGER

Ignored Order to Go to Labor Camp.

Ralph E. Nichols, 28 years old, an adherent of the sect called Jehovah's Witnesses, was sentenced yesterday by Federal Judge Philip L. Sullivan to serve three years in prison as a draft evader. He refused to report to a labor camp after he was classified as a conscientious objector.

Nichols thus became the first conscientious objector in this region to be sent to prison since the selective service act was passed. He was also the first draft evader to contest the government's charge. Twenty persons have been indicted for draft evasion. Nine were sent to prison, 6 were dismissed after complying with the law, 2 were placed on probation, and the cases of 3 are pending.

Penalty Provided by Congress.

"The Constitution forbids and my conscience will not permit any one to interfere with anybody's religious rights," said Judge Sullivan. "However, such it not the case here. Congress has passed certain laws in keeping with the attempt to win the war and has provided penalties for violation. There is no doubt that this defendant violated the law."

Nichols, a carpenter, residing in Elburn, Kane county, was classified by his draft board as a conscientious objector, given a class 4-E deferment, and ordered to report to Camp Magnolia, Ark., on Oct. 23. The camp reported him as delinquent.

Meanwhile Nichols came to the district attorney's office and said he could not pay his transportation to camp, a requirement of the law. Transportation was arranged for him at government expense, but he still refused to go to camp. He was then indicted on Feb. 12.

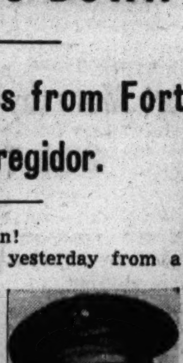
Calls Self a Minister.

In a two day trial, attended by about 50 of his friends, Nichols contended he was exempt from provisions of the draft act by virtue of being an ordained minister.

His friends so testified, but under cross-examination by Assistant District Attorney John Kiely, they admitted that Nichols' name was not on the list of their ministers supplied to the state selective service headquarters. Nichols also admitted under cross-examination that he worked as a carpenter eight hours a day, six days a week, on a Highland Park job.

MARINE SENDS A PLEA: 'DON'T LET US DOWN'

Letter Comes from Fort on Corregidor.



Harry Rodenburg.

Don't let us down!

This plea came yesterday from a young marine stationed on beleaguered Corregidor island in Manila bay, in a letter received by his parents. He is Harry Rodenburg, 24 years old, a radio operator, and son of Mr. and Mrs. William Rodenburg, farmers living in West Exchange street, Crete.

Rodenburg's letter, mailed Jan. 18, is the newest proof that communication between Corregidor and the outside world is being maintained. In the letter Rodenburg criticises congressmen who argue instead of doing things, and expresses hope for a "flood of men and planes" from the United States.

Excerpts from Letter.

"I guess you read about us being bombed all the time here at Corregidor," Rodenburg writes. "Don't worry so much about it, tho, because it doesn't kill so many. The noise is the worst part. They [the Japanese] pay heavily every time they try these days.

"The news from the front is good. The boys are holding the line, and we can hear artillery going most of the day and night. [The reference probably is to land fighting on Bataan.]

"Each new day we hope that this day we will hear news of the flood of men and planes that are supposed to be coming from the States. We hope you people back home won't let us down. Do your part and we'll do ours.

Don't Waste Time, He Begs.

"It nearly drives me goofy to think that while all this is going on some fool in the States thinks that things should go on 'business as usual,' or that some fool congressman is holding up things by arguing how a thing should be done instead of doing it, and thereby wasting time that in times of strife like these means more than just time.

"Time means flesh and blood to the soldiers, the peace of mind of thousands of their mothers and the nation's prestige among the world of nations."

The young marine then wrote of personal matters, and wound up expressing the desire "for a thick steak and ice cream" and "a couple of thousands of planes."

First U. S. Trained Chinese Air Cadets Receive Wings

Phoenix, Ariz., March 27 (AP).—The first Chinese aviation cadets trained in the United States received their wings here today and were told by Maj. Gen. Ralph P. Cousins to "go back and give 'em hell." Congratulatory messages from President Roosevelt and Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek brought the Chinese aviators to their feet in the post theater at Luke field. Cadets from Central and South American countries completed their preliminary training today at another air field a few miles away.

Miss Edith Fahrnier, 24 years old, 5135 North Ashland avenue, and Staff Sergt. Thomas Retkowich, 39, made plans for their wedding yesterday when he called her from Hawaii to say he would return to the United States shortly. The conversation lasted six and a half minutes. Sergt. Retkowich, an instructor in the air corps, has been in the army 16 years and Miss Fahrnier has known him for four and a half years. She last saw him three and a half years ago.

NEW COMMANDER NAMED FOR NAVY GLENVIEW BASE

G. A. T. Washburn.

Lieut. Comm. G. A. T. Washburn, who directed construction of the United States naval reserve air base at Glenview, was placed in charge of the field yesterday by Rear Adm. John Downes, commandant of the 9th naval district. He succeeds Lieut. Comm. Richard K. Gaines, who is being assigned to sea duty. The new commander has been in the naval air corps since 1925, two years after he was graduated from Annapolis. He formerly commanded the Great Lakes naval reserve base and while there was chosen to direct construction of the Glenview base. Before receiving his command he was operations officer at the naval air station in Seattle, Wash.

Tax Collections in 1942 Only 70% of Last Year's

Payments on 1941 tax bills so far total $1,183,771, only 70 per cent of the $1,693,684 collected in the corresponding period last year, County Treasurer John Toman reported yesterday. The penalty date for the first instalment on real estate tax bills and the entire amount of personal property bills is May 1. Toman said that mailing of the 1941 tax bills, which is now in progress, will be completed by next Wednesday.

CORREGIDOR CAN DISH IT OUT, TOO, JAP FLYERS FIND

Guns 'Keep 'Em Flying'—Higher and Higher.

BY DEAN SCHEDLER.

CORREGIDOR, Philippine Islands, March 25 [Delayed]—(AP).—The American and Filipino soldiers defending this fortress in Manila bay can take it. They also have poured it back at the Japanese air force during almost constant raids the last three days and nights.

The deadly fire of Corregidor's anti-aircraft guns has caused enemy pilots to climb higher and higher as their respect increased for the ability of these gunners.

[Corregidor's guns beat off all-day assault by Japanese planes. Story on page 4.]

Altho there are no defending planes, the morale of the defenders remains unshaken.

Scene from a Fox Hole.

One night I crowded into a fox hole with two soldiers operating an observation post to get a good seat at the night show. It opened in about 10 minutes. The hum of plane motors increased as searchlights poked skyward.

First one light spotted a plane, joined immediately by others to form a pattern. Three planes were caught.

There were bursts of orange flame near the enemy planes. We three in our fox hole agreed that, if there had not been a direct hit, at least the pilot must have got a little steel floating past his windows.

A Pattern of Shells in Sky.

Other gun positions were laying a pattern of shells in the skies. There were cheers when one plane veered from the formation and trailed smoke as it headed for the shore near Cavite.

The show lasted only a few minutes. So absorbing was it that we forgot to duck or worry where the next bomb would drop. The all-clear signal wailed and we climbed out of the hole and smoked cigarets.

On the way to my quarters I asked a sentry what damage the bombs did. He said: "A couple hit a tree. All the rest splashed around in the water."

CALCUTTA PLAYS AS WAR NEARS—LIKE SINGAPORE

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, March 27.—Reports from Calcutta, India, that the British colony there is enjoying its amusements as if there were no war were so reminiscent of reports from Malaya preceding Singapore's fall that the question will be brought up in parliament.

Maj. Abraham Montagu Lyons, Tory, has presented the following question for the secretary of state for India, L. S. Amery: What steps is he taking to impress the government of India with the necessity for the European community in India to set an example by putting itself on a war footing as regards limited amusements?

Two Dominion Plan for India Hinted; Cripps Sees Gandhi

NEW DELHI, India, March 27 (AP).—Sir Stafford Cripps and Mohandas K. Gandhi discussed for more than two hours today the British plan for Indian self-government which, reliable sources disclosed, might conceivably result in two Indian dominions.

Later Cripps said he was "entirely satisfied with talks so far" with leaders of various groups in India.

Wearing his customary loin cloth and with a shawl about his frail, brown shoulders, the little Indian leader arrived alone by automobile and was greeted cordially by the tall British emissary. The conversation that ensued was the longest Sir Stafford has had with any one since he arrived.

Departing, Gandhi declined to discuss what was said, explaining he had taken a vow of silence. He was in high spirits, teasing Cripps about the presence of many photographers and accusing the British envoy of vanity.

Remains for Congress Session.

Gandhi is expected to remain in New Delhi over Sunday to attend the important executive meeting of the All India Congress working committee.

Other qualified informants predicted the Cripps proposals, when made public, would disclose that Britain is offering India a postwar federation of dominion status with each province or state free to decide for itself whether it will join the federation or remain outside.

Provinces remaining outside would be free to form another federation of similar status. Hence two dominions could result.

Forecast British Terms.

The informants forecast the following terms would be embodied in Cripps' offer:

1. India would be given the same independence as other dominions, including the right to secede.

2. After the war the provincial legislatures would hold new elections and the new members would form a constituent assembly to draft the federation constitution.

3. The constituent assembly would make a treaty with Britain concerning defense and other matters of common interest.

4. Provinces or states, altho free to join or stay out of the federation, could not withdraw once they had joined.

5. Provinces electing to remain outside of the federation could be given provincial autonomy on the lines of the Balfour declaration of Palestine and then could band together to create a separate dominion federation.

Defense Up to Britain.

6. Indian defense would remain Britain's responsibility until after the war.

7. Minorities in all instances would be given safeguards provided in the league of nations plan for minorities.

8. During the war the viceroy's executive council would be Indianized and popular governments restored in the provinces.

The informants said the Moslem league's reaction was favorable because of the principles of self-determination granted the provinces. The working committee of the league was considering the proposals today.

Some dissatisfaction was reported among Indian Congress circles over the idea of the British retaining defense responsibility thruout the war. There also were some expressions of doubt as to whether the congress would agree to the right of provinces to remain outside the main federation.

Eleven Missing on Tokio Hop.

TOKIO, March 27 [from Japanese broadcasts]—(AP).—Eleven persons, including four Indians en route to Tokio to attend an "Indian independence" conference were feared dead today as it was announced that an army chartered passenger plane had been unreported since Tuesday.

Domei news agency said the plane bringing the delegates from southeastern Asia to the Japanese capital for meetings tomorrow and Sunday was last reported battling a severe windstorm southwest of Tokio.

REPORTS 'VERY CLOSE' ARMY-NAVY RULE IN RE-ENFORCED HAWAII

Washington, D. C., March 27 (AP).—Close coöperation between the army and navy is an outstanding part of the greatly strengthened defenses of Hawaii, Assistant Secretary of War John J. McCloy said today.

McCloy, who returned recently from a trip to the west coast and Hawaii during which he studied particularly the evacuation of Japanese from defense areas, said that a "very marked" development of air installations was the most impressive factor in the strengthened Hawaiian defenses.

Adm. Chester W. Nimitz, naval commander, and Lieut. Gen. Delos C. Emmons, commanding the army's ground and air forces, are "practically sitting on each other's laps," McCloy said at a press conference.

"There is constant communication and consultation between them," he said, "and their staffs are working together very closely."

CHICAGO RUSHES TO BUY TROUSERS THAT HAVE CUFFS

Sale to Be Illegal After Midnight Tomorrow.

Fastidious fellows by the hundreds thronged downtown stores yesterday, buying more suits than have been sold at any Eastertide in the memory of Chicago's oldest clothiers. Business and professional men, college youths and clerks took time out to shop and stave off the hour when they must appear among their fellows wearing cuffless pants.

For beginning at 12:01 a. m. Monday it will be illegal under a War Production board wool rationing order for a retailer to display or sell cuff bottomed trousers. Only merchant tailors are excepted. They may sell until May 30. Retailers must cut off the cloth that would have gone into cuffs and hold it pending orders for its disposal by the WPB.

So great has been the rush to buy that alteration departments are swamped. Several loop stores stopped taking orders for cuffs Wednesday. Almost all had done so yesterday. Orders taken today, however, may be delivered next week.

Soon to Have Them Cut Off.

"The fellows certainly are reluctant to give them up," said one department store manager. He smiled, turned away from the buying throng, and added:

"A lot of these same fellows will be rushing to tailors in less than a month to have their cuffs taken off. Why? Because they'll be out of style. They'll begin to realize that cuffs date their suits.

"I forecast that they'll even be taking old suits to the tailors. Without cuffs the suit a year old can masquerade as a new one.

"Style changes delight the fancy of a woman. But the vain male—and he is vain—is stubborn to basic change. I'll bet none of those cuff fanciers out there has stopped to ponder that he never has had cuffs on his dress suit trousers and that dress trousers look pretty spiffy.

Salesmen Without Cuffs.

These sentiments were echoed by most clothiers interviewed. And they are going to make it easy for customers; beginning Monday, almost all loop clothing salesmen will appear decuffed. They had this attended to last week before the rush started.

Actually the changes that are in store in men's styles will be slight, it was agreed. Beginning April 1, no two trouser suits will be manufactured tho the customer may order extra pants. Double breasted suits will have no vests, but little vest shows with a double breasted. Trouser bottoms that have run 18½ to 19 inches in width will be closer to 18 inches, but this will be hardly noticeable.

Fall suit coats will be half an inch shorter and top and overcoats one and a half shorter. Incidentally, one clothier suggested that if you get out your new spring topcoat and measure its length, you may get a little surprise. Plaits will be absent this fall and so will patch pockets and pocket flaps.

But there will still be double breasted coats for the tall fellows, lapels will be generously sized, and there will be just about as many patterns from which to choose as there are now.

ARREST 80 MORE AXIS CITIZENS IN BRAZIL AS SPIES

RIO DE JANEIRO, Brazil, March 27 (AP).—Eighty more Germans, Italians, and Japanese were arrested today in the Sao Paulo region as Brazilian police pressed a nation-wide campaign against an axis espionage network which officials described as "the biggest and most widespread spy organization ever discovered in the Western Hemisphere."

Two hundred alleged secret agents already had been taken into custody and four clandestine radio stations seized.

Attention centered primarily on the heavily populated Japanese colonies in Sao Paulo state. Japanese there were said to be working closely with Nazi spy circles, as well as maintaining daily contact with Tokio by means of powerful short wave radios at coastal points.

ARMY APPOINTS NEW CHIEF OF 6TH CORPS AREA

Gen. Grunert Will Succeed Cummins in Chicago.

Gen. George Grunert.

Maj. Gen. George Grunert has been appointed commander of the 6th corps area with headquarters in Chicago, it was learned in Washington, D. C., last night. The war department acknowledged that orders to that effect had been issued.

It is expected that Gen. Grunert will come to Chicago next week. He is now in command of the 6th army corps at Providence, R. I. Gen. Grunert will succeed Maj. Gen. Joseph M. Cummins, who has been assigned to command the general army depot in Columbus, O. Gen. Cummins has been in command of the 6th corps area since July 24, last year.

Long Career in Army.

Gen. Grunert, like Gen. Cummins, has had a long, active career in the army. Gen. Grunert is particularly familiar with the Philippines, where he has served twice, the last time in 1940 when he was placed in command of all United States troops in the islands.

On Aug. 13, 1940, while in the Philippines, Gen. Grunert issued a warning against fifth columnists, declaring: "It is not my intention to lull you into a false sense of security. We have enemies around and among us."

Enlisted as Private.

Gen. Grunert was born at White Haven, Pa., July 21, 1880. He enlisted as a private in the regular army during the Spanish-American war, winning promotions to corporal, sergeant, and quartermaster sergeant, and finally a commissioned rank as a second lieutenant in the 11th cavalry on April 28, 1901.

He was assigned to the Philippines in 1902. In 1904 he was assigned to Fort Sheridan.

At the outbreak of the first World war Gen. Grunert served with American and British troops and won the distinguished service medal for his work as assistant chief of staff of the 1st army corps in the Château Thierry, St. Mihiel, and Meuse-Argonne offensives.

MAYFAIR GIRLS TRAIN TO DEFEND BRITAIN IF INVADED BY GERMANS

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, March 27.—Smart Mayfair girls belonging to the Mayfair unit of the women's home defense corps are already learning how to use rifles and arrangements are being made for them to be trained as soldiers if invasion comes.

Miss Gladys Courtney, London real estate agent who organized the Mayfair unit, said the girls are practicing Monday evenings. Among other things they are being taught "how to recognize a German parachutist even if he is dressed in a British uniform, jujitsu for defense against an armed opponent, how to take cover, how to find their way about in the dark, how to use bombs, grenades, and various methods of sabotage."

There are 60 London units of the WHDC with 6,000 members.

DECLARES U. S., BRITISH AIR LINES WORK TOGETHER

New York, March 27 [Special].—W. Leslie Runciman, director general of the British Overseas Airways, said today there is complete coöperation between American and British authorities and flying personnel in setting up all operating supply routes to battle fronts.

United States aerial supply lines already are relieving the British line, which operates entirely under orders of the air ministry, on some of the vital supply routes and allowing the British equipment to be used elsewhere, Runciman said.

Since the Japanese took Java, he added, there has been no British air service to Australia, altho, by frequently moving bases, the British managed to keep flying on changing routes during Japan's southward drive.

APPROVE FUNDS TO BUILD 31,070 ARMY AIRPLANES

Bill Lifts War Costs to Total of 160 Billions.

BY HAL FOUST.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., March 27.—Wings to win the war were voted an additional 8 billion 516 million dollars by the house appropriations committee today. The money is for the army air corps to buy 31,070 more planes.

The allotment was part of an 18 billion 302 million dollar supplemental appropriation for war expenditures, assured quick enactment by the committee's approval. It raised to 160 billion dollars the amount allocated for prosecution of the war. It raised to 23 billion 50 million dollars the total for the air corps.

Earlier army air corps appropriations by this session of congress have provided for 52,000 planes. It was announced that funds for 23,550 planes, to make a total of 106,620, will be asked in the army's regular 1943 estimates.

Other Funds Included.

In addition to the funds for planes, the bill carries appropriations for other services as follows:

Navy department ordnance, aviation, marine corps, coast guard, and ship repair, $825,924,000; army quartermaster service, $1,317,225,479; military post construction, $4,358,118,283; education and training of defense workers, $3,000,000; increased grants to states for old age assistance, $30,000,000; emergency protection of public buildings, including $100,000 for the capitol and surrounding buildings, $12,500,000; protection of mineral and timber, $3,124,000; development of Stewart Field adjacent to the military academy at West Point for cadet air training, $16,417,000; expenses connected with detention of enemy aliens, $4,750,000; operations and experiments connected with guayule rubber, $4,200,000; labor department, $226,500.

Bigger Output Needed.

With navy appropriations, congress is furnishing the money for the dominating air fleet depicted by President Roosevelt in asking for production of 180,000 planes in 1942 and 1943. Progress made in assembling the air weapons is a military secret, but available information indicates that output is increasing rapidly.

Both the army and the navy are preparing intensified recruiting and training programs to man this branch of the fighting forces. A big step up is needed for victory, authorities agree, altho precise figures are suppressed. Including ground crews, the personnel requirements are estimated variously at from 2 to 3 million men, with nearly 400,000 of them pilots, bombardiers, navigators, gunners, and radio men.

Arnold Tells Air Needs.

The need for flyers was emphasized by Lieut. Gen. Henry H. Arnold, chief of the army air forces, in testimony before the appropriation committee, made public today.

"Experience in every war theater so far," he said, "has demonstrated that, in general, air superiority—and in specific instances an air covering force—must be in effect if operations are to be successful. This is true whether the operations be on the sea, within striking distance of land, or with a strictly land army.

"Hence we must have numbers never before visualized in order to do the job. We must have planes, pilots, technicians, ground crews, and facilities to perform our task."

Last Dec. 1, the army air corps comprised 190,000 enlisted men and 30,000 officers and cadets. Navy aviation figures were not made public, but they have been estimated at less than half the army's.

Navy Steps Up Training.

The navy now is receiving aviation recruits at a rate of 800 a month—men no older than 27 and with two years of college training. This is to be increased shortly to 2,500 a month.

The army air corps, with lower school requirements, last year set a 1942 objective of 30,000 recruits, but this is to be virtually doubled. In 1943 and 1944, the program calls for further substantial increases.

The navy's 17 primary schools, including Glenview in Cook county, Ill., are to be vastly expanded. Barracks are being rushed to completion at four induction centers—the University of Iowa, University of Georgia, North Carolina university, and St. Mary's [Cal.] university—where cadets will receive two months training under a 15 hour a day program.

The army likewise is expanding its 100 schools. Both branches want more training ships. The army, particularly, wants more instructors.

DALADIER TELLS HOW NAZIS LURED ALLIES INTO TRAP

RIOM, France, March 27 (AP).—The Germans lured the British and French armies into a trap in Belgium by withholding their aerial attacks during the first few days of the invasion of the Low Countries, former Premier Edouard Daladier testified today. The man who was France's wartime premier said he had an "intuition it was a trap" when he followed the allied armies northward after the Nazi attack started on May 10, 1940.

He said the German tactics, their "failure to use bombers to attack enemy concentrations and save them for the actual battle itself," were "the opposite of the French idea." He added that the allies were "led on" until it was too late.

Judge Pierre Caous asked Daladier whether he felt any responsibility for having approved the classification of a division of "B" troops as part of the regular army reserve. Daladier said there had been a strict division of power between civilian and military administrations since the "deplorable and painful events which occurred at the front in 1917" when the civilian government called the troops off the offensive because of mutinies.

MALTA BOMBED 3D DAY IN ROW; DOWNS 7 PLANES

VALETTA, Malta, March 27.—(AP)—For the third successive day the Malta communique tonight reported that "a raid is still in progress," but around this island lay the wreckage of seven axis planes destroyed Thursday.

In addition to the seven planes destroyed yesterday, the communique listed two more as probably destroyed and 11 damaged. It brought the official total of planes definitely known to have been destroyed over Malta for the first 26 days of March to 53. There was some property damage today, but no casualties.

[The German high command yesterday claimed a cruiser and five merchant ships were bombed in the Nazis' latest assault on Malta.]

BRITISH PATROLS STAGE A 40 MILE ADVANCE IN LIBYA

CAIRO, Egypt, March 27 (AP).—On the North African land front British patrols made a 40 mile advance Wednesday night and inflicted casualties among axis troops in a fortified post at Halegh el Eleba, between El Mekili and Tmimi, it was reported today.

Informed sources, locating Halegh el Eleba as 20 miles northeast of El Mekili, said they did not know whether the British patrols had withdrawn after their raid or were holding the position.

BERLIN, March 27 [from German broadcasts]—(AP).—The German high command today asserted its bombers, ranging over a wide expanse of the Mediterranean battleground, scored direct hits last night on a railway line in northern Egypt which cut the line in "several places," and wrecked a British troop train.

HUNDREDS OF RAF BOMBERS BATTER NAZI WAR PLANTS

LONDON, March 27 (AP).—Hundreds of British bombers cut a blazing pattern for the RAF's 1942 offensive against western Europe, unloading everything from fire bombs to two-ton explosives overnight upon the Ruhr valley and other Nazi targets across Belgium, the Netherlands, and France.

The big Krupp arms plant at Essen was the main target. Other squadrons pounded an oil refinery near Ghent, airdromes in the Netherlands, and docks at Le Havre.

Taking up where the night crews left off, daylight raiders roared over the channel today to strafe coastal targets and channel shipping. RAF bombers attacked Ostend, Belgium, this afternoon, the air ministry said.

The Germans struck back in a raid on two southwest coast towns where property was damaged, but only one casualty inflicted. Another Nazi formation was turned back over the southeast coast by RAF fighters.

Mexican Merchant Ships Tied Up by Wage Dispute

MEXICO CITY, D. F., March 27 (AP).—Mexico's entire ferchant marine was threatened with paralysis today because of the insistent demand of the ships' crews for a 50 per cent wage increase to compensate for the dangers of wartime navigation. Four oil tankers already are tied up in port. The higher level would take effect on any voyage to a port more than 200 miles from Mexico.

SINKINGS BY SUBS NEAR U. S. LAID TO LACK OF CONVOYS

Escorted Vessels Getting Thru, Say Britons.

ican east coast and in the Caribbean are reducing the amount of allied shipping available, they pointed out, while the lengthening of supply lines is increasing the demand for ships.

The convoy system, under which ships are escorted by destroyers and corvettes, still is proving valuable, it was said, while the losses of unescorted vessels are mounting. In parts of the Atlantic the convoy system was said to be keeping losses to the same low figure that was reached last summer.

Lack of Convoys Seen.

It is not only American ships which are being lost off the American shores, but those of all the allied nations. Altho the total tonnage that has been sunk is being withheld more stringently now than at any time since the British decided to discontinue publication of the figures at regular intervals, it is known that the figures of the American coastal losses, such as have been published in the United States, were low and may be very low, compared with the allied losses.

However, the continued sinkings are regarded here as suggesting that the convoy system announced in the United States as having been organized weeks ago probably has not materialized in a substantial form. It is said, however, that the fullest coöperation is being practiced between the United States and British navies.

Sink German Trawler.

Coincident with this discussion of sinkings, the admiralty today announced that three British motor gunboats had engaged a German armed trawler in the North sea and left it sinking.

Motor boats such as were involved in the communique seldom have been mentioned in the war. They are small, fast boats equipped with small cannon, as distinguished from motor torpedo boats, which carry torpedoes, or motor launches, which are equipped with machine guns.

BILLION DOLLAR A MONTH LOTTERY ASKED IN HOUSE

Washington, D. C., March 27 [Special].—A resolution which would establish a billion dollar monthly federal lottery to finance the war effort was introduced today by Rep. Adolph Sabath [D., Ill.]. The measure envisions 2,223,832 awards at each drawing, equally divided between cash and 20 year, noninterest bearing government certificates.

Tickets would sell for $1 each. The cash awards would range from $50 to $62,500, and certificate awards from $100 to $125,000. Out of each 1 billion dollars worth of tickets sold, Sabath said, the treasury would receive 875 million dollars.

In addition, the measure provides each ticket holder would receive a credit of a few pennies which could be transferred to script redeemable in 20 years.

Sabath declared the continental congress of 1776 conducted a national lottery to finance the Revolutionary war. And, he said, the selective service machinery is essentially a lottery with men's lives at stake instead of dollars.

STORE UP LARGE FOOD RESERVES THRUOUT BRITAIN

[By Cable to The New York Times and The Chicago Tribune.]

SOMEWHERE IN ENGLAND, March 27.—Britain has stored a vast stock of food reserves in warehouses thruout the country for distribution in an emergency, such as an invasion. These "iron rations," which include American tinned stews, soup, and vegetables, are being increased steadily.

One district, considered potentially dangerous so far as an enemy landing is concerned, has sufficient food stored to feed every civilian on government-owned food, should the enemy cut it off from the rest of the country. For security reasons, officials refuse to divulge the exact amount of reserves on hand, altho the total must be thousands of tons.

Most of the food depots are within comparatively easy reach of the most populous centers. The rations stored there consist of tinned corned beef, biscuits, tea, cocoa, and margarine. Food inspectors constantly examine the tins to make sure no rust has set in.

OIL PRESIDENT DENIES RUBBER SECRET CHARGE

Says Samples Submitted to U. S. Government.

New York, March 27 (AP).—William S. Farish, president of Standard Oil company [New Jersey], declared in a prepared statement tonight that synthetic butyl rubber samples developed by the company and the German firm of I. G. Farbenindustrie were submitted to the United States government and private American concerns in 1939, but ruled to be "of doubtful quality."

The statement came on the heels of the charge of Assistant Attorney General Thurman Arnold before the Truman committee in Washington yesterday that Standard Oil of New Jersey had given the butyl rubber process to the German firm.

Farish declared "without foundation" another charge by Arnold that the company had hindered and delayed production of synthetic rubber in the United States.

Says Research Was Joint.

Commenting on testimony that the company gave to the Nazis but not to the American and British governments information of butyl rubber," Farish declared that butyl "was the outgrowth of research conducted, first coöperatively and then separately by the German I. G. company and Standard." The two companies, he said were trying to find a way to vulcanize a rubberlike production called vistanex which had originated with I. G.

Standard discovered, he said, that by adding a minute percentage of another ingredient and changing the process, there could be produced "a true rubber, capable of being vulcanized." The raw materials for this product, which was called butyl, were cheap, but it was difficult to make, and its qualities were bad, he added.

In 1938, soon after Standard had discovered the product, it was reported to I. G. "in the normal way, pursuant to the research arrangement" between the two companies in the field of synthetic rubber production from oil.

Denies Information Withheld.

"The allegation that the I. G. was at that time withholding technical information from Standard on German synthetic rubber, and therefore Standard should not have lived up to its commitments is untrue," Farish said. "I. G. at the same time was supplying Standard with much desired information on the production of raw materials for buna rubber from oil. The only thing I. G. was withholding was the detail of their government sponsored program of producing buna rubber from coal in Germany.

"While the butyl rubber was recognized from the beginning to have commercial possibilities, it was obviously of no value to Germany's self sufficiency program, because the main raw material for its manufacture, isobutylene, which comes from oil refining, is not available in Germany in the necessary large quantities.

"If it were available, the first use for it would be to make 100 octane gasoline, which the Germans were never able to make on a large scale, for lack of the same type of raw materials," he said.

"The same situation applied to Italy."

Farish said that disclosure of its findings on butyl to I. G. in 1938 was "entirely consistent with the relationship of the parties and could not possibly have had any political or military implications of any kind."

"All exchange of information was discontinued in January, 1940, he said.

The Standard Oil president then told of the submission of butyl to the United States government.

"As to the allegation that Standard refused to disclose the product to the American government, the facts are that in January, 1939, when only a few persons even considered the desirability of looking at the rubber problem in America from a military standpoint, Standard recognized the potentialities of butyl rubber in this connection, and brought it to the attention of the army and navy munitions board," Farish asserted.

Shows Samples to Government.

"We supplied samples produced in our laboratory to the government and to several private companies at its suggestion," he added.

"The report on these samples by these companies was to the effect that the product had promise, but it was still of doubtful quality," he declared.

Farish said butyl was cheaper than buna rubber, another synthetic, but at the present time is rated as inferior to buna. This, he explained, means that butyl is not suitable for most defense purposes, altho the company hopes it will play an "increasingly large rôle in the present emergency in supplying passenger cars with tires."

Farish added that he will appear before the Truman committee next Tuesday, at which time he will "undertake to give the company's position in full."

RALPH TOWNSEND PLEADS GUILTY AS ALIEN AGENT

Washington, D. C., March 27 (AP).—Ralph Townsend of Lake Geneva, Wis., pleaded guilty today to a charge of failing to register as a foreign agent acting on the behalf of Japanese interests. Townsend thus becomes liable to a sentence of up to two years in prison and a $1,000 fine.

He was indicted Jan. 28 with two other Americans and three Japanese, of whom one, Tsutomu Obana, pleaded guilty March 13. Trial of the two Americans, David Warren Ryder and Frederick Vincent Williams, both of San Francisco, has been set for May 11.

Justice T. Alan Goldsborough of District court referred Townsend's case to the probation officer and permitted him to continue at liberty under $5,000 bond.

MONOPOLY PLOT CHARGED IN U. S. RUBBER PROGRAM

Scrap Supply Ample, Senators Told.

BY WILLIAM STRAND.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., March 27.—Elliot E. Simpson of New York, director of the Drexsage Rubber company, told congress today that tremendous quantities of scrap rubber are available in junkyards and households thruout the country to offset all civilian shortages. He charged that "vested rubber interests" are in charge of the nation's wartime rubber program.

Simpson said dollar a year men handling rubber problems for the War Production board apparently are influenced by their present and past connections with rubber manufacturers.

He asserted the large interests are trying, thru government edict, to crush their smaller competitors and obtain monopolistic control of the entire industry.

Tells Company's Experience.

Simpson, who testified before the house interstate and foreign commerce committee, said his company has been making rubber slabs out of scrap for years and experience has shown there is enough camelback in one old tire to retread two others, or, he continued, one entirely new tire capable of traveling 6,000 to 7,000 miles can be made from an old tire.

Committee members, who described his testimony as incredible and challenged him to prove his statements, accepted his offer to make their own tests. Simpson said he will make new tires and retread old ones from reclaimed scrap and turn the finished products over to the congressmen to put on their automobiles or have tested by the bureau of standards.

He promised to return within a week with the samples. The tires will be processed in the presence of government chemists, according to the agreement between the committee and the witness.

Available Supply Estimated.

He said that in the last 20 years approximately 70 million tons of finished rubber goods have been manufactured in this country, while only 2,832,000 were reclaimed as scrap. He said that according to these figures there should be 67 million tons of scrap available for reuse.

The witness said that while much of the finished rubber was so worn that it was discarded, that the wear represented a smaller proportion of the total tonnage of finished rubber goods than was generally believed and millions of tons of scrap should be available for use.

"Granted that some of this has been burned or otherwise destroyed," he said, "there still is enough lying around in junkyards and elsewhere to give civilians every retreaded tire and every rubber product they need for the duration of the war, without in any way affecting military requirements."

Calls Home a Plantation.

Simpson described American households as "rubber plantations in themselves," which probably would yield a minimum stockpile of 10 million tons of scrap for reclaiming. He said a recent canvass showed 150,000 tons of old tires and tubes available in Texas alone, and at least 100,000 tons in Oklahoma.

Asserting the rubber industry is highly technical, he charged that "there is not one man in the rubber and rubber products division of the WPB who knows the business thoroly.

"The only thing I find that they apparently care to do is to eliminate rubber from every article in the country, regardless of this tremendous scrap rubber supply," Simpson continued.

Meanwhile Thurman Arnold, assistant attorney general in charge of anti-trust prosecutions, continued his testimony on synthetic rubber before a special senate committee investigating the arms program. Following his charges yesterday that the Standard Oil Company of New Jersey blocked development of a synthetic rubber industry, Arnold urged registering all future agreements between American and foreign industries with the government. He said such agreements account for shortages in many other basic materials.

Mrs. Alma Newton Anderson, 661 Sheridan road, yesterday received word from England that her son, Newton, who attended the University of Chicago and for three years was a City News Bureau reporter, has been made a flight leader in the royal air force eagle squadron in which he is serving. Anderson, who is 32 years old, was promoted from flying officer to flight lieutenant—equivalent to the rank of captain in the United States army—only a few weeks ago.

ARMY TO TRAIN DESERT TROOPS IN RUGGED WEST

Air Borne Units to Work with Tanks.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., March 27.—The war department today announced the formation of a corps of army ground force troops to specialize in desert warfare under the command of Maj. Gen. George S. Patton. It will include airborne troops using gliders and parachutes and also tanks.

The unit, known as a development force, will number some 8,000 officers and men. After training it is expected that the unit will form the nucleus of desert fighting organizations which can be expected to be the backbone of expeditionary forces in the middle east. Use of glider troops and parachute troops is included.

The new organization is to be made up of units from the 1st armored corps, units of the 2d and 3d armies, and one bombardment group and one observation squadron.

Work Out Training Program.

Gen. Patton, at present commander of the 1st armored corps, flew to Washington last week for conferences with Lieut. Gen. Lesley J. McNair, commander of the army ground forces, and Brig. Gen. Mark W. Clark, the latter's chief of staff, to work out details of a training program.

The triangular training area is bordered on the east by the Colorado river; on the southwest by a general line from Desert Center, Cal., to Yuma, Ariz., and on the northwest by a line from Desert Center to Searchlight, Nev.

The area is mountainous. Marches of 400 miles will be possible without opposing troops sighting each other. The area will be used as a processing ground not only for troops for the purpose of developing tactics of desert warfare, but will also be used as a testing ground for tanks, army vehicles, and other equipment and clothing.

Selected After Reconnaissance.

The area was selected by Gen. Patton after a reconnaissance of a number of prospective sites. By coincidence, Gen. Patton's grandfather fought in the Indian wars in the immediate vicinity of Indio, Cal., where the base camp is to be built and a railhead established.

At his press conference Secretary of War Henry Stimson said that the area is nothing like the luxurious oases pictured in what he termed a "slightly lyrical" army press release on the subject. He said that, while the description given sounded a little like Palm Beach, the party which picked the site "traveled four days without seeing a soul."

SHIP WITH LOAD OF FOOD STARTS TRIP TO GREECE

New York, March 27 (AP).—The motorship Sicilia, under safe conduct guarantees from the United States, Great Britain, Germany, and Italy, left today for Greece with a cargo of food and medical supplies.

The ship's course was carefully charted. At night she will run fully lighted, a strange sight on a wartime sea of darkness.

The Sicilia was leased by the Greek War Relief association and marked with a huge Red Cross under her name. She carries some 50,000 bags of flour and approximately 500,000 units of concentrated vitamin tablets.

FLYING LESSONS FOR BOYS, 16, PLAN OF RICKENBACKER

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

San Francisco, Cal., March 27.—Flying instruction for high school students, beginning at the age of 16, in order to provide 300,000 war pilots, was urged today by Capt. Eddie Rickenbacker, ace pilot of the World war.

In an impromptu talk at Hamilton Field, Rickenbacker said the war will last five to eight years, and that America will not begin to win until 10,000,000 men are in uniform and the public begins working 24 hours a day toward victory.

"Before long we'll need 300,000 flyers—100,000 in training and 200,000 in the air—plus 3,000,000 men on the ground to keep them flying," said Rickenbacker. "Why not take 16 year old boys out of high school and start teaching them basic flying? Give them ground school training. Give them something they can use when the time comes."

A program approaching Rickenbacker's idea is being developed jointly by the United States Office of Education and the Civil Aeronautics administration. The CAA since 1939 has trained 75,000 civilian pilots and is planning elementary training for 2,000 a month. The Office of Education has suggested that schools teach the theory of flight in physics classes and essentials of navigation in mathematics classes. A basic course being taught in District of Columbia schools is available to the 26,000 high schools in America.

Mrs. Roosevelt Rents Home in New York City

New York, March 27 (AP).—Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt today signed a lease on a seven room apartment at 29 Washington Square West, to be the New York City home of herself and the President. A realty management firm said Mrs. Roosevelt rented the apartment in her own name and that the lease will run for a term of years. The President and his family have been without a New York City home since last September when Mr. Roosevelt's town house and that of his late mother, adjoining, in East 65th street, were put up for sale.

TEACHER HIT ME, BOY TESTIFIES AT FLOGGING TRIAL

Defends Mother Accused of Beating Instructor.

Denies Having a Strap.

"Danny came home before the usual noon hour on Feb. 27," the woman reporter echoed in bright, impersonal tones. "He complained of a headache and told us about Miss Davis hitting him with a book. We went up to the school in my wife's car but to my knowledge neither one of us had a strap in our possession."

Leslie explained that he had stood in the hallway when his wife entered the room and that he did not know the whipping was occurring until he poked his head in the door and saw Mrs. Leslie hit the teacher four or five times with a belt.

"I didn't tell Miss Davis that she wasn't going to get any help from me, as she claims. If I did she couldn't have heard me because my voice was worse than it is now.

A roar of laughter spread thruout the courtroom and Judge W. L. Parkinson threatened to clear the room the next time it happened.

Directed Verdict Refused.

Restlessness was apparent among the spectators early this morning when Murphy attempted to have the case thrown out of court due to error in the affidavit which was sworn to by Miss Davis charging the Lafayette housewife with the crime. Due to a typographical error, the charge appeared to have been sworn to 11 days before the incident. Murphy filed a motion for a directed verdict, which was overruled by Judge W. L. Parkinson after an hour and a half consideration.

"This a very serious error," the judge declared. "If it were not for a statute adopted in 1935 I would be forced to leave the defendants go free."

"With three attorneys on the prosecution, you didn't expect me to show them where they made the mistake, did you?" Murphy thundered.

Claims Temporary Insanity.

Disappointed in his ruse, Murphy launched into a recital of the hectic school life of his client's son, Danny. He contended that the teacher's cruelties to Danny over a period of years had finally driven Mrs. Leslie to her desperate act while in the throes of temporary insanity.

"This unfortunate incident was the culmination of a series of harsh and unjust actions in the school system of Lafayette," he shouted dramatically before the jury. "Thruout our case, the defense will show evidence that little Danny was the victim of a conspiracy which made him an object of ridicule before his teachers and classmates.

Choked Last Year.

"I will show you that back in 1941, this little tyke was cruelly choked by a teacher for not jumping the minute she spoke. Another time when Danny had a sunburned back, a teacher slapped him heartily on his shoulders and the imprint of her hand turned into blisters.

"Why, once when Danny had a boil and was unable to sit down, a teacher shoved him into his desk and made him be seated, boil and all."

Because his mother appealed to the authorities, Danny was "ribbed" by his teachers and humiliated before his classmates, Murphy contended. If the boy raised his hand to be excused from the room, it was slapped down or disregarded, and if his foot were out in the aisle, it was kicked aside, he avowed.

Teacher "Beep-Beeps."

"There are teachers in the Lafayette school system—who are well paid—who do not know how to act in front of children. One teacher in the Longlois school has a habit of saying 'beep-beep' right out in front of the children, and there is another one who begins her lessons with the phrase 'boop-boop.' I ask you, does that sound like intelligent adults?"

Mopping his flushed face continually, the defense attorney postured, boomed, and whispered thruout his arguments.

MEDICAL CENTER PLANNING BOARD WILL TOUR AREA

The Chicago Medical District commission, created by the legislature last year to improve and beautify the area bounded by Ashland and Oakley boulevards from Congress street to Roosevelt road, held its third meeting yesterday in the Chicago Plan commission offices.

The commission, headed by Ray McCarthy, west side realty dealer, will tour the territory surrounding the County hospital on April 10 to learn the needs and possibilities of the center. Afterward a meeting will be held to discuss the tour.

"The commission's work will be one of years," McCarthy said yesterday. "Residents of the area need have no fears that we intend to move in and clean out the buildings now standing there." This was a reference to the commission's power to condemn property and proceed under the right of eminent domain.

Lindbergh to Start Work in Ford's Plant Monday

Detroit, Mich., March 27 (AP).—Charles A. Lindbergh will start work Monday for Henry Ford in Ford's new bomber plant at Willow Run, it was announced today. The famous trans-Atlantic flyer's exact duties have not been disclosed, but his job is expected to be of a supervisory nature. Lindbergh, a frequent visitor at the Ford offices and the Ford home in recent years, took Ford for his first airplane flight shortly after his historic New York to Paris flight in 1927.

Nearly 3 inches of snow fell in Chicago yesterday, but most of it melted, leaving only thin slush. The exact fall was 2.8 inches, O. T. Lay, forecaster in charge of the weather bureau, said.

Lay said the greatest snowfall on record in Chicago occurred on March 25-26, 1930. The measurement was 19.2 inches.

Much heavier snows have hit Chicago in April, the forecaster said. On April 6, 1938, there was a snowfall of 9 inches, followed by 4.5 more inches of snow on April 8. And even May has brought snow along with spring flowers. On May 1-2, 1940, there was a snowfall of 2.2 inches.

WOMEN DISCUSS PAUL H. DOUGLAS' FINAL CAMPAIGN

Plans for the final campaign weeks were discussed by the women's committee for Paul H. Douglas for senator at a luncheon yesterday in the Chicago Woman's club. Distribution of phonograph records of a speech by Douglas will be continued, teas will be given, and post cards bearing the committee name will be mailed to friends of committee members.

Dean Leon Green of the Northwestern university law school said women should aid in beating machine politics and suggested formation of a permanent independent citizens' organization for that purpose. "The issue between Douglas, McAdams, and Brooks in this primary is clear," he said. "Douglas and McAdams stand behind the President in winning the war and in winning the peace. Brooks and his sponsors continue their fight on the President and embarrass him in every possible way at home and abroad."

Mrs. Eric Stubbs is Chicago chairman of the women's committee. She is being assisted by Mrs. Sewall Wright, phonograph record chairman, and Mrs. Terry B. Elman, chairman of the speakers' bureau. Mrs. Harry Kahn made arrangements for the luncheon.

DAY DARES HULL TO DEBATE THEIR QUALIFICATIONS

Vincent Urges Voters to Take Part in Primary.

BY HERMAN KOGAN.

Congressman Stephen A. Day opened his campaign for renomination last night by challenging Denison B. Hull, one of his two opponents, to a debate "any time, anywhere, any place on any subject and on our qualifications for the job."

More than 400 persons, including members of the We the Mothers Mobilize for America organization and other groups which fought against war in the pre-Pearl Harbor days, heard Day, attired in what he termed his "fighting clothes," lash out against Hull, whom he called "Col. Frank Knox's man." The meeting was held in the Skyline Athletic club, 188 West Randolph street.

Says Reds Approve Foes.

"The communist party is one of my enemies," shouted Day, "and it says that leaders have arisen in our grand old party to fight me. That kind of leadership, of which the communists approve, is represented by Col. Frank Knox's man, Denison B. Hull, the organizer of that Fight for Freedom committee."

The audience booed mention of both Knox's and Hull's names and also those of Walter Winchell, Dorothy Thompson, and Drew Pearson, and Robert Allen, newspaper columnists.

"Those against us are trying to make a laughing stock of the Republicans in Illinois by pretending to put Hull and Wayland Brooks side by side," Day said. "Sen. Brooks doesn't think the way Hull does."

"I'm ready at any time to meet Hull on any platform, any time, anywhere, any place and debate our qualifications or any other issue," Day declared. He made no mention of the other Republican candidate, Charles R. Vincent, a newcomer to politics.

Go to Polls, Vincent Urges.

Vincent declared yesterday that all patriotic Americans must go to the polls on primary day, April 14.

"The average voter takes pride in his right to vote—theoretically," he said. "Actually many of us neglect to vote, especially at primaries. Then we sit back and growl at the type of man elected and at the quality of legislation enacted."

He noted that after the war the country will be faced with a national debt of not less than 150 billion dollars and that the Republican party, as it did after the Civil war, must take the lead in solving the problems of postwar reconstruction.

Hull Speaks in Oak Park.

In an address before 200 members of the Oak Park National Women's Republican club in the Oak Park Arms hotel, Hull, whose candidacy is being pushed by Chairman John T. Dempsey of the Cook County Republican central committee, declared. "It's time to apply the principles of our flying fortresses to our government. Civilian morale depends directly on the straightness of our course. This is a long trip and we don't want any detours. We want to see our ideals achieved."

PUBLIC EXPENSES CAN BE TRIMMED, COURTNEY SAYS

State's Attorney Courtney, appearing yesterday at a conference on tax problems in the Palmer House, said a good way to inspire people to pay taxes is to reduce public expenditures. Those reductions are possible, he added.

The prosecutor also expressed opposition to the personal property tax as being "unfair the way it works out." It is difficult to collect more than 10 per cent of unpaid personal property taxes thru suits, he said.

The conference was attended by a number of political leaders, business men, and others. James A. Cunningham presided.

Ask Dismissal of Keeley Heirs' Suit Over Brewery

Attorneys for the Keeley Brewing company yesterday asked the federal District court to dismiss a suit accusing Thomas M. Howell, chairman of the board, and others, of dissipating the profits of the brewery in order to escape paying taxes and dividends. They asserted that the court did not have jurisdiction because the plaintiffs, three heirs to the Keeley fortune, and the defendants are citizens of the same state and no federal law has been violated.

Friend of the Yanks

BY CLAY GOWRAN.

[The Friend of the Yanks department will answer questions about the draft and military service, both in the daily columns and personally if stamped, self-addressed envelopes are sent with the queries. Persons are asked to keep their letters short because of the volume of mail.]

AUTOMOTIVE TRAINING IN THE ARMY.

The quartermaster motor transport school at Fort Sheridan will begin training its sixth class early next month with an enrollment three times greater than ever before. This school is one of a chain of such institutions operated by the quartermaster corps and charged with training men for a big and important job—the maintenance, repair, and operation of the tremendous fleets of motorized vehicles employed by the army.

Candidates for these schools are chosen on the basis of mechanical aptitude from the army's privates and noncommissioned officers. Both regular enlisted men and selective service draftees are eligible. Previous experience is not important, as witness the fact that the last class at Fort Sheridan included farmers, a grocery clerk, a bartender, a night club operator, a longshoreman, salesmen, and an interior decorator.

Eight Weeks of Training.

Students are given eight weeks of training. Principal courses are classroom lectures on theory, the study of slide films, and practical work in the laboratory on engines, clutches, transmissions, valve grinding, electrical units, etc. Also, there is training in simple accounting, including cost control, labor, and operating cost computations, so that a graduate is able to assume complete charge of fleets of 50 or more vehicles.

At the close of each course successful students are given diplomas certifying that they have completed the training. Graduates are eligible for rapid promotion to such rankings as motor sergeants, and in many cases have assumed the rôle of foremen of units of soldier-mechanics.

Maj. Gen. Joseph M. Cummins has this to say about the schools:

"Every graduate of a motor transport school is an insurance policy against a vitally important motor vehicle being left abandoned in the theater of operations for want of a man with the necessary skill to detect and repair minor faults."

[Tomorrow: Correspondence Courses for Soldiers.]

QUESTIONS.

H. J. H. asks: "Are registrants who are in 4-F [physically unfit for service] because of a rating of 20/500 and 20/600 on their vision to be reclassified and called for service?"

ANSWER: Unless your vision improves to at least a minimum of 20/400 in each eye without glasses, correctible to 20/40, you will not even be eligible for 1-B [physically fit only for limited service]. To be eligible for induction into the army a registrant must have minimum vision of 20/200 in each eye, correctible to 20/40.

D. R. M. asks: "I served for the duration in the last war. Last week I tried to enlist again, but was turned down for a physical defect. I am only one of many who have suffered this experience. Now, what I want to know is, why we cannot be given some paper or badge to show that we are civilians not by choice but by necessity? I don't want people to think I am a slacker."

ANSWER: Plans to provide some sort of badge or other insignia for men rejected on physical grounds have been talked of from time to time, but nothing has ever been done on the subject. Perhaps the war department will do something later.

F. W. asks: "Will you please let me know if I can be accepted into the army with me seeing plenty of colors in brown in my both eyes for a period of nine years? I can see good, but everything looks plenty brown. I do not know whether the colors are on the outside or on the inside."

ANSWER: At the time you are called for your final army physical examination—if you are not disqualified before this for some other cause—army specialists will examine your eyes thoroly and determine whether this peculiar condition bars you from military service.

BOARDS RECEIVE OFFICIAL LISTS OF LAST DRAFT

Local draft boards have received the official master lists of numbers drawn in the March 17 selective service lottery and have begun numbering registration cards of those who registered Feb. 16. Order numbers should be posted by today, according to an announcement yesterday by Col. Louis A. Boening, assistant state draft director. He repeated again his warning that no inquiries made on the telephone regarding the registration will be answered by the draft boards and advised those seeking information to go directly to the boards. Occupation questionnaires, Col. Boening said, are to be sent sometime next week to those holding high numbers.

COMMIT 10 ROBBERIES ON TOUR.

Four robbers touring the west and south sides in a stolen automobile between 10 o'clock Thursday night and dawn yesterday robbed nine gasoline station attendants and a grocer. The sum of their loot was $177 in cash and four new tires.

BAR ASSOCIATION INDORSES JUDGE FRANCIS WILSON

The Chicago Bar association yesterday indorsed the candidacy of Justice Francis S. Wilson of the Illinois Supreme court for renomination by the 7th district convention on April 8.

Lloyd D. Heth, president of the association, made public the report of the committee on candidates after it had been approved by the board of managers. After setting forth a condensed biography of Justice Wilson, the report said:

"Justice Wilson's judicial service in the Circuit, Appellate, and Supreme courts has been highly satisfactory to the bar and by that service he has demonstrated that he is exceptionally well qualified for judicial office. By reason of his judicial record of 22 years and more particularly of his service for the last seven years in the Supreme court, he merits renomination for justice of the Supreme court of Illinois from the 7th district."

ASSAILS THREATS TO SEND FAMILY HEADS INTO ARMY

Harry Ash Makes Appeal to Gen. Hershey.

Brig. Gen. Lewis B. Hershey, national director of the selective service system, was asked yesterday to put a halt to statements that family heads, married men, and men with dependents may soon be called into the armed services. The request was made in a letter from Harry Ash, candidate for the Republican nomination for state senator in the 29th district. Ash resigned as chairman of draft board 142, Chicago, when he entered the campaign.

"There is no need to spread fright and worry thru the land since there is no present need in the army for men with dependents," said Ash. "Since, as you yourself have pointed out, there is no present intention in any case to draft such men, let us make an end of such hair raising statements as that which found its way into the press of March 20 in your address to the Institute of Womens' Professional Relations.

People Need No Lashing.

"The American people march forward—strong in their freedom—strong in their conviction of ultimate triumph! They need not be lashed forward, driven by fear, intimidated by threats of mythical, grim proceedings that are far worse than the war itself!"

Ash pointed out that present draft regulations include the following: "The local board should be mindful of injuries which may be expected to result from separating a father from his children, or a husband from his wife. The maintenance of the family, as a unit, is important to the national 'well being.'"

In board 142, a typical draft board, Ash said that 1,320 men are inducted or available of 4,000 original registrants. If this figure is translated into national proportion, Ash said, it means that 10,000,000 men are available in addition to the 1 million young men entering draft age yearly.

Asks Why the Threats.

"Why are the solid, settled men of the nation worried perpetually with the threat that they are soon to be sent down to the lines, while their families are going to be left to subsist on a government allotment?" Ash asked. "Do such press releases inspire these men to do their jobs better as good and dependable citizens?

"American men are not and never have been afraid to fight. They are not afraid to fight today. This nation is staunchly determined upon ultimate victory and has voted upwards of 145 billion dollars for the accomplishment of that objective. But while men are not fearful for their own safety, they are deeply concerned for the welfare of wives, and children, and parents."

CLOSE JACKSON BOULEVARD.

Jackson boulevard, between Dearborn street and Wabash avenue, will be closed from 11:30 o'clock tonight until 7 a. m. Monday for subway construction work. During the time the street is closed eastbound traffic will use Van Buren street and westbound traffic will be routed over Adams street.

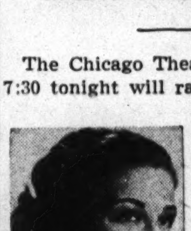
W-G-N TO PRESENT THIRD OPERETTA ON AIR TONIGHT

Radio Listeners to Select Grand Prize Winner.



Eloise Kummer.

The Chicago Theater of the Air at 7:30 tonight will raise its curtain on the third $1,000 prize winning operetta in its $10,500 Great American Operetta quest. The No. 3 operetta, which has a Broadway story and setting, will be aired from the main studio over W-G-N, W59C, and the coast to coast Mutual network, just as were the other two winners.

Marion Claire and Walter Cassel will sing the leading rôles of Lorna Carroll, a young singer, and Philip Hayes, a pianist composer. A distinguished cast of Chicago actors has been assembled to present the story with Eloise Kummer and Bret Morrison playing the leading rôles.

Col. Robert R. McCormick, editor and publisher of THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE, will speak during the broadcast.

Public to Name Winner.

After tonight's broadcast the nation's radio listeners will participate in a $2,500 contest to help determine the $5,000 grand prize winning operetta and to give it a name. Listeners are asked to accompany their suggestions of a name for their favorite with a 50 word [or less] statement telling why they like this operetta the best. A $1,000 grand prize will be awarded to the writer of the best letter.

The grand prize winning work is to be produced on the Theater of the Air later as the Great American Operetta.

The story of tonight's show opens on the stage of a Broadway theater where rehearsals for a new musical comedy are about to begin. Philip Hayes, a young musician, arrives early and sits down to improvise at the piano. He has had a classical training and wants to write great music.

Writes Hit Song.

Later Philip, with the help of Lorna, rewrites one of his classical tunes into a popular hit tune, titled "America Loves a Melody." The producer likes the number and arranges to include it in the revue as a duet for Philip and Della. Thus they are launched on their way to stardom and romance.

Other dramatic parts will be taken by Henry Hunter, Bob Jellison, Bob Dyrenforth, Alice Goodkin, and Murray Forbes. The W-G-N Symphony orchestra and chorus, with Henry Weber conducting, will play the music.

Back from Iceland

Lieut. Comm. Anthony Reymont and Mrs. Reymont in their home yesterday.

After nine months in Iceland Lieut. Comm. Anthony E. Reymont, former Chicago physician, arrived in Chicago yesterday to spend a two weeks' furlough with his wife, 2310 North Sawyer avenue. Commander Reymont was senior surgeon of the marine corps brigade which first went to Iceland to occupy it for the United States, since joined by army forces.

Commander Reymont, who practiced here from 1925 to 1939 and was an instructor at Northwestern university medical school, had only good words for Iceland, its climate, and its people. He said the Americans had found the Icelanders perfect hosts and the relations between the two people were excellent.

Commander Reymont described the reactions of the Churchill party on a tour of inspection of the "20 or 30 Yellowstone Parks in Iceland," and said Prime Minister Churchill himself could not believe the water in the potholes was really hot, until he stuck in a finger to prove it.

2 BROADCASTING CHAINS GIVE BMI 8 YEAR CONTRACT

New York, March 27 (AP).—William S. Hedges, vice president of the National Broadcasting company, announced today that NBC had signed with Broadcast Music, Inc., an eight year contract and would back the music organization to the limit.

"The contract is conditioned only upon the agreement of our affiliates to pay their proportionate share of the cost of clearance at the source," he said. Hedges added that NBC was paying its license fees to BMI six months in advance to help the company during between-contract periods.

Later it was announced that a similar contract had been signed by the Columbia Broadcasting system.

BMI was created by the broadcasters to supply them with music during a recent controversy with the American Society of Composers, Authors, and Publishers.

COMMISSIONERS DODGE DECISION ON TRANSIT PLAN

Reserve Right to Rule on Merger Later.

BY LAURENCE BURD.

The Illinois Commerce commission yesterday refused to approve the proposed 179 million dollar consolidation of the Chicago Surface Lines and the elevated lines. It reserved the right, however, either to approve or veto the plan later when the commission will be required under state laws to pass on every detail of the proposed merger.

The commission stated that it "questions its jurisdiction" to rule on the unification plan at this time.

Members Debate All Day.

The statement was filed in the federal district court late yesterday after the five commissioners had held an all-day debate in closed session. The members began their conference at 10 a. m., had sandwiches sent in at noon, and reached their decision just before 5 p. m., which was the deadline for filing their report in the court.

Federal Judge Michael L. Igoe tentatively approved the merger on Feb. 19 after 15 years of litigation.

The proposal was then submitted to the commerce commission in accordance with federal bankruptcy laws which involve the elevated lines. Under the federal laws, the commission had 30 days to make a ruling, but 4 additional days, until yesterday, were granted by the federal court.

Favors Transit Unity.

The commission, altho not passing on the merits of the specific merger plan proposed, declared itself in favor of traction unification, "provided that such unification shall be conditioned upon sound financial principles and which shall give assurances of the realization of a modern and adequate transportation system to the end that the public interest may properly be served."

In questioning its jurisdiction at this time, the commission recalled that attorneys for the elevated lines had themselves argued that the commission might lack jurisdiction under the federal laws.

The commissioners were said to believe that they are governed only by state laws outlining the commission's duties and powers.

Under the state law the proposed merger will come before the commission for final approval only after the entire program has been finally accepted by all interested parties and application is made by the present companies to form a new company and issue new securities.

Free to Make Inquiry.

This means, attorneys said, that the commission will be free to make a full investigation and decision on the plan if and when it is accepted by the transit bondholders and approved by the public at a referendum.

Judge Igoe last night commended the commission for its action.

"The commissioners took the best possible action," he said. "The court will promptly have the consolidation plan submitted to a vote of the securities holders of the companies. Approval by these holders should pave the way for a referendum on the city's unification ordinance in June."

The dominant securities committees of both the surface and elevated lines have agreed to recommend the acceptance of the merger plan to the individual securities holders.

OLLIE FORGETS AUTO THEFT, BUT THIEF DOESN'T

Ollie Osterom of Lemont stopped in a Joliet tavern Thursday night to cash his pay check. When he returned to the street, his automobile was missing. A bystander told him a man drove the car away and showed him the direction.

Osterom followed for a few blocks and found his car parked in front of another tavern, which he entered. A lone customer readily admitted he had taken Osterom's car because he never had driven a car before and felt an overpowering urge to take a ride. Osterom bought a drink for the man and decided to forget about the theft. The stranger took his drink and departed.

Early yesterday morning State Highway Patrolman Leonard Kochevar arrested Thomas Sullivan, 32 years old, 1104 Wabash avenue, Joliet, after Sullivan narrowly missed hitting a state police car on Highway 66 near Joliet. Sullivan admitted having taken an automobile without the owner's consent and was placed in the Will county jail for lack of $2,000 bond. It was Osterom's car. Sullivan had taken it a second time after accepting a drink from the owner.

PROBATION PLEA LOST BY KRETSKE, EX-PROSECUTOR

Judge Patrick J. Stone of Madison, Wis., sitting in federal District court here, yesterday denied probation to Norton I. Kretske, former assistant United States attorney who was convicted two years ago of conspiracy to "fix" bootlegger cases.

Judge Stone told Kretske's counsel, Michael Brodkin, that the evidence of the trial was still fresh in his memory and that Kretske is not a fit subject for probation. He granted the ex-prosecutor a stay of execution until April 10 to put his affairs in order.

Krestke and Daniel D. Glasser, another former assistant involved in the same case, both appealed their convictions to the United States Supreme court. Glasser won a new trial while Kretske's conviction was affirmed.

Police Expect to Recover What These Thieves Stole

THE QUESTION.

Did you ever play Dan Cupid?

WHERE ASKED.

The Monroe building, 104 South Michigan avenue.

THE ANSWERS.

Hazelle Niestrom, secretary, 9146 Laflin street—My best friend came home on a leave from the army to pay a visit. He brought a friend with him, and after I met him I decided I knew just the girl for him. I called her over and they met and liked each other immediately. Her last letter from him was a proposal.

Bob Jandt, delivery boy, 4734 North Kildare avenue—A bunch of us were spending our vacation at a summer resort. My best pal was there and also my girl friend. I introduced the two and they took it seriously. That was O. K. with me. We're still good friends.

Yolanda Mancini, elevator operator, 2251 North Le Claire avenue—There was a man about five years older than I who was everybody's friend at the office. He came over one night and I introduced him to my sister. He asked if both of us would like to go for a ride. He's my brother-in-law now.

Robert E. Fitzgerald, office worker, 1736 West 33d street—My friend and I had gone stag to a dance in the summer in a beautiful ballroom. I met a girl there that I knew quite well. I introduced her to my friend and they danced every dance. They have been constant companions since and it's beginning to look serious now.

Alice Kelleher, clerk, 6811 South Racine avenue—There was a friend of the family that I always invited to all of my parties. He didn't bring a girl this time because I wanted him to be on the reception committee for my out of town guest. They met and liked each other. They've been going together now for two years.

Mary Kast, stenographer, 60 East Bellevue place—I had two very good friends, a man and a woman, both much older than I. I arranged for them to meet, and they were both what each was waiting for. They were married and now have a nice family.

BOARD TO HEAR 238 COOK COUNTY PAROLE PLEAS

Two hundred thirty-eight persons who were convicted in Cook county are among the 433 inmates of Illinois prisons seeking paroles at the meetings of the state division of correction which will begin Monday. Subcommittees of the division will hear cases at Joliet penitentiary and at the Menard and Pontiac prisons.

One of those asking parole is Walter Hugh, who with Howard Sallows pleaded guilty to a $17,400 robbery in Marshall Field & Co.'s loop store on Feb. 25, 1940. Each was sentenced to 1 to 20 years in Pontiac.

Other Cook county convicts seeking parole include George F. Allum, a La Salle street broker who was sentenced to 1 to 10 years for embezzlement in 1938, and Robert Perryman, member of a gang of south side bandits, who in 1941 was sentenced to 1 year to life. Allum has been at Stateville prison and Perryman at Pontiac.

Girl Slugged by Negro Is on Road to Recovery

Dora Liebert, 12 years old, of 1450 West 15th street, who was beaten on the head by Jay Riney, a Negro, in a grocery at 1458 West 15tth street on March 15, was described last night by her physician, Dr. Herman P. Carstens, to be "on the road to recovery." Riney is being held in the county jail.

SENATE REFUSES BY 52 TO 30 VOTE TO EXPEL LANGER

Lucas Chief Prosecutor of Charges.

(Picture on page 10.)

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., March 27.—By a vote of 52 to 30 the senate refused today to expel William Langer [R., N. D.] on charges of moral turpitude.

Earlier the senate ruled by a vote of 45 to 37 that a two-thirds vote, or two to one, would be required to unseat the senator. Instead it was almost two to one in his favor.

Langer's overwhelming exoneration followed a three weeks' trial at the bar of the senate on charges of moral turpitude involving conduct prior to his election in 1940, the validity of which was not challenged.

Lucas Chief Prosecutor.

Sen. Scott W. Lucas [D., Ill.], chairman of the privileges and elections subcommittee which investigated the Langer case, was the chief prosecutor. He began his case in the senate with a committee vote of 13 to 3 to oust Langer. Seldom in history has the senate reversed such an overwhelming committee vote.

Lucas was accused during the prolonged debate of exhibiting more bias than a senator should have in judging a fellow member. On the other hand he complained bitterly that other senators were motivated by "some whim, some prejudice or something having nothing to do with the facts."

Senators Make Comparisons.

The moral and ethical pretensions of some of Langer's accusers were too much for some of those who refused to vote to expel him. Examples often mentioned included President Roosevelt's "Dear Alben" Barkley of Kentucky, majority leader of the senate, and his colleague, Sen. A. B. [Happy] Chandler, both participants in the final arguments against Langer.

The Sheppard senate committee found in 1938 that the senatorial primary contest between these two statesmen was so corrupt as to arouse the conscience of the nation and that it imperiled the right of the electorate to a free and unpolluted ballot.

Also participating in the final argument against Langer was Sen. Tom Stewart [D., Tenn.], a protége of Boss "Ed" Crump's machine, who first attained fame as prosecutor in the Scopes monkey trial.

Sen. Joseph F. Guffey [D., Pa.], another distinguished New Dealer, solemnly cast his vote to rid the senate of a man accused of moral turpitude. Guffey was indicted by a federal grand jury after the World war on charges of embezzling federal funds in the office of the alien property custodian.

Sets Precedent for Future.

The vote of the senate establishes a precedent for future contests. It upholds the principle that the senate, under the constitution, may expel a senator only for acts committed after he takes his seat, and then only by a two-thirds vote; and that the senate may "exclude" a senator by a majority vote only because of a constitutional disqualification or some irregularity in his election.

"I wish to reiterate that the charges were entirely false and the people of my state know, and have known right along, that the same political gang that has hounded the people of North Dakota and the northwest is the one that inspired the petitions" to oust him, Langer said after the vote.

WHEELER BLASTS POLITICAL SNARE OF FARM BILLIONS

Urges Industrial Use of Products.

Washington, D. C., March 27 (AP).—Sen. Burton K. Wheeler [D., Mont.] assailed the department of agriculture today for what he described as its expenditures of billions of dollars in reducing farm crops instead of finding industrial uses for them. His remarks were made at a hearing of the senate agriculture committee.

Sen. Wheeler denounced the department's attempts to solve the farmer's economic problem as "a miserable failure" and said the program has been based on politics.

"We have been appropriating hundreds of millions of dollars for the agriculture department for the benefit of the farmers and the only scheme they have devised thus far has been to pay them a bonus for producing less, for killing pigs," he said.

Surplus Crops Cited.

"Why hasn't the department worked out a plan of solving the surplus crop problem by putting it to some industrial use? We might as well quit appropriating money for them."

He voiced his criticism after Dr. William J. Hale, a chemical research consultant of Midland, Mich., testified that the world is passing from the machine to the chemical age and that the United States lags far behind Germany, Russia, and Japan in this respect.

Dr. Hale told the committee that industrial alcohol made from grain was the key to winning the war. He declared America must have a billion gallons of it—700 million gallons more than he said the government was counting on producing—by the end of this year if it hopes to win.

Scoffed at, Says Chemist.

Dr. Hale, who said he had been scoffed at by the "pseudo economists who thrive in Washington" and by the War Production board, declared science had proved industrial alcohol could be converted cheaply into a thousand industrial uses.

Among them he listed the manufacture of smokeless powder, synthetic rubber, plastics, and power fuel.

"Ersatz is the motif of the age in which we live," he said. "The machine age has passed. It is a chemical age, and it behooves us to make use of the products of agriculture if we are to succeed as a people.

"Germany, Japan, and Russia have learned that lesson, and they're going to lick the hell out of us if we don't learn it."

Cost Put Under 10 Cents.

He said alcohol could be produced from farm products at less than 10 cents a gallon within two years and that ethyl alcohol made from petroleum costs from 13 to 15 cents a gallon to produce.

Asked by Sen. Wheeler whether agricultural products were being put to any industrial use at present, he replied:

"O, no. Economists smile at the idea."

"The farmer never can overproduce if industry wakes up and makes use of agriculture's chemical possibilities," Dr. Hale continued, "but everything that touches the farm is repressed at Washington. You hand him money to curtail his production. That is not the way to build a chemical nation."

"No," Sen. Wheeler remarked, "but it's the way to build a political country."

Found in Pit

Firemen of Station No. 2, Kedzie and Chicago avenues, Evanston, found a red fox yesterday in an areaway six feet deep adjoining the station. They believed the fox was running in the night and fell into the concrete pit from which it was unable to escape. Chester Nichols, Evanston dog warden, caught the fox and took it to the city dog pound.

NELSON ORDERS COPPER BAN FOR PROJECTS OF REA

Washington, D. C., March 27 (AP).—War Production Director Donald M. Nelson has halted allocations of copper to the Rural Electrification administration, thus blocking any new nondefense construction by that agency.

Henceforth, WPB officials said, REA, set up by the government to carry electricity into farming communities, must make application for copper the same as any private utility, and will receive supplies only if the project for which it is needed is rated essential to war production.

The order prohibits REA from obtaining 3.200 tons of copper remaining to be delivered to it under an allocation of 10,500 tons granted by the old Supply Priorities and Allocations board for delivery over a seven month period. The monthly allocations were intended to permit completion of REA lines already under construction.

Client Sends a Lawyer $1,000,020—by Mistake

Attorney Arthur H. Schwab of the law firm of Nash and Donnelly was surprised yesterday morning when he opened the mail and found a cashier's check for one million and 20 dollars from a client in the east. The check had been made out thru the Kanawha Valley bank of Charleston, W. Va. Schwab returned the check last night with the explanation that a mistake had been made as he did not think his client wanted to send him that much money.

OVERTIME WAGE ISSUE TO REACH HOUSE APRIL 13

Report Is Promised After Two Week Recess.

BY WILLARD EDWARDS.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., March 27.—The burning issue before congress—suspension of the 40 hour week during the war—will probably be brought up April 13, Rep. Carl Vinson [D., Ga.], chairman of the naval affairs committee, told the house today.

In the meantime, Vinson said, members will have an opportunity to go home and interview personally the constituents who have been flooding the legislators with mail demanding abolition of overtime and double time provisions in the law so far as war work is concerned.

"Our committee is doing everything humanly possible," said Vinson, "to expedite passage of this legislation. By April 13 I am hoping that the committee may be in a position to lay before the house a bill dealing with these matters."

Plan Two Week Recess.

Tentative plans of house leaders call for a two week recess beginning next Monday for the admitted purpose of allowing members to check the mood of voters regarding labor legislation. Vinson predicted that the legislators will come back to congress determined upon passing a law against premiums on overtime war work despite the expressed opposition of President Roosevelt and war production chiefs.

Two witnesses before the naval affairs committee today testified in favor of legislation to abolish the 40 hour week; to put aside the closed shop issue for the duration of the war; and to limit profits on war contracts.

"This bill," said Merwin K. Hart, president of the New York State Economic council, "presents squarely to congress the most important pending issue. The conditions which it seeks to correct nave reached the proportions of a public scandal."

The witness cited a CHICAGO TRIBUNE story which revealed that the United States is paying from three to four times as much per pound for construction of ships as is Great Britain. Labor costs account for these excessive costs, he declared.

William P. Witherow, president of the National Association of Manufacturers, gave the committee what he called a "constructive analysis" of industry's attitude toward the labor bill.

"We manufacturers are just as concerned as you are to see that this war production job is done as cheaply as possible," he said. "Manufacturers want no profiteering in this war. I do not mean to imply that there should be no profits for distribution to those who own our manufacturing plants. That would be like suggesting that employés work without wages. Such revolutionary changes in our economic system will not help to win this war."

Witherow urged congress to freeze the closed shop status for the duration of the war, "thus permitting labor unions to retain in general the position they may have won prior to our entry in the war."

$2,500 BLAZE DRIVES 2,700 PUPILS FROM ROOSEVELT SCHOOL

Twenty-seven hundred pupils were cleared from Roosevelt High school, Leland and Kimball avenues, four minutes after fire broke out yesterday in a portable shop classroom in the court of the U shaped building. Damage was estimated at $2,500.

Only casualties in the fire were David L. Zalsman, 18 years old, 4656 North Monticello avenue, who cut one finger and sprained another when he broke the fire alarm box glass to call the fire department, and Conrad Goldstein, 15, of 3600 Kimball avenue, who sprained his hand when operating a hand pump before firemen arrived.

The fire alarms provided the first real test of the fire and air raid system set up by Principal John B. O'Brien. When the alarm was sounded 56 wardens took their posts, guided the pupils out proper exits, and a staff of 14 other boys grabbed fire extinguishers to fight the flames. When it was learned the fire was confined to the shop, the students returned to the assembly hall and indulged in a pep session before returning to classrooms.

THE SPIRIT OF THE PHILIPPINES.

Gen. MacArthur in Melbourne at once introduced an American democratic spirit into the conduct of the war in his relation to the public, the newspapers, and his handling of all the elements which enter into the complexity of warfare. There is nothing of the brass hat about him and nothing of the stuffed shirt. He is accessible, frank, and communicative.

He had introduced these methods in the Philippines and that is why his extemporized army, with its nucleus of seasoned American regulars, experienced Philippine scouts, civilian volunteers, and Filipino reservists, many of them green troops when they went into action, have made a stand against forces which in other Pacific theaters of war took their objectives in quick time.

The spirit MacArthur and his excellent officers had fired in the heterogeneous little force which was so successfuly maneuvered into the Bataan peninsula proved to be a match for the highly trained Japanese soldiers, altho they are in great superiority of number and are protected in the air.

The Philippines have been an American frontier and the frontier spirit flamed up in the sudden emergency of war. All sorts of civilians in Manila rushed into the army and they used their civilian ingenuity in collecting supplies which would be required. Gen. Wainwright, succeeding MacArthur in the command of this small army, has a mixed force, but it has a common motive and that makes a unity which cannot be matched by other methods.

The Philippines were the only place attacked by the Japanese which had not suffered from the weaknesses of degenerative colonial administration. Colonial administration over a long period of time develops privilege, caste, and a resulting remoteness from the masses governed. With rare exceptions in which personal genius is displayed, such government tends to segregate the governing class from the governed, and the result more often than not is an isolated stupidity at the top which may endeavor to govern humanely but does not gain the confidence or achieve the loyalty of the people below.

Colonies are established by energetic men. In Asia imperialism was founded by private adventurers whose governments stepped in after they had done the work. We never got solidified in that position in the Philippines. In the beginning there was a feeling in the United States that in a short time the Filipinos should be given their freedom, altho we fought a war with them to keep them from having it immediately. This country was never easy in its mind regarding its mastery in the islands and its conscience was quieted only by the theory that all the time it was preparing the Filipinos to shape their own destiny as an independent nation.

Dewey's guns dropped these islands into the lap of a startled American nation. Some of us, back in 1898, found the experience of having a new Asiatic frontier an exhilarating and heady one and our chests expanded. Others, in not inconsiderable numbers, looked upon this Asiatic adventure with regret if not with horror, but Americans pitched into the new frontier life with their customary habits, following their well known traditions.

No American frontier community long existed without the building of a schoolhouse and the importation of a school teacher. School teachers, sanitary engineers, doctors, and the business man began the development of Filipino life and won the confidence of the Filipino people. The Filipinos were trained in political action and, altho the islanders are not a homogeneous people, they developed a new sense of tolerance which tended to remove the dangers of civil strife when they would be given their complete independence. This was the American way of doing things and the explicit understanding that American supervision was temporary prevented the growth of a dominating administrative caste which would represent an arbitrary summit with which the masses could have no sympathy and with which they could feel no harmony.

The results of this policy were fortunate for the people of both countries. Filipinos had something which the people of no other invaded colony had or even hoped to have. They had been trained to accept it and it was definitely on their timetable. Four years from next July 4 they would have been on their own—a free people in complete control of their government—and Americans would have been proud to see them succeed. They were willing to accept the perils involved and not unperceivable. When the danger suddenly dropped on them they closed ranks with their American friends and are fighting on. They'll get their Fourth of July in due time and they'll have earned it.

THE NEW CENSORSHIP.

Britain's minister of information, Brendan Bracken, has announced some new and startling regulations governing the sending of news from England to other countries. Until now the rule has been directed against giving information which might be of military value to the enemy. Anything else could be sent, including extracts from any articles which had already been published in Britain.

Now the censor is empowered to stop messages "calculated to foment ill-feeling between the united nations or between them and neutral countries." According to Mr. Bracken, the purpose is to prevent the outside world from receiving a distorted picture of conditions and events in this country and to protect this country's essential interest. This formula can be used to cover the suppression of anything and everything. It can be applied in a fashion to conceal from Britain's associates in the war information about important events and changing opinions in Britain.

Nothing that the correspondents have cabled from London in recent weeks and months, so far as we know, has been particularly damaging to Britain or the common cause. There have been many defeats and few victories to report, but nothing was to be gained or will be gained by suppressing bad news. It is well within the truth to say that the most upsetting and discouraging news that has come out of London since the war began was this announcement of a political censorship. Inevitably the public in this country will read dispatches from England with the suspicion that they contain a good deal less than the truth. Inevitably readers will fear that conditions in England must be pretty bad to warrant so drastic a rule. It is to be hoped that our government will not be slow to inform Mr. Churchill that a serious mistake has been made.

A LESSON FOR GOONS.

Conviction at Peoria of the three goons who conspired to dynamite a bridge of the Toledo, Peoria and Western railroad during the recent strike on the line follows a number of other recent convictions for similar offenses. They demonstrate that the American people are thoroly aroused to protect themselves against communists, racketeers, and all others who seek by violence to impose their will on the public. The defendants were found guilty of contempt of court for disobeying an injunction against violence issued by the federal District court.

When the defendants were charged with contempt they were given, by one of the provisions of the Norris-La Guardia act, the same protection that they would have received had they been indicted and arraigned under the criminal law. The evidence against them was passed upon by a jury of their fellow citizens in the district in which the alleged offense took place.

Railroads operate under laws that are designed to remove any reason for a strike and which in their operation, and particularly in the personnel who administer them, have frequently obtained labor peace at the price of putting unfair pressure on employers to yield to union demands. That employés and members of those unions should resort to violence is, therefore, an even deeper reflection on them than on other organizations that do not have such extensive legal powers for getting their objectives.

The conviction is a black eye for the brotherhoods. They may extract a small piece of beefsteak from the comment, out of court, by a labor lawyer that the defendants lacked only a brass band to make their criminal conspiracy more open than it was. That at least indicates that the brotherhood unions are less familiar with the technique of violence than are many other labor organizations.

PART OF THE FAMILY.

Americans can scarcely believe their eyes when they read that there is widespread objection in Australia to Australian girls marrying members of the American expeditionary force. The question has been raised in the Australian parliament and clergymen and barristers are making themselves heard from all sides. Altho the number of marriages can hardly be great, there are indications that a law is to be proposed to bar marriages between the Australian girls and American soldiers.

These Americans have left the safety of their own shores to go thru 7,000 miles of water dominated by the Japanese to save Australia from invasion. They have responded to the dominion's appeal when the mother country has not. The United States has placed its greatest military leader at the head of the boys who are undertaking the defense of an alien land. It is to be expected that many American soldiers will die in defense of Australia.

The Americans were received with bands and speeches and almost all of the orators stressed the bonds between the countries and the kinship between their peoples. The Americans were very welcome, but now they are being told that they are acceptable as fighters to defend the dominion, but not as sons-in-law of Australian families. No wonder a great many of us could hardly believe our eyes when we saw such a statement in the paper.

THE AAU GETS TOLD.

It is certainly not news that we have some extremely silly people running the various amateur athletic bodies. They have done just as silly things before as they have done in the case of Marty Passaglia, member of a service basketball team, but it is rare that they receive such a vigorous and effective telling off as they got from the athletic officer in the corps area where Passaglia is stationed.

The Amateur Athletic union has a rule forbidding amateurs to play with or against professionals. Any player who does so forfeits his amateur standing, in the eyes of the AAU, even tho he gets no money for playing. Passaglia's service team played a pro outfit in a game arranged by army camp authorities. Later, when he sought to compete as a member of another team in an AAU basketball tournament, AAU officials barred him.

The colleges of the country, it may be noted, haven't had any qualms about professional athletes competing on service teams. Seven Big Ten teams have scheduled football games with Great Lakes, Camp Grant, or the Iowa Naval Cadets. Their simon pures will probably be bumping up against some former members of the Chicago Bears or Green Bay Packers, but they properly consider this a problem for the team trainer and not the faculty committee on eligibility. Before the spring is over a lot of college ballplayers may know what it's like to bat against Bob Feller.

The notion that a professional is an inferior is largely imported snobbery. In this country no stigma attaches to a young man who is good enough to make his living in sport. There is more to be said for him, in fact, than for the men who derive social and business advantage from the competition, under their sponsorship, of amateurs and so-called amateurs.

THE FREE PRESS.

[Portland (Me.) Evening Express.]

At a time when civil liberties are curtailed by the exigencies of world war, there is encouragement in the Louisiana Supreme court's decision dismissing contempt proceedings against New Orleans newspapers.

Too unquestioningly, some of us fear, the American press is permitting burocracy to dictate what shall and what shall not be printed. Every responsible newspaper man shrinks from the dread responsibility of publishing war and production information which official Washington thinks might help the enemy.

Under such restrictions the spotlight of publicity may be kept away from incompetence and corruption in high places. This makes it doubly imperative that where no confidential facts are concerned the newspapers should remain completely free to analyze and to criticize official action.

MR. PEPYS EATS TERRAPIN.

28th March—Did nothing noteworthy this week except to eat terrapin, a novelty in my diet and a food much esteemed by ancient American gourmets; and it came about in this fashion:

A friend who dwells part of the time upon the eastern shore of Maryland returned from his castle with a keg of live terrapins, caught by his gillies in the waters of his estate; and after having them prepared by terrapin butchers and partaking of their meat until he became gorged, left a supply for me at my club. The steward estimated there was enough for two hearty eaters or three moderate, and so I telephoned to two cronies, saying, "Come tonight and eat terrapin like the worthies of the old colony of Virginia." One said, "I am going out of town," and the other, "I am asked to dine elsewhere," so I flew into a tantrum, saying, "Time and terrapin wait for no man, and I will eat the stuff myself." "All of it?" asked the steward. "All."

They placed before me a great silver chafing dish filled to the brim with a ragout almost thick enough to use for asphalt paving material, and a pile of slices of toast, and a deep soup plate; and I draped napkins from chin to knees to catch the splashes, and fell to. The terrapin flesh I found stringy and the small bones annoying, but the body or juice of the stew was of a great richness which I enjoyed heartily on the toast. . . . That night I suffered from nightmares in which I was pursued by giant turtles.

The next day, when I appeared at the club, the steward said, "The chef has been inquiring about your health," and when I wanted to know why such concern about me in the kitchen I was told, "The chef said he bet you would be sick after eating all that rich terrapin."

I am now looking about for a dish of eels, another edible form of marine life to which I am a stranger.

UNCLE SAM'S GOLDFISH BOWL.

Little green capsules, out they pop
From the goldfish bowl, flippity-flop!
No box-top or facsimile,
Everybody wins; one, two, three;
Each lucky number, if you please,
Shall help to beat the Nipponese!

Little green capsules, casserole,
Shall overflow the goldfish bowl;
Some turn khaki and some turn blue
To show the world what we can do;
Free, united, and debonair,
We'll win the earth, and sea, and air.

Little green capsules, watch them spread
The flag of freedom overhead!
Tanks, and ships, and planes, and guns,
Calling cards of Liberty's sons,
Until the world, made clean and whole,
Shall thank God for our goldfish bowl!

A Flag for the First MacArthur.

Gen. MacArthur's father, former chief of staff, lived in Milwaukee in his last years. He was an honorary member of the Press club, and came to the clubrooms frequently. Several times he brought his son, Douglas.

My brothers had a news service with offices from which they could see into the hall of the University building, the regular meeting place of the G. A. R.

One night my brother Eric, working late, happened to look across the street. He saw the hall lighted and filled with G. A. R. men in uniform; he also saw some one making a speech. Suddenly the speaker collapsed on the platform, and a little later a veteran draped the United States flag over the fallen man.

I was the night editor of the Sentinel; my brother immediately telephoned me, and I looked on the assignment book to discover that it was Gen. MacArthur who was dead under the flag.

THOUGHT FOR PALM SUNDAY.

Life's pattern is so intricately lined
And man so largely circumstance's pawn,
That doing calls for hope as well as brawn,
And thus the days and years have been designed.
Old poets kept this need of men in mind:
"The darkest hour is just before the dawn"—
And once again, the message clearly drawn:
"If Winter comes, can Spring be far behind?"

For me, this season brings new hope each year,
New faith to try again with courage grim,
New depths of consciousness, new strength of heart—
Because, remembering, those days are here
Which called for most sublime resolve from Him—
Palm Sunday—Easter—just a week apart!

Some More Australian Slang.

How would you like a vocabulary of Australian slang, about now? One of my favorite expressions is "sticky beak," which means a nosy busybody! Instead of saying, "Well, I'll be doggoned," try "Well, I'll go hopping!" Here are some Australian words and their American equivalents:

Cobber: Pal
Swaggie: Tramp
Squatter: Sheep station owner
Digger: Soldier returned from war
Sundowner: Tramp
Sheela: Girl
Cow kecker: Herder
Mia mia: Tent
Bootle oh: Junkman
Fair cow: No good
Yakker: Hard work
Ribuck: Genuine
Brumble: A wild horse
Good oh: Okay
Brown: Penny
Trizzie or zac: Sixpence
Deener: Shilling

HOW OUR NATION CAN BECOME FEEBLE.

Most of us have learned the lesson that illness is no picnic. Few of us desire it. We do not court it willingly. We wish to be strong, able to withstand a malady which may strike down one who is below par. Furthermore, we want to rise above rebuffs and disappointments.

Now, a normal and full life does not demand abstemiousness. It is silly to resort to a diet of roots and herbs, or bread and water. The same thing applies to clothing the body in burlap. No one prefers to live in a temperature of 105 degrees F. or 40 below zero. Neither would any one choose deliberately to be blind, deaf, or speechless. No, we require all of our faculties and we must fight for their preservation. The sensible man will decline to dig his grave thru gluttony but, at the same time, he will refuse to starve himself thru imitating the ascetics.

In no phase of existence does man possess so much liberty as in the management of his own body. He can wear it out with excesses of all types, he can soften it by becoming indolent, or he can measure his capabilities—akin to perfection—by helping it to become a useful servant. It will return generous dividends in well-being if treated fairly.

It has been said often that we are endowed with a dual nature. We need not subscribe to the doctrine that there is a Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde within each of us. But we can admit that our assets include a mind and a body. We can brutalize the former and oblige the latter to obey it. But, if we do, we will obtain no true satisfaction from life. No joy can come from cruelty which, after all, is a form of insanity.

On the contrary, thru the example of thinking people, we attempt to follow the patterns which they have established. In other words, we decide to become members of a civilized society, in which the weak are respected and protected. Thus, we form for ourselves a code of conduct which denies to us the right to push a passer-by into the gutter. We don't do so because we don't choose to.

But we must not let mental discipline far outrun our powers of muscle control. Unless we take heed there may come a time when, with the blueprints of the best weapons in the world, we will lack the ability to build and operate them. The mere ownership of natural resources—even of wealth—may not constitute an adequate defense. There is nothing gross or degrading in making physical prowess—even military might—a national goal. But this cannot be accomplished without superb health for all of us.

Courage oozes out of the one who is starved, as sweat from pores. We have the ingenuity and the will to repel all enemies. But our tissues must be nourished adequately and our muscles trained to the task. Then only can we plan and execute the requisite maneuvers for the protection of our cherished institutions.

At this moment complacency has no part in our program. No one can be permitted to hie himself to a mountain top and dwell apart from his fellow countrymen. National virility must be made "catching."

THE CANNON OF OLD WARS.

Libertyville, Ill., March 24.—As a son of a Civil war veteran, I am concerned about the effort to collect Civil war relics for the junk pile, especially old cannon. These cannon are found in our public parks and cemeteries, placed there as mementos of the blood, tears, and sacrifices of the Civil war veterans and their families. As scrap the metal in old cannon is negligible. There are other sources which would yield metals of more war value. There are the unused rails embedded in old streets, bronze figures on buildings which are purely ornamental, metal statues in parks and in front of buildings which may be easily replaced after the war. The old cannon have historic significance and cannot be duplicated. They are reminders of wars fought to create and maintain this nation. Before these cannon are hastily tossed aside some consideration should be given the tradition which they represent. The time may come when it will be necessary to give up the cannon for the war cause, but it is a little too soon to scrap them without some understanding and recognition of the patriotic history of the community of which they are a part.

SALES TAX ON SERUM.

Chicago, March 25.—Our family doctor suggested that my 4 year old daughter be treated with scarlet fever serum. I purchased 10 cc. of this serum at the Samuel Deutsch Serum center at the Michael Reese hospital. The price was $3 plus a 2 per cent sales tax. Objecting to the personnel of the center concerning the tax, I was informed that if human blood was purchased a 2 per cent tax would be added to the bill. I also learned of a father who walked several miles to purchase this serum for his child, who was very ill with scarlet fever, and having but $3, the personnel of the center paid the tax and gave him carfare to return home.

Our legislators should repeal that portion of the tax law that sanctions a tax on vitally necessary serums, medicines, etc. I have vowed that in the future I will never vote for any party or legislator that sanctions any such unjust taxation on serums necessary to the very existence that God has given us.

BEFORE FRANCE FELL.

St. Louis, Mo., March 20.—As the right of organized labor to strike is one of its social gains which must be preserved, it would be well for congress to remember that when Daladier succeeded Blum as premier of France in 1938, on the eve of war, he suspended the 40 hour week in order to increase the munitions output and only brought on a nation-wide strike, called for Nov. 30 of that year.

OLD VICTORIES BRING COMPLACENCE.

Chicago, March 24.—I have just finished reading a book by Rene de Chambrun, titled, "I Saw France Fall." I quote: "One of France's weaknesses during this war seemed to have been her victory in 1918." Clara Ferber.

THE KELLY SCHOOL STRIKE.

Chicago, March 25.—I wish to express my appreciation of the sane and sensible presentation of the news regarding the recent disturbance at Kelly High school, as published in The Tribune of March 24. It is comforting in a situation in which it is important to keep hysterics at a minimum to read a reliable version of the matter. May C. Allen, Principal, Kelly High School.

Chicago, March 25.—We Kelly students sincerely hope that the entire student body will not be judged by the nonsensical actions of a few featherheads.

The majority of us girls wear lipstick but not war paint, thus we have never been asked to remove it. We also wear sweaters, but they fit us as tho they were our big sisters' instead of our little sisters', and at no time have we been punished for doing so.

Kelly Students.

ANOTHER CANDIDATE FOR CO-ORDINATOR.

Chicago, March 25.—It will be interesting to know whether Mr. Tom Work of Los Angeles is accepted for the post of coördinator of stud poker. There is no doubt about such an assignment being as important as that of coördinator of dancing, bowling, billiards, or any other such vital war activities.

If the post of coördinator of crossword puzzles has not yet been filled, I would like to apply, if I knew how. While I feel that I am one of the best crossword puzzlers in the country and my family has been here more than 200 years, I have no New Deal friends to help me toward such an appointment. If this coordination has already been assigned, possibly I could apply for the post of coordinator of coördinators.

T. C. Fetrow.

PROFITS AND COST ACCOUNTING.

Porter, Ind., March 25.—When one reads about the huge profits on war materiel made by such concerns as Jack & Heintz of Cleveland, and the way said profits were distributed to a few pet employés, it makes one wonder why the government in order to protect the taxpayers' money does not install a few good cost accountants in each plant in order to see that the cost of each article is figured correctly. The writer has had considerable experience in cost work, and knows how carefully a private company figures its costs. Even the scrap material to the pound is credited to each job. If this were done I know our defense bond dollar would go a lot further.

A. V. Olson.

NO 40 HOUR WEEK IN THE Q. M. C.

Chicago, March 25.—President Roosevelt advocates that industry retain the 40 hour week with time and a half for overtime over 40 hours, but the United States government civil service workers in the quartermaster corps, 6th corps area, have had their hours increased from 39 to 48 hours a week without one cent of overtime or extra compensation. Most of these workers get $120 a month, less 3½ per cent retirement deduction [to be increased in a few months to 5 per cent deduction]. On a 39 hour week basis their pay was approximately 71 cents an hour, and on the present 48 hour week basis is approximately 58 cents an hour! The navy finds the necessary funds to pay its workers, doing the same type of work, overtime over 40 hours, but the war department does not. These workers are as loyal and patriotic as any one else, but the injustice of their commander in chief looking out for the welfare of the CIO and AFL workers while exploiting his own workers in the government certainly can do nothing else but break morale. WAGES DUE.

Chicago, March 19.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—I worked for a small restaurant chain which was incorporated. I have wages due from July, 1941. They went into bankruptcy. The receiver told me he sold assets for $100. I have information that the individual under whose name the firm was operated is again in business [he told me he was only employed there].

1. If he is in business for himself after bankruptcy would my wage claim still be good?
2. If he is only employed would I have a claim for wages?
3. How could I act to get wages due?
4. I have been to the labor department many times.
5. Could I file suit in the small claims court and how? J. M.

1. No.
2. Your claim would be against the bankrupt estate.
3. Look up the records of the bankruptcy proceedings.
4. If you have gone over your facts with them, they are in a better position to advise you than we are. You do not tell us what they said.
5. You are not entitled to judgment against a person who has gone thru bankruptcy. It is the purpose of bankruptcy to bar such liability.

Two Weddings Hold Interest of Chicagoans

BY JUDITH CASS.

CHICAGO will be well represented at weddings in Neenah, Wis., and Phoenix, Ariz., today. Miss Mary Hoyt Cowles, daughter of Mrs. Chester D. Shepard [Barbara Granger] of Neenah and of the late Thomas Cowles of Chicago, is being married at noon in St. Thomas' Episcopal church in the Wisconsin town, with a reception and breakfast following in the Shepard home. The bridegroom is Addison Cutter Davis of Neenah, son of Mr. and Mrs. Stephen R. Davis of Eau Claire, Wis.

The Phoenix marriage is that of Robert J. Dunham and Mrs. Natalie Moorhead Crosland, whose wedding will take place at 5:30 o'clock in Mr. Dunham's cottage at the Arizona Biltmore hotel, where the orange blossoms now are in full bloom.

Miss Cowles, a niece of Mr. and Mrs. Knight C. Cowles of Lake Forest, will have her younger sister, Sally, a student at the Greenwood school in Ruxton, Md., as maid of honor. Miss Barbara Mory of Neenah, a cousin of Mr. Davis, will be bridesmaid. James Shipman of Neenah will be best man.

Knight Cowles Family Present for Wedding.

Mr. and Mrs. Knight Cowles and their daughter, Miss Bessie Cowles, and Alfred Cowles III., are in Neenah for the wedding. John Davis, the bridegroom's brother, has returned home from Andover academy, and Mrs. Shepard's sister, Mrs. Arthur Krock of Washington, D. C., and Mr. Krock, are there. Others who have gone to Neenah are Mrs. Chauncey B. Borland, Mrs. Charles S. Frost, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Connors, and James Walsh Jr.

Mr. Davis and his bride, who will wear her grandmother's wedding veil, will depart tomorrow on a wedding trip. They will live in Neenah.

The Dunham wedding and small reception to follow will be attended only by members of the immediate families, including Willard Drown Jr., Mr. Dunham's stepson, and his bride, the former Frances McPherson Tyler; Joan Dunham, daughter of Mrs. Robert Cavenaugh, and a granddaughter of Mr. Dunham; and Robert J. Dunham Jr., and his daughter, Constance, all of Chicago; Mr. and Mrs. John Hooker of San Francisco and their children, Adrienne Clow and Tony, and Mrs. Crosland's sister, Miss Regina Moorhead. Helping Mrs. Crosland with plans for the wedding has been Mrs. Loyal Davis of Chicago, who has been her close friend since their school days and who introduced Mrs. Crosland and her prospective bridegroom.

Last night, Mr. and Mrs. Barry Davis of Kansas City entertained at cocktails for Mrs. Crosland and Mr. Dunham.

Mrs. Barrows Greenough Engagement Announced.

Romantic news of interest is contained in the announcement from Mr. and Mrs. Charles Ellsworth Barrows of 219 Lake Shore drive of the engagement of their daughter, Mrs. Barrows Greenough, to William Andrew Callison, son of Mrs. William Andrew Callison and the late Mr. Callison of Lafayette, Ind. Mrs. Greenough is a graduate of Smith college. Mr. Callison was graduated from Purdue university.

The wedding will take place next month, and will be a quiet one. Charles Callison will be his brother's best man, and Mrs. Picher Purcell will attend the bride. Mr. Callison is engaged in business in Chicago. The wedding date will be set this week-end while Mr. Callison and Mrs. Greenough are in Lafayette with his mother.

Miss "Ruddy" Hale is entertaining at tea and a shower this afternoon for three brides-to-be, Miss Margaret Stuart, whose fiancé is Lieut. Augustine Hart Jr.; Miss Barbar Hixon, fiancée of Milton Wilson Jr., and Miss Priscilla Armstrong, who is to marry Stewart Peck. The Van Asmus Buntings are giving a luncheon tomorrow in their Lake Forest home for Miss Hixon and Mr. Wilson.

Annual Dog Show Opens at Amphitheater Today.

Dog lovers will flock to the International amphitheater today and tomorrow for the annual all-breed dog show of the International Kennel club of Chicago. Mrs. Geraldine Rockefeller Dodge, who annually conducts the largest dog show in the world on her Giralda farms at Madison, N. J., heads the judges, and will pick the best dog of the show. The Madison dog show has been canceled this year due to the war. Among the other judges will be Count Giovanni Cardelli, who will decide on Airedale terriers.

Some of those exhibiting will be Mrs. John G. Winant, wife of the United States ambassador to England; Mrs. Conway Olmsted, who will show her husband's bulldogs [he is in training with the Aviation Volunteer Specialists]; Hulburd Johnston, Ferdinand Bunte, the Orrin H. Bakers, Harold Florsheim, Mrs. Robert A. Cavenaugh, and Mrs. Janet H. Henneberry. The Stuyvesant Peabodys won't be showing their chihuahuas and toy manchesters this year, but they will be occupying ringside seats at the show.

Mr. and Mrs. James C. Hutchins will be celebrating their 29th wedding anniversary tomorrow in Boca Grande, Fla. Mr. Hutchins is expected at home the first of the week, while his wife will stop in New York for a few days en route home.

Wild Flower Society Will Hear Mme. Khrabroff.

At its annual meeting at 2 o'clock today at the Cordon club, the Wild Flower Preservation Society of Illinois will hear Mme. Irina Khrabroff speak on "The Garden of the Roses in Bulgaria." Mme. Khrabroff is a close friend of Mrs. William F. Petersen, one of the society's vice presidents. Mrs. Edward E. Waful heads the society. Mme. Khrabroff, who first came to this country in 1914 from her native Russia, will remain in Chicago until Monday. She was entertained at a small luncheon yesterday at the Woman's Athletic club.

Own Big Sister Caps Nurse at Candlelighting Ceremony

Frances Bivans (left) was capped by her own "big sister," Ellagene Bivans, in a capping and candlelighting ceremony at the Sprague Nurses' home yesterday, in which 44 student nurses who have completed their six month preclinical course in the Presbyterian hospital school of nursing were capped by upper classmen. These older nurses are called "big sisters," but the younger Miss Bivans was the only one to have her cap presented by her true sister, who is a 1941 graduate of the school.

Educators Vote Down Two Year College Degree

Delegates to the 47th annual meeting of the North Central Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools yesterday approved unanimously a resolution directed against the proposal of Robert Maynard Hutchins that other colleges follow the lead of the University of Chicago in awarding the bachelor's degree after the second university year.

The resolution, presented by Prof. N. J. Burgstahler of Ohio Wesleyan university, Delaware, O., read, in part, as follows:

"The four year liberal arts college and the two year junior college are distinctive and unique counterparts of higher education. The bachelor's degree has come to stand for the successful completion of four years of collegiate education beyond the secondary school.

"Any proposal, even under wartime conditions, to award the widely recognized bachelor's degree at the close of the junior college or the sophomore year is to be deplored. Such practice will lead to widespread misunderstanding and confusion and result in cheapening the time honored and universally recognized baccalaureate degree."

The concept of the high school teacher as some one who taught algebra or advanced English composition is fading. The present day teacher is, and must continue to be a fighter "in the front line of our democratic ideals."

This statement was made earlier in the day by C. A. Weber, superintendent of schools in Galva, Henry county.

"Now is the time to lift education out of the rut of unadaptability," Weber declared. "To do this is essential for democracy. The task confronting us is to cast off the fetters of principal-centered devices and let teachers take charge of their own meetings, planning them around problems which seem important and challenging to them.

Weber's recommendations for more democratic methods in teaching and in teacher-pupil-principal-parent relationships included:

1. Teachers, instead of principals, should preside at faculty meetings.
2. Electing committees of teachers to plan faculty meetings.
3. Using panel discussions, forum-type meetings, and committee reports to stimulate discussions.
4. Holding meetings in school time by making provision for faculty meetings in the school's regular program.
5. Inclusion of parents, pupils, and laymen in teacher discussions and meetings.
6. Election of committees to study specific faculty-school problems.

The expansion program of the Civil Aeronautics administration was described to the 1,500 delegates by Dr. Dwayne Orton, educational consultant of the CAA and president of Stockton Junior college, Stockton, Cal. The program, he said, is devised to "air condition" the youth of America. "In 1938 the United States had only 18,000 trained pilots. Today there are more than 100,000, and 70 per cent of these were trained," Dr. Orton noted, "by the CAA courses in our colleges."

White Collar GIRL

BY RUTH MACKAY

The First Job.

"How can we help the girl in her first job?" This was the question put to two of the most able personnel directors I know. "It's a serious matter to lose that first job. What are the chief reasons?"

One of the personnel directors answered the question this way: "There are a multiplicity of reasons: [1] She may not be adequately prepared for the job; [2] she may not be accustomed to a working régime—being on time, being regular in attendance; [3] she may not work out well with her associates . . . may be a trouble maker . . . may keep her division stirred up all the time so that her nuisance value exceeds her business value; [4] she may be confused and nervous and therefore be hindered in grasping the details of her job; as a result she may not give evidence of the capability she actually possesses. Promptness, attentiveness, good health, regularity of attendance and coöperation with her fellow workers are all of them, important factors in that important first job."

The other personnel director emphasized that in a large organization particular attention is directed to the problem of the beginner; particular care is taken in choosing her, particular care in training her. Those who work with her realize that it is a big adjustment from business school to business. In the former she's a schoolgirl. In the latter she's a business woman and must accept adult responsibility. In a large company, when it is found [after trying her] that she is not in the right groove, there is always a chance to transfer her to another department—if [and this she stressed] the girl has the right work attitude. In a small business when the girl can't do the work for which she was hired, often no alternative presents itself and she is discharged. "But," added this successful personnel director, "the desire to succeed is so valuable in business that a sincere, ambitious girl whose first job doesn't click will surely find another."

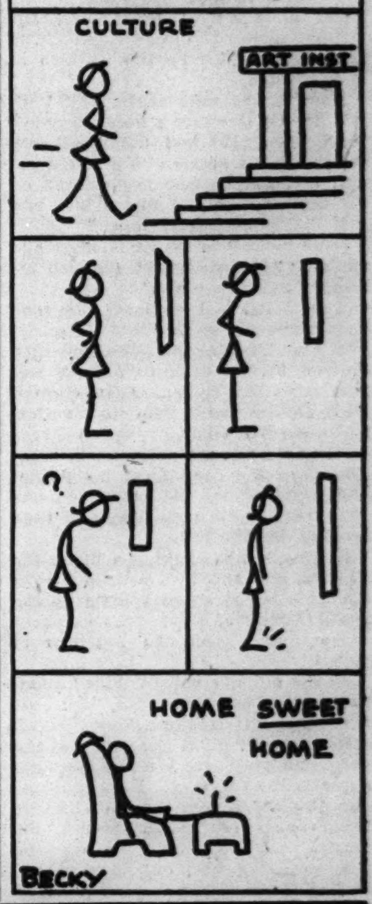
Seniority!

Stockroom boys, being something in the nature of a wartime problem—due to shortage of male help—the salesgirls in a certain large department store have their own little quip about it. "Ask the oldest boy," they say, "you know—the one who has been here three days."

Stenographers Wanted.

The Office of Emergency Management, room 1441, Civic Opera building, is seeking stenographers to go to Washington for jobs in various federal agencies. Interviews and tests are given here in the city [this doesn't come under civil service] and the requirement is 96 words a minute for dictation and 40 words a minute for typing.

Dear Diary



Miss Boettcher Will Be Bride in Evanston Home

For her marriage tonight to Charles Lyman Emrich Jr. Miss Barbara Boettcher will wear the veil in which her matron of honor, Mrs. George Trippe, was married. The ceremony will take place at 8 o'clock in the Evanston home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur H. Boettcher, with the Rev. Emory W. Luccock of the First Presbyterian church officiating.

The bride's cousin, Miss Betty Krieger of West Bend, Wis., and the bridegroom's sister, Mrs. James Gillfillan of Trenton, Ont., will serve as bridesmaids. An aisle will be formed with garlands of flowers by seven close friends of the bride. Howard P. Emrich will serve as his brother's best man, and the bride's brother, Stephen and Mr. Gillfillan, a pilot officer in the royal Canadian air force, will usher. After a southern wedding trip Mr. Emrich will bring his bride back to live in Evanston.

Miss Virginia Louise Torcom and Albert H. Luke, who will be married at 8:30 o'clock tonight in the First Prebyterian church of Evanston, will be the first couple to use the church's new kneeling bench, made from wood from the original White House. Following the ceremony the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Epram Milton Torcom of Evanston, will give a reception in the Orrington hotel ballroom.

Mrs. Norman Ellis West will be her sister's matron of honor. Serving as bridesmaids will be the bride's sister-in-law, Mrs. Edward Milton Torcom; the bridegroom's sister, Mrs. Ivan L. Matteson; Mrs. Frederick Bechtel of Schenectady, N. Y.; Mrs. Herman Hamel of Manhasset, N. Y., and Miss Ruth Pfisterer. Mr. Matteson will serve as best man, and Edward M. Torcom as head usher.

Miss Margaret Cornelia Gorrell, daughter of Mrs. Clarence Arden Gorrell of New York, formerly of Greensboro, N. C., and the late Mr. Gorrell, will be married to Ensign R. Douglas Davis, U. S. N. R., son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Francis Davis of Oak Park, this afternoon in Yonkers, N. Y. The ceremony and reception following will be held in the home of the bride's uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Harry S. Gierhart.

Miss Barbara Elizabeth Watson, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Frank A. Watson of Chicago, and Ernest Ralph Schmidt, son of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew C. Schmidt of Three Oaks, Mich., will be married at 4 o'clock this afternoon in the John Timothy Stone chapel at the Fourth Presbyterian church. Later the bride's uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur M. Watson of Evanston, will give a wedding supper at the Drake hotel. Miss Jane Watson will be her sister's maid of honor, and the bridegroom's brother, Wallford, will be his best man.

Women in War Work . . . .

By India Moffett

[The Women in War Work department reports on women's activities in war and defense work and will answer questions of women wishing to take part in these activities.]

If the luncheon that is to be given Monday by Advertising post, No. 38, of the American Legion for Lieut. Col. John J. Allan had been held a couple of days earlier it would have been a $50,000 defense bond that Col. Allan would have been given by the members of his organization, the Salvation Army. As it is, it is a savings bond of this denomination that is to be presented to the colonel, for the United States treasury department has dropped the word defense and substituted the word savings.

The bond is to be used by the Salvation Army for reconstruction work after the war is ended. Representatives of the defense savings staff of the treasury department, with representatives of the army, navy, marine corps, and coast guard, will attend the luncheon, which will be given in the grand ballroom of the Hotel Sherman at 12 o'clock.

Miss Sylvia Sidney is to present the bond to the colonel, who recently arrived in Chicago to take command of the forces of the Salvation Army in the central states territory with headquarters in Chicago. The army's 25 piece territorial staff band will play and there will be a formal presentation of colors. Other organizations coöperating with Advertising post in arranging the luncheon are the Women's Advertising club, the Chicago Federated Advertising clubs, and the women's committee of the defense savings staff.

Twenty-five of the women who work in the booths in Evanston, selling United States savings stamps, have a new piece of work assigned to them. The Evanston chairman, Mrs. Hugh W. McCullough, has lent the 25 to the United States Victory club of Evanston, which is enlisting a membership of 1,182 merchants for the first club in Illinois to be formed under the national retailers' committee in order to assure sales outlets for the stamps thru all retail stores.

Col. Norman C. Wood, in charge of services and morale for the Sixth corps area; Ensign Walter M. Jennings, ninth naval district public relations officer, and Lieut. Philip Nicholas, chaplain at Navy pier, presented the military side of "Service Men in our Midst" at a meeting of the women's department of the Chicago Church federation yesterday in the Stevens building.

Col. Wood said that the army does not worry about the boys and men while they are in camp, only when they are away on furloughs or passes. Then the civilian populace can do a great deal for the service man, he believes.

"As a group and as individuals," Col. Wood urged, "get behind the Red Cross, the Chicago Service Men's center, the USO, Bundles for America, and the Army Emergency relief, an organization about which you are are going to hear a great deal in the near futire. Gen. John J. Pershing is honorary chairman of the fund drive for the relief, which will provide ready cash for soldiers' families in need."

Ensign Jennings urged the women to observe a "creed of democracy" which would include "services in silence, unity, and unselfishness in giving up their sons and everything they have to preserve our way of life."

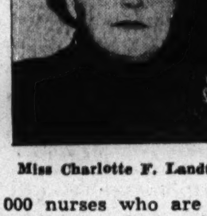
The sailors on Navy pier have little free time during their 26 weeks of intensive study, Lieut. Nicholas said, but various diversions are provided thru the chaplains corps.

"We give them an athletic program, games, movies four nights a week, a home talent program weekly, a Pier newspaper, and the library is stocked with 10,000 volumes on every subject," he explained. "In addition, I preach to 3,000 boys every other Sunday, take care of them in the hospital or the brig, and hold 40 to 60 conferences a day with individuals whose problems run from homesickness to deaths in the family."

The chaplain also praised the Chicago Service Men's center. "I've been on both coasts and there's nothing like it," he said.

Mrs. Frank P. Hixon described the activities of the center, which is at 176 West Washington street, and Mrs. Maud E. Allan, wife of Lieut. Commissioner John J. Allan of the Salvation Army, told of the activities at the 13 USO centers in the 11 central states. Mrs. Holland Flagler, program chairman, introduced the speakers.

The federation is urging all members to write service men from their churches and invite the soldiers and sailors in this area to Sunday dinners, church services, and church social affairs.



Miss Charlotte F. Landt.

State and local arrangement committees for the 1942 biennial convention of three national nursing organizations will give progress reports at a meeting Tuesday evening in the Stevens hotel. Plans are being made to entertain 10,000 nurses who are expected to attend convention sessions of the American Nurses' association, the National League for Nursing Education, and the National Organization for Public Health Nursing to be held here May 17 to 22.

"Nursing at the Nation's Service" will be the convention theme, reports Miss Lenore Tobins, director of the school of nursing at Roseland community hospital and chairman of the local arrangement committee, who will preside at the meeting Tuesday. Miss Charlotte F. Landt, committee secretary, and Miss Mabel M. Dunlap, treasurer, will give reports.

State committee members who will discuss plans are Miss Sarah Daily, president of the Illinois State Nurses' association; Miss Marguerite Boom, chairman of the section on public health nursing; Miss Edna Groppe, president, Illinois League of Nursing Education, and Miss Marie Harden, chairman, private duty section of the State Nurses' association.

Volunteer hostesses at the Service Men's center and three navy boys will be featured in an original musical revue, "The Show Must Go On," to be presented at the center at 8:15 o'clock tomorrow night in the fourth floor theater. Jerry De Lee is directing and producing the revue, for which he also wrote the songs. The score and musical direction are being handled by Fritzie Freund.

China Relief Seeks Funds for Civilian Support in New Drive

A campaign for funds to finance vital civilian support to Gen. Douglas MacArthur in the western Pacific will be opened April 11 by the United China Relief, Inc. Chicagoans will be asked to contribute at least one-fourth as much as they gave to the American Red Cross in the campaign just ended.

James M. Cleary, campaign chairman, said every American dollar contributed in the campaign will provide 20 Chinese dollars to maintain scores of American hospitals, orphanages, schools, missions, refugee depots, and ambulances operating in China to offset the influence of Japanese propaganda about "Asia for Asiatics."

Maintenance of these American institutions in China, Cleary said, is vital to Chinese morale as proof of American friendship and to inspire hundreds of thousands of Chinese soldiers to keep engaged an equal or greater number of Japanese who otherwise might be released for fighting elsewhere. In this way, it is pointed out, MacArthur's forces will be aided.

Headquarters for the campaign have been opened in room 1848 at 310 South Michigan avenue. Silas H. Strawn is chairman of the executive committee composed of 18 outstanding Chicago business executives.

The Housewife

It's possible now to get a chest of flat silver for the table for about the amount of money that you used to spend for plated ware. We saw an amazingly low priced chest of 26 pieces the other day which is being featured because of its standard medium weight, its three patterns, and its price. Only because thousands of these sets have been ordered can they be sold so cheaply, we're told. So here is your opportunity to indulge in sterling silver.

SYNOPSIS.

Because Dave Wallace asked Ed Seegrist, Chevron ranch hand, about the death of Tip Macy, Ed directed Dave to waterless tanks in the desert, where he almost perished before a stage picked him up and took him into Vermillion. Beth Hilliard, who inherited two-thirds interest in the Chevron Cattle company from her father, is on the same stage, returning home after two years' absence, only to learn from her partner, Jess Gove, that the hard winter killed most of their cattle and that she is now penniless. Arriving in Vermillion, Dave knocks Ed down and is ordered out of town by Sheriff Sam Kinsley. Both Ed and Arnie Chance, Chevron foreman, claim Tip died in a blizzard, but Dave doubts their story and decides to talk to Martha, Tip's widow, but learns that she has just left for Hilliard, the cattle company town. He goes to Hilliard, but before he has a chance to talk to Martha he runs into Ed again in Con Buckley's saloon and beats him up while Pete and Ray, two other Chevron men, old Ives, squaw trapper, and Buckley look on. He escapes on a Chevron horse, but old Ives follows him, and being a close friend of Beth's father and distrusting Jess, Ives insists that Dave talk to Martha. Dave returns to Hilliard, learns that Martha has left for Chevron, and goes there to see her. But at Chevron he gets into a shooting scrape with Arnie and Ed. Only Beth's arrival saves him from being killed. Jess admits to Beth and Dave that Tip was murdered, but claims it was because he was in with cattle thieves and he had hushed it up to save Martha humiliation. Beth believes Jess, but Dave is sure he is lying. Dave learns that Beth is selling her share of the cattle company to Jess and tells Ives about it. Ives promises to arrange a meeting with Dave and Martha if Dave will take money he borrowed from Buckley and offer Beth a higher price for her interest in Chevron than Jess is paying her. Dave learns from Martha what Jess doesn't want him to know—that Tip started for Seco camp instead of the place Jess claimed when he was murdered. Meanwhile Tom Hyam, hotel keeper, witnesses a queer scene when Ed's horse is shot from under him and Arnie is lurking in the bushes as Jess passes by. He pretends not to see Arnie as he rescues Ed. Sam Kinsley asks Beth to marry him but she refuses.

INSTALMENT XXIV.

BLACKMAIL.

Beth was standing when she finished, and Sam was too. He looked at her as if she hit him, and then he said bitterly, slowly, solemnly, "Beth, if I don't marry you, no man will."

The sound of footsteps on the plank walk made Beth turn. There, coming up the steps, was Jess and Arthur Rollins, the storekeeper, who was also the town's notary. Beth felt a wild relief at sight of them, and she stepped forward to greet Rollins, who seemed surprised by the warmth of her welcome.

Now it was sane again, and Beth felt herself drawing a quiet strength from Jess. He had not overheard them, for his seamed face was tranquil and grave. She put a hand on his arm and looked up at him and said, "Are we ready, Jess?"

Gove looked across at Kinsley and smiled. "If Sam hasn't changed his mind, I reckon we are."

Beth didn't look at Sam. She took Gove's arm and walked into the lobby. Jess seated her at the table, and then crossed to the desk to borrow pen and ink from Hyam. Beth chatted witih Rollins, while Sam stood sullenly beside her chair.

When the pen and ink were brought Jess took the deed from his pocket and unfolded it. It was short, and Beth read it thru quickly, and then reached for the pen.

Her hand was shaking a little, she noticed, and she took a deep breath and steadied it, awed a little by the irrevocability of what she was about to do. And then she put pen to paper.

As she did so a voice drawled quietly into the room's stillness, "I'd wait a minute, Miss Hilliard."

Beth looked up at the sound of the voice and saw Dave Wallace standing there in the doorway. His big frame almost filled it and there was something about his rough clothes, his scuffed halfboots, and the way he was watching her, oblivious to the rest of them, that was almost a portent. She remembered Ed Seegrist upstairs, and without looking at Sam she said, "Sheriff Kinsley wants——"

"Quiet, Beth!" Kinsley rapped out.

Wallace looked briefly, without curiosity, at Kinsley, his eyes chill and unfriendly.

Kinsley said to Wallace, with a deceptive mildness, "Wait for what, Wallace?"

"I've got business with Miss Hilliard."

"Have you, now?" Kinsley said gently. "What is it?"

Wallace didn't even look at him. His glance dropped to the deed and then rose to Beth's face. "You selling Chevron?"

Beth looked at Sam and there was only a careful watchfulness on his face. She knew he wanted Wallace to talk, wanted her to encourage him.

She said, "You know I am."

Wallace said quietly, "I'd like to buy it."

Of all things that this man could have said, Beth was least prepared for this. Here he was, a fugitive who had almost killed a man, appearing calmly in front of the sheriff and asking to buy Chevron. There was an air of unreality about it that held Beth motionless, almost stunned. She glanced at Sam again, for help this time, and saw the slow surprise in his face. Beth, knowing he would break this when he thought best, said weakly to Wallace, "I'm selling my two-thirds share of Chevron to Mr. Gove."

"For how much?"

"That's no business of yours!" Beth flared.

"It's yours," Wallace drawled, "because I'll give you more than Gove will." His big hand moved forward and put a canvas sack on the desk now. When it left his fingers she heard the solid chunk of coins, many of them. "Two hundred and fifty double eagles," Wallace murmured. "There's as much more as you name."

Beth didn't move, watching Sam. She saw him shift his glance from Wallace to Gove, amazed questioning in his eyes. He looked at the coins, again, and then Wallace went on. "Ten thousand. Fifteen thousand. Just name it, Miss Hilliard."

All of them were silent now. Nothing in Sam's expression gave a clue to what she should do, and Beth turned to Gove. She surprised a hard, steady alertness in his eyes that were watching Wallace.

"You can't pass that up, Beth," Gove said quietly to her.

Sam said flatly. "Wait a minute," and stepped closer to Wallace.

"Would you buy Chevron, pay that money, if you knew you were going to jail tomorrow? Maybe for life?"

A faint frown creased Wallace's forehead. His attention narrowed, and he looked silently at Beth, then at Gove, and then at Kinsley.

"Yes."

Sam's gun came up with an effortless ease, and it was cocked, pointing at Wallace's midriff.

"Then go on with your business," Sam said heavily, "because you're going to jail afterwards."

Beth always remembered later the kind of disdainful expression with which Wallace regarded Sam's gun, and then the slow lift of his glance as he looked at Sam.

"What have you dreamed up now, sheriff?"

Sam said flatly, "Seegrist is upstairs with his chest caved in. When you shot his horse out from under him yesterday it fell on him."

Wallace shook his head slowly. "I didn't shoot his horse."

And then, from behind Beth, came Tom Hyam's quiet, almost sinister voice.

"You're the man who pulled off into the brush a mile below that second ford yesterday afternoon when I came in sight."

Gove wheeled sharply, and stared at Hyam.

Sam didn't take his eyes off Wallace, only said, "Come here, Hyam."

Hyam came over, accepting the cold wicked stare of Wallace without seeming to notice it.

Sam said to Hyam, "You saw him near the second ford yesterday afternoon?"

"I did."

"Why didn't you tell me?"

Hyam drawled, with a faint contempt, "I didn't put the two together, till I saw the horse. And I didn't recognize this man, never having seen him before. Would it have done you any good, sheriff, if I'd told you I saw a man at the second ford, yet couldn't describe him accurately or tell you who he was?" He added dryly, "You were sure enough, anyway, I gathered."

Sam stepped up and lifted Wallace's gun from its holster. He said, "That's all I want. You'll sit in jail, Wallace, until Seegrist is recovered, and then you'll stand trial for attempted murder. If he dies, it'll be just plain murder."

Beth watched Wallace's face, and saw no trace of dismay, only a cold, hard contempt. He even smiled faintly, recklessly at Kinsley, and then his gaze shuttled to Hyam. "Remarkable eyesight," he murmured, and then his glance settled on Beth. She saw again in his eyes that old dislike of her. He said dryly, "My offer is good until your friends hang me, Miss Hilliard."

It was over when Sam, gun still in hand, followed Wallace out onto the porch. Her dun, Beth saw, was tied at the rack beside Kinsley's horse. Beth followed Kinsley out onto the veranda and as she watched Wallace tramp proudly down the steps, a sudden and inexplicable doubt assailed her.

When Beth was gone and they were alone, Gove regarded Hyam with expressionless face.

Hyam said quietly, "I think you better cut me in, Gove."

For half a minute, they looked at each other, and then Gove said gently, "Why do you?"

"I saw Chance in the brush."

Gove's face altered a little, only faintly, shrewdly, and then he nodded his head ever so slightly.

"All right," he said.

According to Culbertson

[Copyright: 1942: By Ely Culbertson.]

There are very few generalities at bridge that are worth their salt, because the exceptions to almost every rule are as important as the rule itself. It can be said, however, with reasonable accuracy, that defenders should go to almost any length to prevent declarer from discarding a loser.

South, dealer.
Both sides vulnerable.

The bidding:

South	West	North	East
1 heart	Pass	2 hearts	Pass
3 hearts	Pass	4 hearts	Pass
Pass	Pass

West opened the king of clubs. Declarer held off for one round, but won the continuation. Surveying his possible losers, he noted that he could not afford to lead the ace and another trump because, if he did, the opponents would cash another club trick, and later one diamond trick surely would have to be conceded. Hence it was necessary to procure a club discard before losing the lead. To that end, declarer properly laid down the spade king, then crossed to dummy's queen.

When the spade ace was cashed, East made a horrible play: He failed to ruff! Perhaps he thought it was foolish to use a sure trump trick at this point. The fact remains that his decision cost him the game. He discarded a diamond and declarer got rid of his last club. A heart then was lead to the ace and another heart returned. To declarer's surprise and pleasure, the outstanding trumps fell together. In all, declarer lost only one trick in trumps, one diamond, and one club.

It should have been completely obvious to East that declarer was preparing to discard on the third round of spades. Otherwise, he never would have played those three rounds before drawing trumps. That being so, East had nothing to lose and possibly a great deal to gain by ruffing the spade ace. True, it might cost him a trump trick, but at the worst this would be an even exchange, whereas there was a distinct chance to gain a trick by ruffing. Obviously, had he ruffed, his side still would have made a trump trick and the contract inevitably would have been defeated.

Are American women letting the sugar situation get them down? I should say not! Not if all the fine, sugarless, and almost sugarless recipes being submitted to the recipe contest are any indication.

Women are using honey, maple sirup, molasses, sorghum, corn sirup, marshmallows, and even packaged puddings with real ingenuity these days. Too bad we can't give all these clever ideas prizes, but we can give some honorable mentions to those which just miss first prizes. There are some good suggestions here:

1. A packaged pudding pie, called "Lady Roosevelt Pie" by Mrs. Clifford Long, Box 3, Thompson, Mich., who submits the recipe. She uses diluted evaporated milk to make a batch of chocolate and a batch of vanilla packaged pudding. She puts them in two layers in a large baked crust with a round of crust [just the size of the pie pan] between layers. The whole thing is topped with a meringue.

2. Another honorable mention goes to Mrs. J. Kenneth Evers, 107 McIndoe street, Wausau, Wis., for her version of upside down cake. A regulation batter, made with sugar, is used for the cake, but she saves sugar by using maple sirup for the topping. For it she uses 3 tablespoons melted butter and ½ cup sirup. Sliced apples are the fruit, but any other fruit would do as well. As in all upside down cakes, the batter is poured on top of the sirup and fruit mixture.

3. Mrs. R. B. Newhauser, 1553 E. Lake Bluff, Shorewood, Wis., makes her quick pecan rolls sans brown sugar. She combines 3 tablespoons melted butter with ⅓ cup molasses and ½ teaspoon cinnamon, and puts half a tablespoon of this mixture in the bottom of each greased muffin pan. The remainder is spread on the dough and sprinkled with pecans, as in any pecan roll. This should work out well for raised rolls, too.

4. Several recipes for honey meringue [for cake frostings] have been submitted. Miss Ellen Patterson, Sycamore, Ill., makes a similar frosting with corn sirup. She uses ⅞ cup [that's 1 cup minus 2 tablespoons] corn sirup, 1 egg white, a few grains of salt and a few drops of vanilla. These ingredients all are beaten together with an electric beater until thick and fluffy. Either light or dark corn sirup may be used.

At the risk of sounding "scoldy," I'd like to emphasize again the importance of putting your name and address on each sheet of paper when you send your entry to the contest. The contest pays $5 daily for the best recipe submitted. It would be a shame to miss winning the prize simply because the contest editors couldn't tell where and to whom the prize should go. The following recipe is one which might have won a prize, but Louise A. Mottl, who submitted it, forgot to put down her address. Anyway, it's a grand meatless dish.

Pearl Barley with Mushrooms.

1 cup pearl barley, soaked overnight in cold water
3 cups of cold water
1 teaspoon caraway seed
½ cup butter
1 clove garlic, chopped fine
½ pound fresh mushrooms
2 tablespoons chopped parsley
2 teaspoons marjoram
1 teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon pepper
1 tablespoon grated cheese
¼ teaspoon paprika

Boil barley and caraway seed in the water until tender. Add more water if needed, altho the cereal should be thick when done. Slice mushrooms and brown with garlic in butter for 5 minutes. Add parsley and marjoram, and cook 1 minute longer. Then add to barley and season with salt and pepper. Turn into well greased baking dish and sprinkle with grated cheese and paprika. Bake in slow [300 degrees] oven for 30 minutes.

TODAY'S PRIZE RECIPE

A zippy, horseradish flavored cottage cheese mold wins today's $5 prize for Mrs. A. M. Trootendorst, Box 123, Benton Harbor, Mich. It's "simple as the turn of the wrist," Mrs. Trootendorst points out.

You, too, may have a recipe that would be worthy of the $5 prize given daily in the Mary Meade Recipe Contest. All ingredients should be listed in the order of use, with measurements standard and level. Make directions as full and clear as you possibly can, giving the approximate number of servings. Any good recipe may be a prize winner, but please send only one recipe a week.

Cottage Cheese and Horseradish Mold.

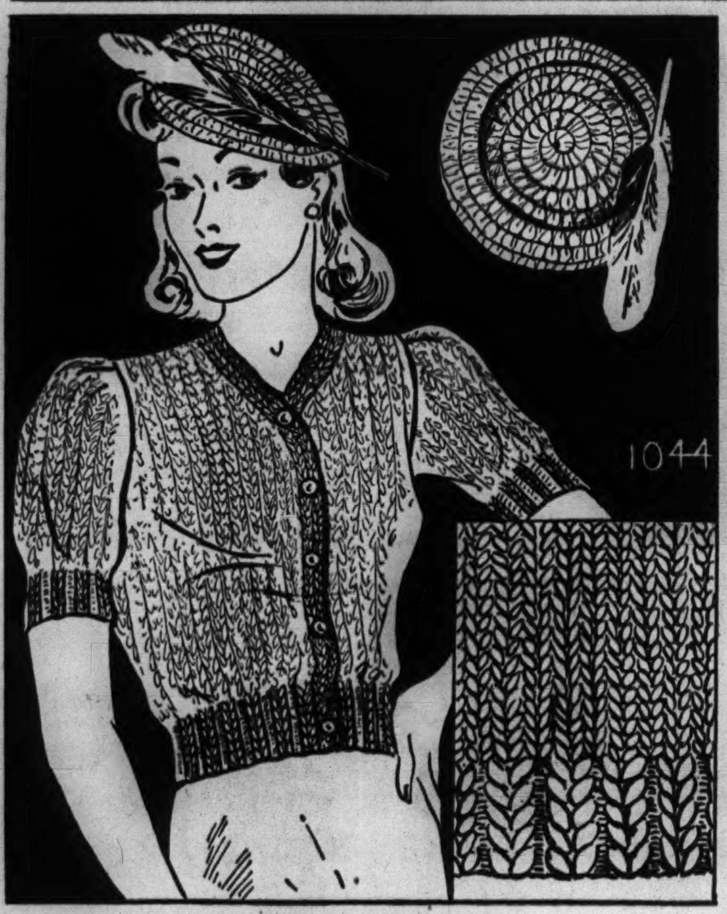
[Serves six.]

1 package lemon flavored gelatin
1¼ cups hot water
½ cup heavy cream, whipped.
2 cups cottage cheese
¼ cup grated horseradish

Dissolve gelatin in hot water and cool until mixture begins to set. Whip cream and fold cottage cheese and horseradish into it. Add to gelatin, mixing well. A pinch of salt may be added, if desired. Turn into molds, which have been rinsed in cold water, and chill until set. Unmold on lettuce and serve with mayonnaise.

[Send in your favorite recipe.]

Sweater and Beret



BY JEAN MACDONALD.

Here is an attractive ensemble of knitted sweater and beret. It is one of the easiest of patterns to follow, and if there is any one who hasn't started to knit, there can be no better time to begin than now, and with this outfit.

For instructions in knitting the sweater and beret, No. 1044, send 10 cents in stamps or coin, plus 2 cents to cover mailing cost, to the Needlework Bureau, Chicago Tribune, 220 Fifth avenue, New York City.

Flowered Hats to Lead 1942 Easter Parade

BY REA SEEGER.

The Easter shoppers are out in full force. The new spring coats, suits, and dresses are getting out in circulation even before Easter Sunday, while the raids on the hat showings are something to smash all records. The small flowered creations are first choice and there isn't a flower known to the botanists that hasn't been used, and when the real blooms ran out the hat makers and flower makers evolved some pretty fancy ones of their own.

Most of these flowered affairs are no larger than a corsage, a corsage tied with colored ribbon anchored to an almost microscopic triangle and made to fit the tip top of the head. Stems are used for decoration on an even basis with the flowers. Veils are added and the finished results are airy, flattering, and as springy as anything from a florist's box.

After the flowered hats come the creations in vivid emerald or grass green. Tiny models with infinite "oomph" come in smooth and rough straw, in lacey braids and of ribbon and felt. This brilliant, always flattering, green color goes with everything, with every color, spiking up the darkest street suit or contrasting snowy white and pastel colored hats with telling dramatics.

All white hats are the third most popular selection, with the small models especially attractive for the Easter promenade. Crisp white straw, crêpe, ribbon, and pique are the high fashion materials.

White flowers, white bows, lacey edges achieved with the narrow braid crocheted in the same manner as yarn and eyelet embroidery edges, are some of the crisp spring accents to this never failing smart pique. One white straw hat with a down shading shallow brim owes its chic to the many little black silk tassels and to the tassels fastened to the long black veil.

Another white hat uses discreet whiffs of grass green in the tiny bows nestled in among the double ruched pom-pons directly in front. Flowered, green or snow white, your first spring hat selected from any of these early showings will assure "picture in the paper" results.

Members of Catholic University Club Will Attend Mass in Body

Members of the Chicago Catholic University club will attend mass in a body at 10 o'clock tomorrow at Holy Name cathedral. The spiritual director of the club, the Rev. Ralph Gallagher of Loyola university, is to be the celebrant. After the service there will be a breakfast meeting in the Maryland hotel, 900 Rush street, at which the group will hear a talk on "Certain Aspects of the War with Japan," by the Rev. George Dunne. A member of the Jesuit order, Father Dunne has been a missionary in the orient. He is now studying international relations in the graduate school of the University of Chicago.

Two Girls and a Boy Equal One Triangle

BY DORIS BLAKE.

[Copyright: 1942: By News Syndicate Co., Inc.]

What to do when your closest girl girl chum casts hypnotic eyes over your current escort? Or, when you see in her partner the ideal for which your little heart is throbbing?

It's a situation, from either angle, commonly confronting us. June comes with her recital today. She is fond of her long time girl pal, Reneé, but fonder of the boy who has been dancing attention on Reneé and with reason to believe that he returns the compliment.

"I don't want to hurt my girl friend. She'll never forgive me. But he says he does not love her and he does love me. Would it be fairer of me to tell him a lie for my girl friend's sake, or admit the truth that I love him?"

It would be nobler, no doubt, to make the sacrifice in the name of friendship, but it so often becomes a nobility in a lost cause that we do not heartily recommend it. In your case, June, the young man is not seriously enmeshed with your longtime girl pal or he wouldn't have been casting about with you swimming into his net. If it weren't you, it would be some other girl, no doubt. And then what would all the sacrificing be about?

True, you will risk the girl's friendship. Some girls can rise above such a situation, but it takes more good sportsmanship than is usually the lot of girls. On the other hand, you must consider that, were the tables reversed, she might not make the noble gesture, either, nor might you be equal to the rôle of good loser. However, it's well to figure out just exactly how much you do care for the other girl's beau; to know for sure that you're not just playing a vamp rôle.

Temple Sholom to Dedicate Honor Roll of Service Men

An honor roll listing the names of young men now serving with the armed forces of the United States will be dedicated at the 11 o'clock service tomorrow morning at Temple Sholom, 3480 Lake Shore drive. The names of those on the list will be read by Dr. A. James Riffkind, chairman of the temple's army and navy committee, which prepared the placque. Rabbi Louis Binstock will dedicate and consecrate the honor roll, which has been placed in the lobby of the Frankenstein Memorial center of the temple.

Disciplinarian Father Drives Children Away

BY GLADYS HUNTINGTON BEVANS

[Copyright: 1942: By News Syndicate Co., Inc.]

Not long ago, in this column, there appeared an article about parents who, especially after their boys and girls leave young childhood behind, do not show their affection in any of the little or big ways that lovingness can be expressed.

Altho the comment was meant for both fathers and mothers, it is, on the whole, probably more applicable to fathers and partly because many men think it more masculine to be offhand and a bit brusque with their sons. But this is where they make a great mistake. If you add to this belief the tendency of such a man constantly to correct and disapprove of his child, you will soon have a father whose boys and girls will draw away from him.

Here is a letter about this:

"My dear Mrs. Bevans:

"I enjoy your column every day, as you always say something that is helpful. But this morning's column on the barriers that grow between children and parents is most helpful, as it describes our household to a 'T.' If I could only get my husband to read it he would see what harm is being done along those lines.

"We have a son almost 18, full of life and activity, who would be a grand boy if his father could understand him and be a companion to him. But instead, he has the old-fashioned idea that a father should be master of the house with the 'do as I say and move when I say move, and so forth.'

"Well, lucky for the boy, he is attending college now in another city and will be in a different environment than that of being picked on all the time. But now that he has gone, my husband is beginning to pick on the other little boy, who is 6 years old. He watches every move he makes while he is eating, and notices everything he does. And it's 'Don't do this and don't do that,' and 'you've got to eat that'; and when the boy answers back, which he forces him to do by picking on him so much, he calls him names and says he is impertinent and fresh, and so forth.

"I quote all this merely to show you how correctly you wrote us up in your column. My husband is driving both children away from him, and for no good reason, just picking on the little things that it is natural for them to do and that make them free to grow and develop. If I interrupt sometimes when I see an argument growing unpleasant, he says that that is why they are so this and so that, because I encourage them. I suppose I can't do a thing in my case except pray, because I can't get him to see that he is wrong."

Roycemore School Junior Class Wins in Athletic Contest

The junior class at the Roycemore school in Evanston won the palio banner at the school's annual palio, or athletic, contest yesterday. Second place went to the senior class, third place to the sophomores, and fourth place to the freshmen. Shirley Fitzgerald, daughter of the Clifford Fitzgeralds of Winnetka, and Ann Haskell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George S. Haskell of Evanston, were tied for the posture cup. In the contest on Thursday between the classes of the primary and lower schools the eighth form won the banner. The palio was directed by Miss Marie Hjermstad, physical director of the upper school, and Miss Natalie Rockman of the primary and lower schools.

Theta Lambda Gamma to Give Charity Party Today

The annual charity card party of Theta Lambda Gamma sorority will be given at 2 o'clock today in the Stevens hotel. The sorority, organized during the first World war, will give half the proceeds from the benefit to the "buy a bomber" fund. The other half will be donated to the Martha Washington Home for Crippled Children. Serving on the card party committee are Miss Alvina Greenlee and Miss Helen Reinder of Lambda chapter, Miss Margaret Paxson of Sigma chapter, and Miss Genevieve Drigot of Pi Omicron chapter. Miss Betty L. Rogers is the grand president of the national organization.

Stencils are often quite an aid for an ailing floor. . . . If a floor is quite frankly drab, try painting it and then treating it to some two color stencil pattern. . . . Or an all-over stencil pattern may hide defects in an uneven floor and make it easy to look on—and live with.

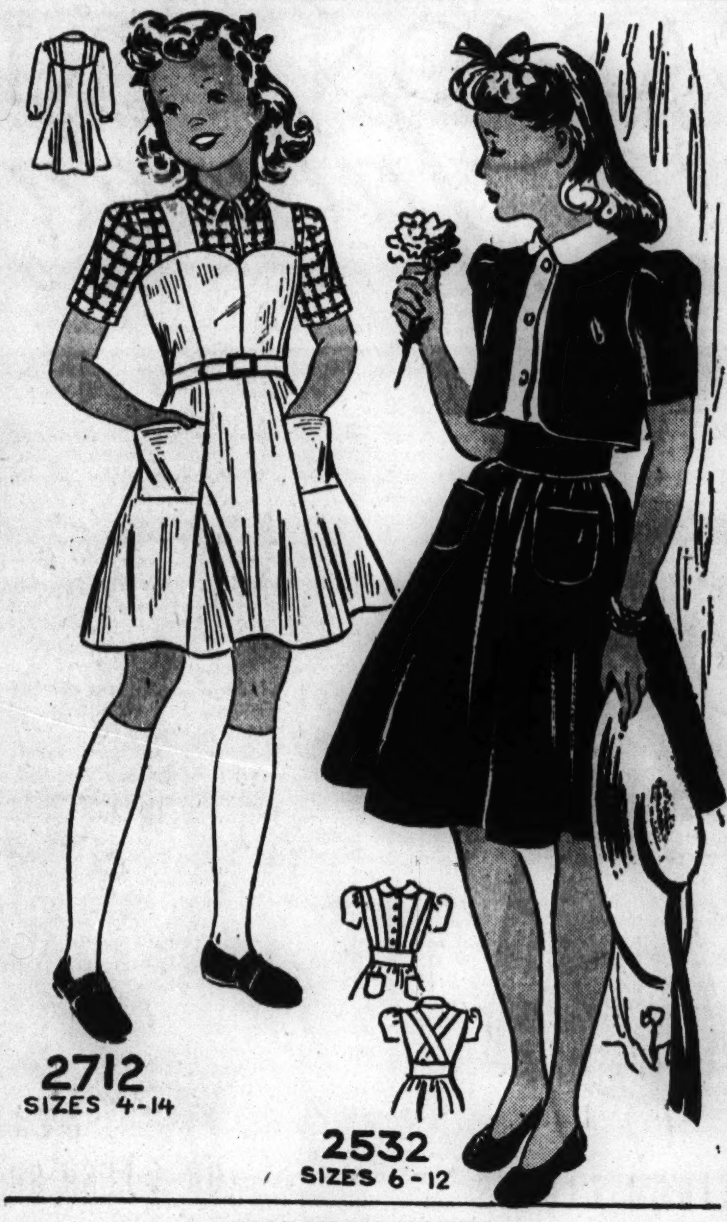
Girls' Spring Costumes



GIRLS' SPRING CLOTHES.

The beloved jumper frock returns in an especially nice version for spring. A plain jumper may be teamed with a checked blouse, as illustrated. The bolero costume, with its full skirt and contrasting blouse, will find many admirers.

Style No. 2712 is designed for sizes 4, 6, 8, 10, 12, and 14. Size 8 requires 1½ yards of 39 inch material for jumper; 1⅛ yards for blouse.

Style No. 2532 is designed for sizes 6, 8, 10, and 12. Size 8 requires 1¼ yards of 35 inch material for blouse; 1½ yards for skirt; ¾ yard for bolero.

Each pattern costs 10 cents.

Address orders for Clotilde patterns to Chicago Tribune, P. O. Box 537. Grand Central annex, NEW YORK CITY, including 10 cents in stamps or coin, plus 2 cents for mailing costs (coin preferred—wrap it carefully) for each pattern ordered. IMPORTANT: Be sure to state clearly the number of the pattern and the size desired and write your name and address plainly. The spring pattern book costs 15 cents—10 cents if ordered with a pattern.

Front VIEWS and PROFILES

BY MARCIA WINN

War Effort.

The young Chicago matron in civilian defense uniform was very busy at her OCD desk when up strode a lady of determined mien.

"Now," she said to the matron in uniform, "would you mind boiling up some hard boiled eggs for me and coloring them?"

"Eggs?" the other repeated in shocked surprise.

"Yes," the lady bubbled. "We are going to have an Easter egg hunt for the dear boys at the Service Men's center in the loop."

Nazi Blues.

An orchestra in northern Germany lost its license a month or so ago because it played jazz despite the ban on what the Nazis term "Anglicized Negro music." The Westfalische Landeszeitung states that "since Beethoven and Wagner are banned in London and New York, it is only natural that Germans should wish to avoid such music as embodies the spirit of the enemy." That is strange. We thought it was Germany and the vanquished states where Beethoven's Fifth was banned.

Looking into the future?

Vicissitude.

The British Red Cross, we hear, occasionally has queer little duties. Not long ago they sent several live sheep to Moslem prisoners-of-war in Germany. The sheep were requested for the sacrifice of Bakra Id, the great Moslem festival, emanating from Abraham and the ram, in which sheep are sacrificed on altars.

Home Conditions.

The Illinois Association for the Crippled is having its annual sale of Easter seals to aid the physically handicapped. One day's mail brought a friendly letter apologizing for "not being able to contribute to such a worthy cause, but conditions in our home at present are quite unfavorable." Wholly by accident, no doubt, the stub from an expensive ringside seat at a recent boxing match was included.

Purely Domestic.

A lady we know complained to her maid recently that the draperies thruout her apartment looked dreadfully gray. The maid then took it upon herself to wash them secretly. After the washing, they looked grayer than ever, so she washed them five times. She then hung them on stretchers all over the house. They took a week to dry, and at the end of the week were gray again.

The Tongue Simple.

A pupil in the class of Helen Best wished to be excused from school to see a parade. An elder brother wrote a letter to Miss Best, signing the mother's name:

With reference to my daughter's anticipated absence from the daily scholastic curriculum, may I heartily interpose my acquiescence, allergic as it ever has been relative to educational procedure? To do otherwise must of a necessity imply, over and above rational exclusions, an unjustifiably bigoted attitude or grossly lackadaisical perspective on this excellent work consistently executed by our nation's most invaluable moral asset—our teachers!

The girl saw the parade.

Indian Contralto to Give Concert Here Tomorrow

Songs that were chanted to the wind rhythm of prairie grasses before a white man set foot in Illinois will come into their own again in Chicago at 3 o'clock tomorrow afternoon with the appearance of Ataloa, the Indian contralto, on the concert stage of Curtiss hall in the Fine Arts building, 410 South Michigan avenue.

By Mae Tinée.

Good Morning!

KIND: High class tear jerker. . . . Mother and daughter variety. . . .

STORY: Lovely Lina Varsavina, who yearns to be a ballet dancer, is taken in tow by the once famous and now retired dancer, Stanislas Rosing, despite the protests of his slim, still, mature, inscrutable-eyed housekeeper, Marie. . . . Tho in love with young Lord Chevis, Lina marries Rosing when he proposes on the night of her successful première, for she adores him and cannot bear to say him nay [East-Lynn-ish?]. . . . Roger goes out of her life. . . . Later he enters it again, but not to be her husband. . . . Lina [a widow by then], believing him about to marry another, weds the wealthy American, David Gibson. . . . She promises him to give up her career—but, well—the lady lies. . . . Divorce. . . . The birth of a daughter whose existence Lina is able to keep a secret from Gibson. . . . BUT THERE COMES A DAY. . . ! The baby's father walks in unexpectedly—and sees little Rose! . . . Never shall his child be "raised in a trunk." . . . He takes her to America [most of the action occurs in Europe] and poor Lina suffers and suffers and suffers. . . . Until——? Well—that's for the picture to show you.

ACTING: Excellent. . . . Miss Young, gorgeous in the picturesque costumes of another period, is facile and fascinating. . . . Conrad Veidt, Dean Jagger, and John Sheppard are splendid as "the men in her life." . . . Otto Kruger, strangely enough cast in the minor rôle of Lina's manager, does well with a part in no way tailored for him. . . . To me, tho, Eugenie Leontovich was the star of the piece. . . . Her portrayal is a rich and lovely study in shadows.

DIRECTION: Fine.

DIALOG: Adult,

SITATIONS: Often unconvincing—and always interesting.

ADIENCUE APPEAL: Considerable. [I cried. Once.]

See you tomorrow.

Benefit Play to Be Given Tonight by Town School

The Town school is presenting a play, "Time for Romance," by Alice Gerstenberg, at 8:30 o'clock tonight in Curtiss hall in the Fine Arts building. Among the 10 girls in the cast is Patti Willis, a 14 year old junior, who has been playing in radio for six years. The show is open to the public. Tickets may be purchased at the box office and the proceeds will go to the Red Cross.

Thru the Looking Glass

Looking for a little present for the man in your life? There's a neat one out, just in time for Easter.

It's three men's preparations that have already won masculine approval: shaving lotion, hair lotion, and talc. They've been on the market for rather a longish time—and you know how difficult it is to please men. These have stood the test quite well.

Men like them because they're not too highly perfumed and because what scent they have is the kind that suits their fancy. The shaving lotion is soothing and refreshing too, and the hair lotion is the sort of dressing that keeps hair well groomed but not too oily. What they like about the talc is its fine quality and the fact that it doesn't SHOW on the skin!

The bottles are wonderful. Stirrup shaped, with horses' heads blown in the glass! Each bottle has the sturdy lines men prefer in such things and each is the kind the masculine hand can get a good grip on. For this special gift presentation the three are lined up in a dashing box with the interior decoration a race track scene, complete with grandstand and cheering throngs.

In case you'd never thought of a gift of toiletries before, you might like to know that men are mad about them. They might be hesitant to buy lots of good grooming aids for themselves, but when they're within reach you'll find that they are pleased as punch to own really good preparations.

Looking at Hollywood

By John Chapman

Hollywood, Cal., March 27.—Now there's a song called "Deep in the Heart of Tokio." It has been written for Paramount's aircraft plant musical, "Priorities of 1942," by Johnny Johnston, an actor, and Harry Barris, once one of the Rhythm Boys. Jerry Colonna will sing it. . . . Leo McCarey's deal with RKO is all set and his first will be Sheridan Gibney's "International Honeymoon," with Ginger Rogers and Cary Grant. McCarey's own script, "Beloved Saboteur," may come next. . . . James Cagney's leaving for three weeks at Martha's Vineyard. His United Artists deal isn't set yet. . . . Cigar smoking Ernst Lubitsch can't stand the sight or smell of cheese—and Mrs. Lubitsch can't stand the odor of his cigars. . . . Jean Arthur is slated to be godmother of Mary Martin's and Dick Halliday's new daughter, Heller. . . . Paramount has a construction crew of 200 recreating Wake Island on a Salton sea location—for a picture called "Wake Island." . . . Ethel Waters is due here for a rôle in the J. MacDonald-Robert Young "Shadow of a Lady." . . . Ann Rutherford has measles, so Peggy Moran is batting for her in "Tulip Time." Judy Garland's sister Sue, once one of the three Gumm sisters, is helping on dance routines for Judy's "Me and My Gal." . . . Spencer Tracy's stand-in, Jerry Schumacher, has enlisted in the parachute troops. . . . Mickey Rooney's new leading lady in "Yank at Eton" is Tina Thayer, 18 year old Bostonian.

The expedition to Ensenada, Mexico, last week-end of 130 stars, musicians, and journalists was a government nurtured good will gesture. Measuring the amount of good will created is a job for state department experts. All I can report is that I never saw any more friendliness and good humor than that shown by the Hollywoodians who went down to the sleepy little Mexican town to put on about 20 top flight acts for the army and navy. The stars did their very best—and the jaunt was no picnic.

They left San Diego at 6:30 a. m., spent a long time at the border while customs men checked cameras and musical instruments; then in jolting buses over a tough road they went to Ensenada. The Mexican army had a noonday reception at the Playa hotel, dream palace which had been created for Hollywood big shots to gamble in. The hotel is now army headquarters. There wasn't time for a regular meal before the show went on at the town's movie theater, so nobody got much more than half a sandwich and a soft drink.

The show ran about three hours. Then everybody, hot and dirty, piled into the buses for the long trip back to San Diego and the waiting special train. They made the train after 9 p. m.—and had had no food to speak of since 6 a. m. I bet that train was the world's greatest concentration of starving rich people, and the dining car was so swamped that many were not served until 11:30. Yet not once did an actor grumble or show temperament—and such beauties as Joan Bennett, Lupe Velez, Jinx Falkenburg, and Joan Blondell were looking pretty messy and dog tired.

Favorites with the Mexican boys were Lupe, of course, and Stan Laurel and Oliver Hardy. And Cass Dailey, the face making, spine twisting tornado of pure vulgarity, was a complete wow. . . . Judging from the audience, I'd say the good will was accomplished.

Paul Henreid, whom RKO brought out for "Joan of Paris," is being shared by Warners and will be Bette Davis' leading man in "Now, Voyager." He'll do two pix a year for RKO, two for Warners. . . . Claude Rains returns for a rôle in "Voyager." . . . Columbia has signed Jeff Donnell—a girl!—and will test her for one of the rôles in "My Sister Eileen." She's from Yale drama classes and the straw hats and Max Gordon found her in Rye Beach, N. H.

CHICAGO VOTED TEN YEAR PRO, ALL-STAR PACT

Tribune Assured Long Grid Series.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Elmer Layden.

New York, March 27.—The owners of the National Football league today voted to empower Elmer Layden, commissioner of the league, to enter into a 10 year contract with the Chicago Tribune Charities, Inc., for the annual presentation of an All-Star game in Chicago against the champions of the league. The contract will include exclusive permission, after the All-Star college game in 1942 with the Chicago Bears, for presentation of an All-Service team against the pro champions if collegiate material is not available.

The 10 year contract, with the exclusive clause for service games, was suggested recently in a letter to Layden from Arch Ward, sports editor of THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE, who has directed Chicago's National league-College All-Star games since their inception in 1934. Today's league action followed.

Annual Spectacle Assured.

Plans have been made for the 1942 College All-Star game against the Chicago Bears next August. The same series, awarded The Chicago Tribune Charities, Inc., under an original five year contract, will be presented, if possible, with College All-Stars. However, by today's vote of the National league owners, if college material is not available, the annual game which last year attracted nearly 100,000 to Soldiers' field may be continued under exclusive direction of THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE with football men from the service.

The 10 year contract which Layden has been empowered to draw up also will include a clause that will extend the life of the agreement should it be impossible to hold the games consecutively. In short, if war conditions should prevent the All-Star games for three years, for example, the 10 year contract for a college or service game sponsored by the Chicago Tribune Charities will be extended three years. Other phases of the contract will be identical to the one now in force.

Propose Relief Fund Games.

Col. Curtis Mitchell and Col. John Thomas Taylor of the Army Emergency Relief fund addressed the league owners today with a suggestion that the professional teams play an All-American army team this fall. The National league indicated willingness to do so. Lieut. Com. Leslie P. Jacobs, representing the Navy Relief fund, also addressed the owners' meeting in the interest of that charity.

The club owners voted that each team would play a service team, if available, or an exhibition game against another National league club before the season or on an open date and that the proceeds of these 10 games will be given to war charities. These charities were not designated and thus could include the Red Cross or similar organizations.

The owners also decided that the proceeds, after expenses, of the annual game between the All-Star pro eleven and the National league champions, will be given to the Army and Navy relief funds.

The club owners also unanimously adopted a resolution approving the administration of Layden.

Halas Joins Committee.

The owners also tightened up the rules governing relationship between the National league and the minor professional leagues. Agreements must be filed with the commissioner and the program will be supervised by Commissioner Layden.

George Halas, owner and coach of the Chicago Bears, was elected to the executive committee of the league in place of Dan Reeves of Cleveland, who was filling out the unexpired term of Eddie Burch, former Cleveland owner.

Bert Bell of Pittsburgh was elected to replace George Marshall of Washington. Other members of the executive committee are Fred Mandel, Detroit Lions, and Alex Thompson, Philadelphia Eagles.

MITCHELL UPSETS DODDS IN MILE AT K. C. MEET

Cleveland, O., March 27.—(AP)—Indiana university's Earl Mitchell upset Gilbert Dodds of the Boston A. C. in the mile run at the Knights of Columbus track meet tonight. Dodds led until Mitchell half of the last lap had been run. The time was 4 minutes 10.7 seconds.

Greg Rice took his 48th consecutive two mile race, doing the grind in 8:55.1. Fred Wilt of Indiana university and Joe McClusky of New York followed some distance behind.

John Borican easily out-distanced his Indiana university rival, Campbell Kane, in the 1,000 yard run. Borican's time was 2:11.2, well above his own world record of 2:08.8.

In the Wake of the News

BY ARCH WARD.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

NEW YORK, March 27.—The domestic manners of Trainer Andy Lotshaw of the Cubs are well nigh perfect. . . . The 62 year old doctor was married at the tender age of 16. . . . Willie Kamm, once sold to the White Sox for $100,000 in real American money, is still in deep mourning over the loss of his investment in the Golden Gate race track near San Francisco about a year ago. . . . Tulane probably is the only university in the land where a father is trainer of his son's football team. . . . "Little Monk" Simons, who has succeeded Red Dawson as the Green Wave's gridiron leader, once was the team's mascot. . . . He was practically reared on the campus where his dad has been identified with Tulane as basketball coach, track coach, boxing coach, and trainer for years. . . . Nelson Norgren of the University of Chicago says basketball is the greatest of all sports in training young men to become aviators. . . . "The coördination of hands and eyes and balance are basketball requisites that are useful in aviation," he states. . . . By the way, does any one know what became of Vice President Garner? . . . Seattle players must have passes to gain admission to their own ball park. . . . The city-owned diamond is the center of a large park which has been converted into a field artillery camp. . . . Al Couppee, University of Iowa football back whose consistent work was a feature of the 1942 East-West game in New Orleans, is a candidate for the Hawkeye baseball team. . . . He won his way to Chicago's Golden Gloves Tournament of Champions as Moline's heavyweight representative. . . .

Harry Grabiner, vice president of the White Sox, recently received a telegram from Bill De Witt, business manager of the St. Louis Browns, who wanted to know how much the Sox would take for Don Kolloway. . . . The Browns wanted him for their Toledo club. . . . Grabiner wired back the suggestion that the Browns buy Joe DiMaggio and send him to Toledo. . . . Mike Kreevich, traded by the White Sox last winter with Jack Hallett for Wally Moses, is causing the Athletics some anxiety. . . . He is barely able to heave a ball from center field to second base. . . . Bob Ufer of Michigan, who recently established a world's record for the 440 yard dash, has just received a new honor. . . . Chefs at the Michigan Union cafeteria have named a sandwich for him. . . . It is called the "440 Special." . . . Ufer works for his meals at the Union. . . . The Cubs' leading hitter in 1909 was Circus Solly Hofman, whose average was .285. . . . Frank Schulte and Joe Tinker each hit four home runs and Frank Chance stole 29 bases. . . . Mordecai Brown was the pitching ace with 27 victories and 9 defeats. . . . Pat Dougherty led the White Sox hitters for the third straight year with a percentage of .285. . . . Nobody on the club hit more than one home run. . . . Dougherty topped the base stealers with 36 and Smith was the pitching star with 25 wins and 17 defeats.

Communion Rail.

At the early mass in an olden church
Just hard beside the way,
Where faithful souls were gathered in prayer
In the hush of the morning gray;
Two figures moving forward
Quietly passed my pew,
One was a boy in uniform,
The other his mother, you knew.

As they knelt there at the Communion rail,
Reverently, side by side,
In the light of the flickering candles
Where peace and quiet abide;
They etched a picture before my eyes
Which nothing will ever efface,
A poignant still life of faith and trust
Which no time nor years will efface.

There at the feet of that figure dim
On that cross on Calvary's height,
Another mother was giving her son
To truth and justice and right;
And that vivid picture at dawning
Will never, never pale,
That kneeling mother and soldier son
There at the altar rail!

PIRATES SCORE 3 IN 8TH; BEAT SOX 3D STRAIGHT, 4-1

Lanning and Klinger Yield Only Three Hits.

BY IRVING VAUGHAN.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Long Beach, Cal., March 27.—Prof. James Dykes' White Sox did the best they could this afternoon about deflating Frankie Frisch's Pirates, who have been raising ned in the citrus league. The Sox wouldn't do quite enough to serve their purpose, so they flopped by 4 to 1, marking the third straight setback in their spring commerce with Pittsburgh. Just by way of aggravation, two Pirate hurlers yielded only three hits.

It wasn't so much the pitching as a few other things that undid all the Sox's plans for removing the smug look from Frankie's face. John Rigney labored smoothly thru five innings on three hits but was forced to surrender a run because of a boot by Leo Wells, who is shortstopping for the time being in place of Luke Appling. Then Bill Dietrich came in at the start of the sixth with a 1 to 1 tie existing, but bespectacled Bill fell apart more or less in the eighth when his fielding helpers wabbled. Three runs and the decision blossomed from this episode.

Sox Lack Punch.

All of the Sox hits were made during the six inning term of Bob Klinger. One of them, by Taft Wright, was good for the tying run in the fourth. John Lanning held the Sox to a pass in the last three innings. The three safe clouts today, added to the five the Sox harvested off Max Butcher and Ken Heintzelman two days ago, do not make an imposing total, but there is another way of looking at it. Frisch is a training camp slave driver, so his pitching gentlemen are now dispensing wares that Frisch probably will be looking for later in the summer.

The first couple of innings provided some exceedingly tough picking for all parties concerned. All the Pirates collected in the first was a pass, but, in their behalf, it should be pointed out that Wally Moses captured a pair of flies only after some mad sprinting. In the second they fell heir to a single and pass, but not until after two were out, so the threat was easily eliminated. Don Kolloway opened for the Sox with a pass, but died in his tracks, and in the second Myril Hoag came thru with the first hit off Klinger. The hit only meant a double play on Bob Kennedy's tap to Frank Gustine.

Tresh Helps the Enemy.

The Pirates got into position to score in the third when a fly ball by Alf Anderson plunked onto the skinned field in left for a double. Mike Tresh tried to get Rigney out of this slight difficulty by picking Andy off second, and, while the idea was all right, the execution was faulty. Mike heaved the ball into center field, so Anderson drifted over to third base, whence he scored while Kolloway was tossing out John Barrett.

After two were out in the Sox

Nicholson, Hack Blast Homers as Cubs Defeat Angels, 5 to 3

BY EDWARD BURNS.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Los Angeles, Cal., March 27.—Stan Hack's fourth inning homer was the fourth and essential run in the Cubs' 5 to 3 victory over the Los Angeles Angels here this afternoon, but just to make things more comfortable for Rookie Pitcher Russ Meers, Bill Nicholson also smashed a homer in the ninth.

Paul Geehrman, a husky right hander from Birmingham who was briefly with the Cincinnati Reds two years ago, pitched all the way for the Angels in their first home appearance of the year and held the Cubs to nine hits.

Besides the homers of Hack and Nicholson, there were doubles by Cy Block and Lou Novikoff. Block's smack drove in the Cubs' first run.

Meers, who left the Cubs after the game to go to his sick father in Tilton, Ill., was preceded on the mound by Jess Flores. The Mexican slim man yielded four hits, all singles, the same number made off Meers, who would not have been scored upon if Charley Gilbert had displayed his usual skill in center field.

One Wobbly Inning.

The first of Flores' five innings was the only wobbly one, and it didn't get that way until after the first two batsmen had supplied infield outs. With those first two gents out of the way, Fay Starr lined a single to right, Eddie Mayo walked and the bases were loaded after Fern Bell beat out an infield single.

Flores then walked Gil Campbell, forcing Starr across the plate. Whitey Platt forced Mayo on a grounder to Hack and Flores was out of trouble for the day. Among other defensive accomplishments, Flores struck out two batsmen in the second inning, also the last two batsmen to face him in the fifth.

The Cubs scored a run and left the bases loaded in their first inning. With one out, Gilbert walked and scored on Block's double. Nicholson walked, Novikoff fanned and Phil Cavarretta walked, loading the bases. Then Clyde McCullough flied to Starr.

Hack Blasts Homer.

Singles by Gilbert, Nicholson, and Cavarretta, complicated by two errors by Platt, gave the Cubs two runs in the third and in the fourth Hack's homer afforded the Cubs a 4 to 1 lead.

Meers got thru the sixth inning without difficulty but was speared for a couple of runs in the seventh.

A couple of passes and a single loaded the bases, then Gilbert misjudged Starr's fly and let it plop for a single, two runs scoring. However, Gilbert quickly retrieved the ball and Starr was retired trying to get to second, Gilbert to Meers to Block. The last score of the game was Nicholson's homer, made at the start of the ninth.

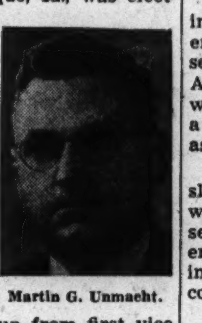
ABC TOURNAMENT GOES WEST IN '44 TO LOS ANGELES

BY C. H. BEUKEMA.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]



Martin G. Unmacht.

Columbus, O., March 27.—Martin G. Unmacht of Dubuque, Ia., was elected president and Los Angeles, Cal., was awarded the 1944 tournament during the annual business meeting of the American Bowling congress today.

Unmacht's election carried out the usual succession of the ABC, the Dubuque man being moved up from first vice president. With one exception, all officers were moved up, and Carl Haslanger of South Bend, Ind., former member of the executive committee, was moved into the eighth vice presidency.

Accept Lloyd's Invitation.

Choice of Los Angeles as the 1944 tournament city, thereby sending the event to the west coast for the first time, was brought about largely by the personal invitation extended by Harold Lloyd, film figure and co-owner of a Santa Monica bowling center with Ned Day and Hank Marino. Previous to Lloyd's appearance, it had been expected that Indianapolis would be awarded the event. In the vote, however, Los Angeles polled 278 votes, Indianapolis 154, and San Francisco 64. The 1943 tournament will be held in Buffalo, N. Y.

Two Chicagoans, Albert M. Lea and S. J. Owens, were returned to the executive committee. New members added to that group were B. C. Brooks, Minneapolis, Minn.; Paul

18,200 CHEER CHAMP'S 21ST TITLE DEFENSE

Bell Saves Abe in Second and Fifth.

BY WILFRID SMITH.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, March 27.—Joe Louis Barrow, a private in Uncle Sam's army, still is the heavyweight champion of professional pugilism. Tonight in Madison Square Garden, before a near capacity throng that cheered him until the tumultuous acclaim bounded from the steel rafters, Louis made his 21st successful defense of the title he won nearly five years ago.

Six seconds after the start of the sixth round the champion stretched giant Abe Simon in a neutral corner helpless. While Simon rolled his bulk over to a kneeling position, he wobbled to his feet after Referee Eddie Josephs had counted the climactic "ten." There could be no question of the knockout, but Simon, courageous thruout a brutal beating, insisted in vain that he should be permitted to continue.

Three Strikes and Out.

The attendance was 18,200, exceeding advance estimates by 3,000, and gross receipts were $132,430.41.

Few pugilists ever have taken the punishment the Bomber meted out tonight. The challenger was down three times.

The bell rang as Abe fell to his knees at the end of the second round. And Simon was prone in his corner when the bell again terminated the count at four seconds.

Louis laid the foundation for the knockout in the fifth round. In this three minute session Simon was a nearly stationary target, as stationary as rubber legs and a rolling, helpless gait would permit. Louis swung with a short left hook. He met the point of Simon's chin sharply and accurately. That inaugurated an attack more furious than we ever have seen.

The Beginning of the End.

Louis swung vicious lefts and he matched each with a right cross that jerked the challenger's head as if he had come up short at the end of a rope. Again and again Joe hammered to the face. It was impossible to count the number of blows. This was the end, altho the bell at the count of four gave him a brief reprieve.

Simon was courageous. More important, his 255½ pounds provided a cushion for a score of blows, any one of which would have felled a lighter man. Despite Simon's ability to stand up to his beating, there was no doubt of the outcome. As the champion has done against all men who have met him a second time, he won more quickly. A year ago in Detroit Simon lost by a technical knockout to the Bomber in 13 rounds. It had been his proudest boast since that Louis had not had him off his feet at the time of the decision.

Louis tonight chose to start cautiously against his gargantuan opponent. Abe made the champion's task more difficult by continuous retreat. Simon also showed an agility that belied his weight and on a few occasions he taunted Louis with a long flickering left that did no damage.

It Was Too Easy.

Louis won the first round easily by a series of three short left hooks, and a concluding pair of solid rights. Joe missed with a third and the power behind the swing pulled him to the floor, his gloves barely touching before he came up erect.

A thundering left hook, delivered in his own corner, gave the challenger a foretaste of punishment in the second round. This punch staggered Abe off balance for the first time. It was prelude to an assault ending with a right that sent Simon to his knees as the bell clanged.

The third round was fought at a slower tempo. Louis scored twice with uppercuts, but the huge Simon seemed impervious to the blows. Referee Josephs warned Simon for striking low and quite unnecessarily at the conclusion awarded the round to Joe.

Simon was the aggressor in the fourth round, protected by his weight when in close quarters. Louis made no effort to fight in the clinches. Then came the decisive fifth, when Simon, his strength gone, was a wavering punching bag for the champion's furious smashes.

First Soldier Champion.

Louis is the first heavyweight champion to defend his title while in the military service of his country. Tonight he gave his share of the receipts to the Army Emergency Relief fund as he had contributed his earnings Jan. 9 in the Buddy Baer championship bout to the Navy Relief fund. To this amount, as in January, were added the promotional profit and 2½ per cent of the challenger's purse.

A controversy came up as soon as the fight was over, with Simon and his manager, Jimmy Johnston, insisting he was on his feet by "ten," and Referee Josephs contending he hadn't quite made it. Later Johnston announced he would appear before the New York state athletic commission next Tuesday and demand that Josephs' refereeing license be lifted.

GOLDEN GLOVERS FIGHT IT OUT FOR ALTERNATE POSTS

Chicago's No. 2's May Whip New York.

BY HOWARD BARRY.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, March 27.—The struggle for fighting assignments on Chicago's Golden Gloves team reached a new peak of intensity this afternoon as every boy on the squad of 28 slugged away in an effort to earn the coaches' approval. Only 16 boxers will be in each lineup Monday night when Chicago meets New York in Madison Square Garden in the 15th annual Intercity matches. And there isn't a boy on the squad who has given up hope of getting into the ring.

Coach Johnny Behr and his assistants face a particularly difficult task this year in picking the team because seldom before has Chicago had so much strength in the No. 2 positions. Under the rules of Intercity competition, champion must fight champion in each weight class, but the alternate bout counts just as much in the final score.

A Problem of Selection.

The champions, such as Bob Burns, Morris Corona, Hubert Hood, and others, are conceded an excellent chance of taking care of themselves against New York's top men, but in the alternate positions, Chicago has quite a few youngsters who may have it in them to sway the eventual outcome to a victory for their team.

Just when Harold Dade was considered a standout for the 118 pound alternate assignment, along came Charles Riley of St. Louis to make it tough for him. These two have been putting on some of the most spectacular intrasquad sparring sessions which Stillman's gymnasium has seen in many seasons. It's still a tossup which one the coaching staff will pick.

Then there's Marvin Bryant of Fort Worth, Joe Krulitz of Milwaukee and Pete Mead of Grand Rapids hammering away for the No. 2 spot in the Welterweight class.

The battle for the position of heavyweight alternate is a slam bang affair between James Olcott Phillips of Fort Worth and Willard Reed of Indianapolis.

Stephens Is a Slugger.

Harry Stephens of Chicago and Forrest Gee of Milwauke have the coaches in a quandary as to the choice in the middleweight class. Stephens, who fights from a southpaw stance has tremendous body punching power and knocked out one opponent after another until Benny McCombe of Grand Rapids proved too clever to be hit in the semi-finals.

No matter whom the coaches choose for the various places, Chicago is assured of sending a rugged, well balanced team into this 15th intercity show in an effort to prolong the string of victories and ties which have run since 1934 without being broken by a defeat.

Strong Field Seeks Titles in Oak Park Meet

Outstanding high school track stars in the Chicagoland area will compete in the 12th annual Oak Park relays this afternoon and evening in the Oak Park fieldhouse.

The host school, defending title holder and recent winner of the Suburban league indoor championship, will be bidding for its eighth crown since the inception of the meet in 1931. The entry list includes:

Austin, Bensenville, Bowen, Calumet, Crane, Crystal Lake, Du Sable, Elgin, Englewood, Evanston, Geneva, Glenbard, Highland Park, Hyde Park, Joliet, La Grange, Lane, Leyden, Libertyville, Lindblom, Maine, Naperville, New Trier, Niles, Oak Park, Palatine, Pekin, Princeton, Proviso, Riverside, East and West Rockford, Schurz, Steinmetz, Sullivan, Tilden, Wheaton, and York.

At least two new records are in danger. In the shot put event one of the outstanding contenders is Phil Durant of Wheaton. The meet record of 53 feet 4½ inches is held jointly by Faymonville of New Trier, made in 1935, and Stephen of Joliet in 1932. In competition this season Durant has tossed the shot 53 feet.

In 1933 Bob Grieve, one of the greatest track stars ever developed at Glenbard, ran the 50 yard dash in :05.4 for a meet record. This mark was tied by Packard of Rockford two years later. In the recent Suburban league indoor meet Bob Nussbaumer, Oak Park football and track star, covered the distance in :05.5.

The meet will consist of eight individual events and four relays. The relays are two mile, eight lap, sprint medley, and four lap. Preliminaries are scheduled for 2 p. m., and the finals for 7:30 p. m.

DAVENPORT AND OTTUMWA GAIN IOWA PREP FINAL

Des Moines, Ia., March 27 (AP).—Davenport's defending champions and Ottumwa entered the final round of the Iowa High School basketball tournament tonight. Davenport defeated Nevada, 37 to 24. Ottumwa beat Spirit Lake, 25 to 24.

Nevada was the only Iowa team to defeat Davenport during the regular season. For two quarters it seemed Nevada would repeat. Nevada led, 14 to 13, at the half.

CDGA Draws Big Schedule for Summer

The tournament committee of the Chicago District Golf association, which this year faces the busiest schedule ever confronting a sectional organization, last night set a record for speedy disposition of business.

In one hour's time, Chairman F. M. [Ted] Quinn of Big Foot and his associates completed the usually difficult chore of allotting dates and sites for all important CDGA events for 1942. As a result, the district's competitive calendar is complete at the earliest date in recent years.

Had Sound Foundation.

The committee went into last night's meeting with a good foundation from a previous meeting, in which plans for the Hale America National Open at Ridgemoor, the Illinois state at Peoria, and the Great Lakes Amateur were fairly well established. These had been arranged at a conference of Quinn and his vice chairmen—F. Ray Bowen of Park Ridge, Robert Emery of Big Foot, Frank Haggarty Jr. of Evanston, and Dr. John Walters of Kildeer. Last night's rapid doings settled the program definitely. The schedule follows:

May 25—Qualifying rounds, Hale America National Open, at Olympia Fields. [Similar downstate trials will be held at Rockford C. C.; Quincy C. C., and Decatur's South Side club.]

June 6-7—Hale America National Open semi-final rounds [54 holes] at a Milwaukee district course to be named later.

June 12—One day handicap event at Lake Shore.

June 18-21—Hale America National Open at Ridgemoor.

June 26—Champion of Champions event at Park Ridge.

June 29—CDGA-Illinois PGA Pro-Amateur at Tam o' Shanter.

July 6—Caddie championship at Northmoor.

July 9—Midlothian Pater-Filius.

July 10—One day handicap event at Big Foot.

July 20-26—Tam o' Shanter Open and All-American Amateur at Tam o' Shanter.

July 27-30—Junior Open event at Edgewood Valley.

Aug. 3-6—Junior Closed event at Medinah.

Aug. 14—Illinois Southpaws' tourney at Evanston.

Aug. 17-20—Great Lakes amateur at Knollwood.

Aug. 28—One day handicap event at Flossmoor.

Sept. 10-13—Illinois State amateur at Mount Hawley, Peoria.

Sept. 16—Interleague championship at Beverly.

Sept. 18—Club Relations' annual day at Skokie.

Sept. 30—One day handicap event at Oak Park.

The actual site of the Hale America semi-finals on June 6 and 7 will be determined by the Milwaukee association. This phase of the tournament was moved from the Chicago district when officials realized that they would be busy at that time with a multitude of details leading to the tournament proper at Ridgemoor. Larry Rutherford of Medinah, CDGA vice president and the CDGA's co-chairman of the Hale America committee, said that 50% of the net proceeds would be turned over to the Army Emergency Relief fund and 50% to the Navy Relief society.

Dartmouth and Stanford Fives Battle Tonight

Kansas City, Mo., March 27 [Special].—Illinois may be out of the National Collegiate Athletic Association's Basketball tournament which reaches a climax here tomorrow night in the final between Stanford and Dartmouth, but Illinois boys are very much in the picture.

Jim Olsen, one of Dartmouth's stars, learned his basketball with the Glenbard, Ill., high school quintet of a few seasons ago, and George Munroe, another Big Green star player, prepped at Joliet, Ill.

He's Taking No Chances.

Advance sale of tickets for tomorrow night's championship game, which starts at 8:30 o'clock central war time, indicates that more than 9,000 fans will be in the Municipal stadium for the tipoff.

Everett Dean, coach of the Stanford quintet, is taking no chances. He has set a 1 o'clock curfew for members of his team and sees to it that it is strictly enforced. Dean remembers what Wisconsin did to Washington State last year after the Pacific coast team had been dined and feted for almost a week before the game.

Dartmouth's Right at Home.

Stanford is a slight favorite because of its height advantage. But Dartmouth has shown consistent scoring power thruout the season. Munroe and Olsen have sparked the team's offensive with averages of better than 15 points each in leading Dartmouth to 22 victories in 25 games.

Dartmouth's team is perfectly at home in the middle west. In addition to Munroe and Olsen the three other starters are from this area, two from Minnesota and one from Ohio.

Chrysler Team Quits; Sparta Cup Game Off

Detroit, Mich., March 27 [Special].—Detroit Chrysler's soccer team, faced with an ultimatum from the United States Football association to replay the national open cup game with Sparta in Chicago Sunday, has voted to disband and withdraw from all soccer competition, William Hay, the team's secretary, announced today.

Hay explained the action was taken after the USFA refused a request for postponement of the game. While the Chrysler club felt that it had received unfair treatment in the first place by the club committee, Hay said, turning down of the request for more time proved to be the final blow.

Says Sparta Knew Rules.

"James Armstrong, secretary of the USFA, sent me a telegram in which he stated that failure to appear in Chicago would mean forfeiture of the game and also would result in further drastic action," Hay said. "In view of this attitude, much as we regret it, we have decided to disband the team and withdraw from all soccer competition."

The Chrysler-Sparta controversy revolved around the Chicago team's refusal to play to a decision in a game here two weeks ago. The Sparta team walked off the field after one-half hour overtime period, contending that the Chryslers had refused to play to a finish in an earlier game at Chicago.

No Seven Day Notice.

"We played one-half hour extra session in Chicago," Hay said, "and that's all we were asked to play. But the game here was to have been to a finish and the USFA instructed Referee Jack Wilson to that effect. The Sparta team knew that before the game started. Thus, the USFA's order for a replay seemed to be unjustified in the first place."

Hay said the request for a postponement this week was asked because the club couldn't possibly get all its men off defense jobs at such short notice. He said the USFA rules provide for at least a seven day notice but that the Chrysler club had learned only Tuesday that it had to go to Chicago this Sunday.

Disbanding of the Chrysler team removes one of the best clubs in Detroit history from the sport and moves Sparta into the western semifinals of the National Open tournament.

Dog Show to Open Today in Amphitheater

BY BOB BECKER.

Cocker spaniels, retrievers, dachshunds, and St. Bernards will be the major breeds to be judged this morning in the opening sessions of the annual International Kennel club dog show in the International amphitheater, 43d and Halsted streets.

These breeds will be called into the judging rings at 10 o'clock this morning, when the show officially opens its doors to Chicagoland dog fanciers. With 1,445 dogs of 79 different breeds entered, the two day show promises to be an unusual treat for dog lovers.

Many Bloodhounds Entered.

Entries have come from scores of states. Among the rather unusual breeds in this year's show, one that the average dog fancier does not see often, is the bloodhound. Several exhibitors are bringing bloodhounds from as far west as California in order to compete.

Today's judging will continue until about 10 o'clock tonight. Tomorrow the show will again open at 10 a. m. and continue thru tomorrow evening, when the best dog in the show will be picked by Mrs. M. Hartley Dodge of Madison, N. J.

Also on this morning's opening session will be the novice A class of the obedience competition sponsored by THE TRIBUNE, with Josef Weber of Princeton, N. J., judging. In this afternoon period of obedience judging, on the second floor of the south wing of the amphitheater, Weber will judge seven dogs entered in the open A class.

Other feature events on today's schedule include the children's handling classes at 4:30 and the ladies' stakes of the indoor field trials at 1 o'clock.

Whippet Races on Program.

Whippet racing, a dog feature never before seen in a Chicago show, will be held in the north wing of the ampitheater this afternoon and tomorrow. Twenty of these miniature greyhounds will compete in 100 yard races, the winners to qualify for final heats tomorrow afternoon. Today's races will start at 4 o'clock.

Other features on today's program are as follows:

WALTONS DECRY U. S. PLANS FOR $87,000,000 DAM

'You Can't Shoot 'Em at Japs,' They Say.

Members of the Izaak Walton League of America who have been assembled in the La Salle hotel since Thursday for their 20th annual convention yesterday delivered another blast at pork barrel appropriations by congress and wasteful wartime spending, when they asked the house to kill a bill for the construction of 87 million dollars worth of new dams in the famous White river of Arkansas.

Kenneth A. Reid, executive secretary of the league, told convention delegates that the idea of spending 87 million dollars for the Bull Shoals and Table Rock dams in the White river, one of the Ozarks' most beautiful streams, supposedly was a "flood control measure." "Now," said Reid, "it's being called a war measure. Actually, it's pure pork that will sabotage America's war effort by an important diversion of money, man power, and materials."

You Can't Shoot Dams.

In calling upon sportsmen everywhere to protest against this bill, Reid told the convention that America "can't shoot concrete dams of the future at the Japs and the Germans" and the country might better use the 87 million dollars for tanks, planes, and armament.

That the fishermen of America who usually spend more than a billion dollars a year on their sport are going to continue to fish in order to get relaxation from arduous war work, was the concensus of many Waltonians who attended the convention.

Several tackle manufacturers who were at the convention reported unusually heavy sales of fishing equipment during the first three months of 1942. D. Stuart Pritchard of the South Bend Bait company reported that in Indiana and Illinois alone tackle sales of his company were up 58 per cent, with fishermen buying so heavily that stocks are being depleted in many stores.

Oscar Weber, president of the Weber Lifelike Fly company, Stevens Point, Wis., and member of the executive board of the Izaak Walton league, said that despite the shortage of tires and the fact that fishermen won't run around by car very much this summer, sales of fly fishing equipment have been so heavy that every indication points to a big fishing year.

Convention Closes Today.

The league convention will close at noon today. Membership in the national organization now is higher than at any time in recent years, according to a report made to the delegates yesterday.

Ivar Hennings of South Bend, Ind., was elected national president of the league yesterday. Other officers elected were: Vice presidents, W. L. Finley, Portland, Ore.; Dr. Lewis Radcliffe, Washington, D. C.; John C. Gregory, Fullerton, Cal.; C. R. Hallovell, Dubuque, Ia., and John P. Rhoda, Reading, Pa. Harry F. Harper of Lansing, Mich., was chosen national treasurer, and William D. Cox of Chicago elected secretary.

The Four Seasons of Life.

In the springtime of life we are children,
Joyous, happy, and gay.
We are unaware of sorrow and care,
And blithely romp and play.

In the summer of life we enjoy youth
Devoid of gnawing fears.
With singing, dancing, and sweet romancing
We while away the years.

But summer ends, autumn comes and we learn
Of suffering and care,
And each passing day quickly speeds away,
As silver tints our hair.

Winter brings age and the Angel of death
To end our earthly strife,
But this end is the beginning, my friend,
Of everlasting life.

Reward.

One was a perfect athlete on the field
Who won the plaudits of the multitudes;
The other lay in bed, his joints congealed,
Nor let affliction quench his cheerful mood;
And while the first rose daily to success,
Winning a home, a wife and luxury,
The other lived in pain and wretchedness
And felt the wasting pangs of poverty.

If there were no hereafter where the Lord
Could equal these unequal things of earth,
If both of these received the same reward,
What would our sufferings and tears be worth?
But God has pledged a hundredfold to those
Who patiently and meekly bear life's woes.

ILLINOIS GYM TEAM SEEKS 2D NATIONAL TITLE

Annapolis, Md., March 27 [Special].—Illinois' gymnasts, Big Ten champions, will defend their title tomorrow in the National Collegiate Athletic association meet in the Naval academy gymnasium.

Courtney and Earl Shanken, twin brothers from the University of Chicago, will make a strong bid for titles in the six individual events. Courtney will defend his all-around title and rope climb honors and is entered in both bar events, side and long horse and rings. Earl, the long horse champion, also will compete in the side horse and horizontal bar.

Caton Cobb of Illinois, last year's champion on the parallel bars and side horse, is entered for the all-around, and will also perform on the long horse, rings, and tumbling. Other Illinois entries are: L. R. Fina and J. L. Adkins, both horses, the bars, and tumbling; G. A. Watson, parallel bars and rings, and O. J. Phillips in the tumbling.

HAWKS DUE HOME TODAY FOR THEIR BREAKUP MEETING

McLaughlin Is Uncertain of Game's Future.

BY CHARLES BARTLETT.

The Chicago Blackhawks, who did themselves proud in their phase of the Stanley cup playoffs for all that they lost it, will arrive home this morning for a farewell gathering in the club offices before heading for their respective homes.

How many of these same Hawks will answer roll call when the next National Hockey league season, if any, arrives, will rest with other and more important doings going on in Australia, Bataan, and Russia. It may well be that a number of them will have answered roll call in army uniforms by that time.

Future Is Uncertain.

"The future of ice hockey? If you can tell me the future of this war, I'll be happy to answer that question," Maj. Frederic McLaughlin, chief stockholder and chairman of the board of directors of the Blackhawks, said yesterday when queried as to what the next few months might hold for the game. The uncertainties of the present situation, particularly in Canada, where conscription is now in prospect, are too numerous to gauge the sport's future as of next November, he said. He added that the effect of the war on the game undoubtedly will provide the major topic at the annual spring meeting of the league's governors, who are expected to convene in Toronto in May.

Maj. McLaughlin already has enlisted the services of the Hawks in aiding the war effort next season. A week ago today he announced that all home profits of the Blackhawks would be turned over to a war relief cause, if possible, creating a special fund for the support of the dependents of United States and Canadian soldiers and sailors.

Believe It'll Go On.

The officials of the league already have conducted a survey of all sports in relation to the war, and the consensus now is that the game will continue to function. They base their convictions on the recent statements of President Roosevelt; Prime Minister Mackenzie King, and Sir Stafford Cripps of England. All three feel that sports should continue wherever they do not hamper the war effort, on the grounds that sports and the relaxation and entertainment afforded by them are vital to sustaining morale.

Four of the Hawks are unmarried. They are John Mariucci, former Minnesota football player, who plans to wed in June, and three residents of Winnipeg—Joe Cooper, Bill Mosienko, and Alex Kaleta. Hawk officials, however, point out that because of the strenuous nature of hockey and the physical condition required by the game even the married players might be subject to Canadian conscription if it comes to pass.

The fourth game in the first place Stanley Cup playoff series between the Toronto Maple Leafs and the New York Rangers will be played tonight in Toronto. The fifth game will be played tomorrow night in New York. The Boston Bruins and Detroit Red Wings, meanwhile, will open their semi-final playoffs tomorrow night on Boston ice.

Los Angeles Awarded '44 ABC Tourney

Chicago Bids for 1950.

The list of cities extending invitations for future tournaments of the organization included Chicago, which put in a bid for the golden jubilee event, to be held in 1950. The first tournament was held in Chicago in 1901.

Milton Raymer, teacher at Tilden Tech, Chicago, and secretary of the American High School Bowling congress, announced his organization is to hold its first tournament, a telegraphic event, April 4. More than 250 teams will compete in the tourney as representatives of 14 states. Winner in the boys' section will be awarded with an ABC date on May 2. The girls' winner will take part in the Women's International Bowling congress tournament May 29. The women's event will be held in Milwaukee.

Takes All Events Lead.

While the business session was under way Walter Frye of Cleveland scattered the pins for a nine game total of 1,964 to take first place in the all-events. Bowling with the Hanna Grill squad which placed fifth in the team event with 2,966, Frye blasted out 698 last night, then came back for 653 in the doubles and 613 in the singles.

Harry Larsen and Gilbert Zook of Hinsdale, Ill., took over sixth place in the doubles with a 1,287. Larsen rolled 652 and Zook 635. Another Hinsdale bowler, Samuel Clineff, shot a 685 for 11th position in the singles standings. Chicago team scores:

Edelweiss 2,820; Playdium, 2,816; Alley Recreation, 2,704; Budweiser [Gold Coast], 2,607; Gold Coast Recreation, 2,598.

A new record high of $253,930 will be distributed in prizes for this tournament, it was announced. Total receipts were $380,895, with $126,965 of that sum going for current expenses. Largest previous high in prizes was the $240,827 at Detroit two years ago.

Yankees Beat Newark Farm Club, 3 to 1

St. Petersburg, Fla., March 27 (AP).—Hank Borowy regained his pitching form today as the New York Yankees defeated their Newark farm team of the International league, 3 to 1, in eight innings. Borowy worked seven innings and gave up only one hit, a scratch single by Art Metheny in the fifth. He walked two of the 24 men he faced and fanned four. Rugger Ardizoia was tagged for the lone Newark run in the eighth.

Ed Levy's home run was the only Yankee tally off Al Gerhauser, but Ken Holcombe, who replaced him in the sixth, yielded two more on a pair of wild pitches, a pass, and an error by Frank Kelleher in the seventh. Score:

		R.	H.	E.
Newark	000 000 01—1	3	1
New York	010 000 2*—3	6	0

Batteries—Gerhause. Holcombe. and Padden; Borowy. Ardizoia. and Robinson.

PHILS BEAT BALTIMORE.

Hollywood, Fla., March 27 (AP).—The Philadelphia Phils turned back Baltimore of the International league, 4 to 2, today behind the excellent pitching of Johnny Podgajny and Sam Nahem.

Podgajny worked the first seven innings and gave the Orioles their first two hits and their pair of runs in the fifth on a pair of singles, a wild pitch, a long fly, and an infield out.

Danny Litwhiler's single and Nick Etten's double, coming after Danny Murtaugh walked in the fifth, gave the Phils two runs and clinched the decision.

Stan Benjamin, Phils' center fielder, injured his ankle when he tripped over first base in the seventh. He was forced to leave the game. Score:

Philadelphia	100 120 000—4	8	1
Baltimore	000 020 000—2	4	2

Batteries—Podgajny, Nahem and Livingston; Burkart, Flanagan and Becker, Kracher.

A'S SIGN CASTIGLIA.

San Francisco, Cal., March 27 (AP).—Jim Castiglia leaped to the major leagues today from his job as bullpen catcher.

The former Georgetown university star was signed to a player contract by Manager Connie Mack just before the Philadelphia Athletics lost a 4 to 1 game to the San Francisco Seals of the Pacific Coast league. Score:

Philadelphia	000 001 000—1	5	0
San Francisco	000 200 20*—4	8	0

Batteries—Marchildon, Wolff and Castiglia; Gibson, Epperly and Andrews.

The following exhibition games today were canceled by weather:

AT SANFORD, FLA.—New York [N.] vs. Boston [N.].
AT DELAND, FLA.—Detroit [A.] vs. St. Louis [A.].
AT DAYTONA BEACH, FLA.—St. Louis [N.] vs Brooklyn [N.].
AT TAMPA, FLA.—Boston [A.] vs. Cincinnati [N.].

RED HURLER JOINS ARMY.

Tampa, Fla., March 27 (AP).—The Cincinnati Reds' pitching staff was reduced to 13 today with word from Brooklyn that Rookie James Prendergast, southpaw who won 15 and lost 16 for Little Rock's second division club last year, had volunteered for army service, passed his physical examination and would be inducted April 1.

Pirates Get 3 in 8th; Beat White Sox, 4-1

fourth, Anderson decided to give back what he had taken from the Sox. He was offered a chance to retire the side on Wells' grounder, but booted it into the open territory behind third base, Wells taking second. Wright, who is so far behind in his spring hitting that he is not on speaking terms even with himself, promptly came to life with a single. Wells scoring. The Sox were presented with another opening when Gustine fumbled Joe Kuhel's grounder and Wells singled with two out in the sixth. This brought up Wright again, but this time he was suppressed on a long fly to Barrett.

Walk Starts Trouble.

Dietrich had one out in the eighth before receiving a tip that business was going to be bad. Jim Wasdell batted for Anderson and walked, after which Barrett singled. Bob Elliott grounded to Kennedy, and it might have led to a double killing, but the Sox third sacker fumbled, filling the bases. Culley Rikard, subbing for Vince DiMaggio, grounded to Wells for another possible double play, but only Elliott was retired, and, by the time the Sox had finished autographing the ball, Barrett had followed Wasdell across the plate. Rikard went to third on a single by Elbie Fletcher and rode to the plate on Dietrich's wild pitch.

The Sox climbed back into their bus after the game and headed for San Diego, where they are scheduled to work on the Coast league Padres over the week-end. Eddie Smith and Joe Haynes will pitch tomorrow and John Humphries and Lee Ross on Sunday.

Hi, Lieutenant!

MICKEY COCHRANE.

Cochrane Is Lieutenant in U.S.N.R. Now

Gordon Stanley [Mickey] Cochrane, former manager of the Detroit Tigers, yesterday was granted a commission as lieutenant in the United States naval reserve. He was ordered to active duty at the Great Lakes naval training station to assist in the navy's rapidly expanding physical development program.

As baseball supplants the highly successful basketball program, part of Cochrane's duties will be to set up an intramural softball system and direct the Great Lakes "varsity" baseball team thru its summer exhibition schedule.

Games with clubs in the American and National leagues, American association, service teams, and college squads in the 9th naval district are being planned.

Working under the station's athletic officer, Lieut. Comm. J. Russell Cook, Cochrane will coöperate with Paul D. [Tony] Hinkle, former athletic director, football and basketball coach at Butler university, and other sports figures in the year around physical program.

Passeau and Mooty to Face Pirates Today

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Los Angeles, Cal., March 27.—The Cubs are going to send two first string pitchers against the Pirates here tomorrow. Claude Passeau and Jake Mooty are the gents selected by Manager Jim Wilson. The "B" team will play the Hollywood Stars in Hollywood tomorrow.

Russ Meers, Cub rookie lefty, who set several records with Nashville last year, left the Cub camp after pitching in today's game for his home in Tilton, Ill. His father is seriously ill there. Russ has been considering enlistment in the navy and may not rejoin the Cubs, it was said.

Hundreds of sports lovers who have planned to go to the airport tonight to bid Cub General Manager James T. Gallagher bon voyage, abandoned the project when they learned of war restrictions at the flying field. Gallagher is scheduled to arrive in Chicago tomorrow morning at 9 o'clock.

Altho there were many rumors around regarding player releases, none had been made at the close of business today. Actual announcement may be withheld until after the week-end contests here and in Hollywood.

BARANOWSKI AND PEARSON RECEIVE KIZER TROPHIES

Henry [Babe] Baranowski of Leo and Mal Pearson of Senn last night received Noble E. Kizer athletic and scholarship awards at a Purdue alumni dinner in the Bismarck hotel. Dr. Charles Morey, president of Chicago Technical college, made the presentations.

Red Mackey, Purdue's new athletic director, and Elmer Burnham, new football coach, were guests of honor. The Kizer awards are made annually to outstanding athletes in the Catholic and Public School leagues.

CUB 'B' PLAYERS DOUBLE RAINIERS' 3 TO 1 SETBACK

San Bernardino, Cal., March 27 [Special].—The Chicago Cub B team scored two runs in the ninth inning to defeat the Seattle Rainiers, champions of the Pacific Coast league, 3 to 1, here today. Ki Cuyler used Walter Lanfranconi and Bob Bowman on the mound with the latter receiving credit for the victory.

Chicago	000 001 002—3	11	1
Seattle	100 000 000—1	8	0

Batteries—Lanfranconi, Bowman and Hernandez; Barrett, Budnick and Beards.

Yale Scores 38 Points to Lead in NCAA Swim

Table of Points

Yale	38	Dartmouth	2
Ohio State	22	North Carolina	2
Michigan	17	Minnesota	2
Northwestern	7	Occidental	2
Rutgers	6	Pennsylvania	1
Princeton	3

Cambridge, Mass., March 27 (AP).—Yale's powerful swimming team, regarded by eastern experts as the greatest ever assembled in intercollegiate ranks, performed up to expectations tonight as it piled up the high total of 38 points in the opening National Collegiate A. A. championship competition in the Harvard pool.

By scoring in each of the six first day events and winning three of them, the Elis managed to take a 16 points lead on Ohio State, the most threatening of their 29 widely scattered rivals.

Chouteau Retains Title.

Title defending Michigan, winner for the last eight years, stood third with 17 points and the other 10 scoring teams were Northwestern with seven, Rutgers with six, Harvard and Massachusetts State four each, Princeton three, Dartmouth, North Carolina, Minnesota and Occidental two each, and Pennsylvania with a single point.

Only one of the three 1941 winners was able to repeat. Yale's Rene Chouteau not only defended his 1,500 meter free style title but also collected a third place behind his captain, the supposedly invincible Howie Johnson, who surrendered his national collegiate 220 crown to Johnny Patten of Michigan. Patten set a new Harvard pool record of 2:10.

Yale Wins Medley Relay.

Yale's 300 yard medley relay trio, Danny Dannenbaum, Ed Davidge, and Ed Pope, dethroned Michigan, the 1941 winner, in easy fashion by putting together backstroke, breast stroke, and free style legs in 2:54.8.

Dannenbaum supplied the other Yale triumph with a 1:36.3 performance in the 150 yard breast stroke event. Ohio State's Frank Dempsey and Charles Batterman finished one-two in the one meter board dive, and Bob Amundsen of Northwestern gained the 50 yard free style title.

Summaries:

FINALS.

50 YARD FREE STYLE—Won by Amundsen, Northwestern; Hall, Massachusetts State, second; Burton, Michigan, third; F. Lilley, Yale, fourth; Hueber, Pennsylvania, fifth; Wenstrom, Iowa, sixth. Time, 23.4.

PUTTS LEFT AND DRIVES RIGHT; HIS 66 TOPS THOMSON

Greensboro, N. C., March 27 (AP).—Rod Munday, the Toledo, O., pro who believes seriously that putting should not count in golf, turned around and putted left handed today, and scored a record tying 66 to lead the opening round of the $5,500 Greensboro open.

Munday tried putting with a bicycle handlebar two years ago, and last season he tried a club with a 12 inch shaft, and still he couldn't win. But today, putting left handed on short shots and with a two faced club, he sank every one of his 13 southpaw attempts.

Iowa Regains College Rifle Championship

Table of Points

Iowa	1,372	Chicago	1,315
Wisconsin	1,370	Illinois	1,290
Minnesota	1,345	Rose Poly.	1,269
Washington U.	1,345	Lawrence Tech.	1,192
U. of Cincinnati	1,343	Highland Park Junior college	1,176
Ohio State	1,335

Iowa's Hawkeyes regained possession of the midwest collegiate rifle championship by shooting a team score of 1,372 in the opening event of the University of Chicago's seventh annual midwest rifle meet in the Midway fieldhouse yesterday. Wisconsin was second with 1,370.

With the collegiate brackets of the shooting completed the open division is scheduled to be in full swing today after a start last evening, and William Woodring, defending individual champion, will continue his title defense today and tomorrow. Firing today and tomorrow will begin at 7:30 a. m. and continue until 11:30 p. m.

Newman Leads Scorers.

Jack Newman, Minnesota junior, won the individual title with 285. Bob Kuch of Ohio State was second with 282, and Ted Pauley of Wisconsin third with 281. Gene Gleason of the Maroons, and George Valentine and Floyd Byrd, both of Cincinnati, all had 280 points, but Gleason was fourth, Byrd fifth, and Valentine sixth on the basis of scores fired from the standing position. Iowa's champions failed to place a single man in the first seven.

One of the five men comprising the championship Iowa team was Bob Pettit, brother of last year's midwest and national individual college champion, Virgil Pettit.

Minnesota Loses Title.

The Iowa marksmen unseated Minnesota's defending titleholders who tied for third with Washington university of St. Louis.

Emery Hawcock of Monmouth, Ill., who missed three shots in last year's meet to take fourth place, scored a perfect 400 points in the 50 yard, metal sight event last night to lead Woodring, who missed his first shot in three years of the meet in the 50 yard event with optional sights. Hawcock had 30 shots in the ex-ring in the center of the bull's eye. Woodring had 33.

At the completion of last night's four hours in a total of 36 hours of open firing in the meet, 15 of the entrants had perfect scores as far as they had gone. Besides Hawcock, these included:

Forrest Harrod, Frankfort, Ky.; Harry Cotter, Downing, Mo.; E. J. Waters, Arthur Dean, Russell Stockman, and Harry Brennan of Chicago; Dudley Steen of Maywood, Mrs. Kay Woodring, and Fred Spencer of Alton, Ray Runyan of Cincinnati, Cora Converse of Oak Glen, Fred Molt of Asheville, N. C., Allan Johnston of Detroit, and Marshall Grosskopf of Marion, Wis.

NEW THOUSANDS TURN TO CHURCH IN CHICAGO AREA

Increased Classes Will Be Confirmed Tomorrow.

BY THE REV. JOHN EVANS.

Thousands of children in their Palm Sunday best will be confirmed tomorrow. Their average age is about 14. You will see them going to church, the girls with their white dresses and the boys in dark suits and shined shoes. But what you may not know is that there are hundreds more who are going to be confirmed tomorrow than there were last Palm Sunday.

When told of the probable increases this year many religious leaders pointed to the soldiers, sailors, and airmen in the armed services who are offering their lives for their country, and to the uncertainty of the future as accentuated by war, as reasons for a revival of interest in religion.

Lutheran Classes Larger.

Increases in confirmations were ascertained by means of a survey of churches in those communions in Chicago which most often present confirmants or receive members annually on Palm Sunday. For example, Lutheran churches, traditionally, confirm on Palm Sunday. This year about three out of five Chicago Lutheran churches will hold confirmations tomorrow. In the sampling of 60 of the metropolitan area's 350 Lutheran churches it was learned 46 classes will be larger than last year and 14 will be smaller.

The average increase in these churches will be 13 per cent over 1941. A projection of the record for the 60 churches over all Lutheran churches gives an estimated 4,270 confirmations tomorrow alone. Evangelical and Reformed churches sampled show only 2 per cent less increase. Presbyterian, Congregational, and Community churches, which either confirm or receive new members on Palm Sundays, report a 16 per cent increase.

Increase in Converts.

Beyond this, pastors and church leaders of all communions report increasing congregations and renewed interest in religion. Following a survey made by the chancery of the Catholic archdiocese, it was announced that converts have at least doubled this year over last year. It was explained that the revival of interest was revealed in increased attendance at Holy hour and other voluntary services. Mass, being compulsory, it was pointed out, is not as clear an evidence of revival as optional services. The announcement pointed to "a remarkable increase" of noon day Lenten communions at Holy Name cathedral.

The Rev. George C. Koehler of Luther Memorial Lutheran church, 2500 Wilson avenue, cited contrasting figures which show a decline in public school enrollments in urban areas. This decline, he said, makes the increase in children's confirmations mean more in 1942 than it would before 1934 when school attendance was annually increasing. The Rev. Mr. Koehler pointed to published figures on Chicago public schools showing a decline of 10,000 pupils annually. Kermit Eby, secretary of the Chicago Teachers' union, announced the figure.

Another Increase Reported.

At Bethany Evangelical and Reformed church, 4250 North Paulina street, the Rev. Dr. Henry W. Dinkmeyer will confirm 38 today, compared with 30 last year. He explained, however, that he confirmed 41 in 1940.

"I wonder whether the present increase is a revival or whether it depends upon the number of children born about 13 years ago," Dr. Dinkmeyer commented. "Increase or decrease of the birthrate affects our Sunday school."

Catholic churches will employ the most solemn liturgy of the church tomorrow as Palm Sunday ushers in the devotions of Holy week. Archbishop Samuel A. Stritch will bless the palms for distribution at Holy Name cathedral just before the solemn processional and mass at noon. The moving services of Tenebrae will be held at the cathedral on Wednesday, Thursday, and Friday nights with the archbishop presiding.

Solemn Mass at Noon.

The solemn mass tomorrow noon will be sung by the Rt. Rev. Msgr. Joseph P. Morrison, rector of the cathedral, with Archbishop Stritch presiding. Music for the service will be sung by the Cathedral choristers under the direction of the Rev. Charles Meter, and the Quigley Plain Chant choir, directed by the Rev. Frank Chambers.

Dr. Iver M. Johnson, minister of First Methodist church, Chicago temple, announced his Palm Sunday sermon subject as "The Gospel According to Christ's Enemies." At New First Congregational church, Washington boulevard and Ashland avenue, Walter Pyre, of the stage, will read Charles Rann Kennedy's "Servant in the House" at 8 o'clock tomorrow night.

Bishop Wallace Edmonds Conkling of the Episcopal diocese of Chicago, will confirm a class at St. Barnabas church, 4242 Washington boulevard tomorrow morning at 11 o'clock.

DEMANDS ACTION AGAINST INDIANA SEWAGE DUMPING

Schnackenberg Urges High Court Suit.

A resolution for legal action to stop the dumping of sewage into Lake Michigan by Indiana municipalities and Calumet region industrial plants should be on the order of business at the next session of the state legislature, Elmer J. Schnackenberg, speaker of the Illinois house of representatives, said yesterday.

There have been reports that Gov. Dwight H. Green may call a special session after the April primary, and Schnackenberg said he believed such a resolution could properly be introduced at that time.

Bacteria Count Increases.

The sewage dumping in the south end of the lake has increased the bacteria count in the water taken in at the 68th street crib. Altho chlorination removes some of the bacteria, there have been warnings that 1,500,000 Chicagoans living on the south side may have to boil their water to make it fit for drinking. The war department has turned down the city's plea for an increase in the diversion of lake water over the 1,500 cubic feet per second decreed by the United States Supreme court.

"An increased diversion," Schnackenberg said, "would, of course, aid in removing the health hazard, but it wouldn't do much good unless we also attack the problem of sewage dumping which pollutes the water."

In 1935, Schnackenberg introduced a resolution, which was adopted, directing Otto Kerner, then attorney general, to carry the fight to the United States Supreme court for an injunction to restrain the Indiana municipalities from throwing their waste into the lake.

Fails to File Suit.

Kerner did not file the suit. He received assurances from the governor of Indiana that numerous towns had passed laws providing for sewage treatment, but little was done in Lake county.

"A similar resolution should be introduced again," Schnackenberg said, "and should instruct the present attorney general, George Barrett, to take such steps."

Meanwhile officials and civic leaders of towns along the Illinois inland waterway indicated they would back a resolution introduced Wednesday by Rep. Adolph J. Sabath [D., Ill.] in congress. This would authorize the sanitary district to divert up to 5,000 cubic feet of water per second from the lake. The measure provides that the increased withdrawal would be under supervision of the secretary of war and would continue thru the present emergency or for as long as the current condition is deemed harmful to public health.

CAROLYN WELLS, MYSTERY STORY WRITER, IS DEAD

New York, March 27 (AP).—Carolyn Wells, mystery story writer and author of verse, died yesterday in the Flower-Fifth Avenue hospital.

She started her career with humor writing and ended with mysteries. In 1932, after a heart ailment, she wrote an article on how it felt to have but two years to live—and then recovered. She was afflicted with deafness since childhood.

She was the author of nearly 200 books, 70 of them mystery novels, and many of them children's books.

Wounded as He Resists Bandits, He Tells Police

Bruno Kline, 46 years old, 1850 Humboldt boulevard, told police early today that three armed and masked men tried to hold him up and one shot him when he resisted at 59th and Honore streets. Kline admitted to police having served a term for burglary. He was taken from Southtown hospital to Bridewell hospital for treatment of a gunshot wound in his thigh, and the police began an investigation of the shooting.

48 DRESSES STOLEN FROM TRUCK.

Forty-eight dresses, valued at $276, were taken from a truck belonging to the American Parcel Delivery company, 1536 Fulton street, while it was parked in front of 318 West Adams street yesterday.

OBITUARIES

Antoinette Funk.

Mrs. Antoinette Funk, suffragist and politician and one of the first women lawyers in Illinois, died yesterday in her home in San Diego, Cal., relatives here were advised. She was admitted to the bar in 1904 and served in Washington as assistant commissioner of public lands from 1933 to 1939. Mrs. Funk was prominent in the Theodore Roosevelt campaign of 1912 and supported Wilson in 1916. Her Illinois home was in Dwight. Two daughters survive. Funeral services will be held today in San Diego.

David Erwin.

David Erwin, a resident in Waukegan for over 50 years, died yesterday in St. Therese's hospital, Waukegan. He was 88 years old. His home was at 545 Caroline place, Waukegan. He was one of the oldest members of the Masonic order, having belonged to the Waukegan A. F. & A. M. lodge, No. 78, for 51 years. Survivors include five children. Funeral services will be held at 2:30 p. m. today in the chapel at 1521 Washington street, Waukegan.

Mrs. Florence H. Macdonald.

Mrs. Florence Helen Macdonald, 75 years old, died yesterday in the home of her daughter, Mrs. Earl D. Larsen, 602 Sheridan road, Evanston, after a short illness. Her home was in the Evanston hotel. She was the widow of John Hayden Macdonald, Michigan and Ontario lumberman, who died 25 years ago. A son also survives. Funeral services will be held in St. Mark's church, Evanston, at 11 a. m. Monday.

Miss Jane H. White.

Miss Jane Hutchins White, teacher and traveler, died yesterday in Evanston at 2001 Orrington avenue after a long illness. She was 83 years old and was born in Chicago, moving to Evanston in 1871. She lived for many years at the Orrington hotel. She taught languages in the Evanston High school 25 years. Private funeral services will be held Monday.

FRANK M. RAMEY, ONCE MEMBER OF CONGRESS, DIES

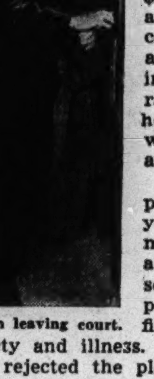
Hillsboro, Ill., March 27 (AP).—Frank M. Ramey, 61 years old, former congressman from the 21st district and Montgomery county Republican leader, died in a hospital today after a week's illness. He was elected to one term in congress in 1928. He recently was appointed an examiner for the Illinois commerce commission, but illness kept him from performing any duties.

Ramey taught school in Hillsboro for three years while studying in a law office. He was admitted to the bar in 1907, became state's attorney of Montgomery county in 1920 and was reëlected in 1924. He was named an assistant United States attorney of Springfield and Peoria in 1931. While in congress he introduced a bill creating a second federal judicial post at Springfield.

Survivors include his widow, the former Lena Laws of Donnellson; two brothers and three sisters, Mrs. Flora Berry, Chicago; Mrs. Della Bost, Irving, and Mrs. Charles Pullen, Decatur.

EX-MAGISTRATE ESCAPES PAYING SPEED TRAP FINE

Charles A. Braun, 44 years old, former police magistrate of Dixmoor, was released from the county jail yesterday by Judge William J. Lindsay in Superior court without payment of a $2,000 fine levied against him. The court warned him against reëntering the speed trap racket for which he and four others were sent to jail and fined.



Braun leaving court.

Braun completed his one year sentence two months ago and at that time sought to avoid payment of the fine on a plea of poverty and illness. Judge Lindsay then rejected the plea and said he would show the same mercy to him that Braun and the other Dixmoor speed racketeers showed to the motorists caught in their trap.

Assistant State's Attorney Richard Austin opposed the release of Braun without payment of the fine and countered his plea of poverty with a statement that Braun had transferred property worth $1,100 to a relative. Braun has been in the county jail hospital during most of his stay there and Austin told Judge Lindsay yesterday that he would be content with any action the court might take.

LANSING WARNER LEAVES FAMILY ESTATE OF $461,562

An estate of $461,562 was left by Lansing B. Warner, head of the insurance company bearing his name, according to an inventory filed yesterday in Probate court. Mr. Warner died last Dec. 12. He was 78 years old and lived at 201 Sheridan road, Hubbard Woods.

Listed in the inventory is $178,115 cash, $100,000 in real estate, $175,000 in stocks, and $8,447 in other chattels. The Hubbard Woods property was bought for $250,000 in 1926.

Mrs. Myra Warner, the widow, received an outright bequest of $25,000 and $2,500 was divided among seven household employés. The remainder of the estate is placed in trust. Mrs. Warner will receive one-third of the net income for life and two-thirds will be divided among a daughter, Mrs. Rachael W. Wheeler, Lake Forest; two sons, Lansing B. Warner Jr. and John E. Warner, and two children of Mrs. Julia Herdic, a deceased daughter. After death of the direct heirs the estate will go to the grandchildren.

ADM. SMITH DIES; FORMER CHIEF OF NORFOLK YARD

Annapolis, Md., March 27 (AP).—Rear Adm. Arthur St. Clair Smith, former commandant of the 12th naval district and naval operating base in San Francisco, Cal., died last night in the naval hospital here. He was 68 years old and had retired in 1938.

Adm. Smith was commandant of the Norfolk navy yard and was commander of battleship division 3 before going to the 12th naval district.

He was born in Iowa and entered the naval academy in 1893. He was awarded a special letter of commendation by the navy department for service in the World war.

CALL OFFICIALS BEFORE INDIANA GAMBLING JURY

Subpenas were served yesterday on the mayors, judges, and police chiefs of Gary and East Chicago for questioning by the Lake county, Indiana, grand jury on gambling and vice. Those summoned by the grand jury from Gary are Mayor Ernst Schaible, City Judge John Ruberto, Chief of Police William J. Linn, Detective Chief Peter Billick, and Traffic Chief Carl Taylor; and from East Chicago, Mayor Frank Migas, Police Chief Walter Conroy, and City Judge Thomas Callahan.

MRS. DILLING WINS PLEA FOR $500 FROM HER FROZEN ACCOUNT

Mrs. Elizabeth Dilling, whose bank accounts have been frozen by an injunction obtained by her husband, Albert W. Dilling, plaintiff in their divorce action, yesterday obtained release of $500 from a $2,000 account in the Wilmette State bank. Mrs. Dilling told Judge Rudolph F. Desort in Superior court that she needed the money to carry on the work of her patriotic organization.

Dilling sued his wife for divorce four weeks ago and charged her with use of drugs, liquor and cruelty. Walter Winchell, newspaper and radio gossip, broadcast the charges. The next day Dilling amended his bill, withdrawing the drug and liquor charge, leaving only cruelty.

Mrs. Dilling then filed a cross bill asking for divorce and a million dollars damages from Winchell, her husband and his attorney, Maurice T. Weinshenk, and Howard Mayer, a press agent said to represent Winchell. She charged conspiracy to defame her. Judge Desort will rule next Thursday on Mrs. Dilling's petition for dissolving of the injunction.

WOMAN KILLED, 6 HURT BY AUTO FLEEING POLICE

A woman munitions worker was killed and six companions, on their way back from work at an Indiana ordnance plant, were injured yesterday when their auto was struck by a hit-run car fleeing from police after a previous accident.

The dead woman was Mrs. Mae Gauger, 52 years old, 1344 Jackson street, Gary. Mrs. Gauger's auto was struck at 16th street and Georgia avenue, Gary, whereupon it struck a tree with such force as to break it off, then smashed into a drug store, tearing out the front. The six passengers were taken to hospitals where it was said their conditions were not critical.

Driver of the hit-run car, according to police, was William Pierce, Negro, address unknown. He was named by two passengers, also Negroes, who were thrown out at the scene of the first accident. One was taken to jail and the other to a hospital.

John Wojcik, 58, of 2309 Marshall boulevard, a mechanic, was killed yesterday when the upraised body of a dump truck on which he was working descended, crushing him. E. D. Hill, manager of the Gar-Wood Industries, Inc., plant at 301 West 37th street, where the accident occurred, told Stanton avenue police that Wojcik apparently failed to secure a safety catch.

Mrs. Rachel Page, 70, a Negro, 303 East 61st street, died in Michael Reese hospital after being struck by a truck driven by Carroll Barga, Versailles, O., at 38th and State streets.

Up to 4 p. m. yesterday 190 persons had been killed by automobiles in Cook county since Jan. 1. Of these 150 were killed in Chicago, where 4,682 were injured in the same period.

Blast in California Tech Lab Kills One; Six Hurt

Pasadena, Cal., March 27 (AP).—A fiery explosion tore apart a research laboratory at the California Institute of Technology today, killing one man and injuring five other men and a woman. The blast in the laboratory where radium experiments were being carried out was ascribed to an accident in the powder vault. Raymond L. Robey, an employé, was killed.

JAMES A. MILLS, NOTED FOREIGN REPORTER, DIES

Ventura, Cal., March 27 [Special].—James A. Mills, 58 years old, noted foreign staff writer of the Associated Press, died in Foster Memorial hospital today, following a stroke suffered yesterday. He had been in ill health since being ill in Tokio three years ago and had come here 10 days ago while touring the Pacific coast.

James A. Mills.

Few men have traveled so far or lived such a life of thrills, danger, and adventure as had Mills in his successful search for headlines. He was the friend and confidant of a host of persons the world over, ranging from kings and queens to the humblest folk. Mahatma Gandhi and Queen Maria of Rumania were his close friends.

In about 340,000 miles of traveling he had seen wars on three continents and had followed the breaking of news in the Balkans, Ethiopia, the near east, India, Manchuria, China, Russia, and thru the halls of palaces and the mud huts of natives. He retired Jan. 21, 1940. He never married.

DEATH NOTICES

In Memoriam.

BAKER—Cora Baker. In loving memory of our beloved wife and mother, who left us two years ago today, March 28, 1940. High mass at St. Gabriel's, April 7, 1942.
The blow was hard, the shock severe;
We never thought her death so near.
Only those who have lost can tell
The pain of parting without farewell.
HUSBAND AND CHILDREN.

BERKOWITZ—Lawrence M. Berkowitz—1936.
You came and stayed a little while
To warm our hearts, it's true;
But then you went to your real home
And we, alone, are blue.
MOMMIE, DADDY, AND SISTER.

BERKSON—Isaac E. Berkson. In loving memory of our beloved husband and father, who departed this life six years ago today.

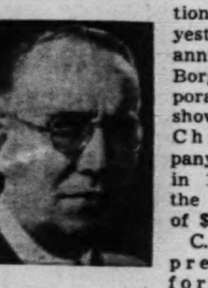
BORG-WARNER NEAR FULL WAR OUTPUT BASIS

1941 Net Profit Sets New Record.

A story of almost complete conversion of its facilities to war production was told yesterday in the annual report of Borg-Warner corporation which shows the big Chicago company's earnings in 1941 reached the record level of $9,475,049.



C. S. Davis.

C. S. Davis, president, informed stockholders that up to March 15 Borg-Warner and its subsidiaries received 190 million dollars worth of prime contracts and subcontracts for war items. Shipments have approximated 53 million dollars, leaving a balance of unfilled orders of 137 million dollars on March 15.

Production by Classes.

A survey of March manufacturing schedules, Davis said, shows 74 per cent of production is war materials with A-1 priority rating, 19 per cent is essential items with ratings of A-2 to A-10, and the remaining 7 per cent is products for civilian use, principally household appliance items still in production prior to a complete shutdown of that industry.

"We believe this record of quick conversion from a record-breaking volume of 'peace' production in 1941 to practically complete absorption in war work early in 1942 reflects the adaptability of Borg-Warner's plant and equipment to the needs of wartime production," Davis said. "There was no resistance to the termination of peacetime operations, and no time lost in initiating production of war materials, once the orders were received."

Profit Equals $4.05 a Share.

Borg-Warner's profit was equal to $4.05 a share. In 1940 profit was $6,730,462, or $2.88 a share. The 1941 figure was recorded before a 2 million dollar provision for contingencies which directors set aside because of "uncertainties caused by war conditions." After this deduction, the amount transferred to earned surplus was $7,475,049, equal to $3.20 a share.

Provision for income and excess profits taxes soared to $13,960,100 from $4,311,789 in 1940. The provision for all taxes was $16,104,157, against $5,650,153.

Davis attributed a sales total that was 58.95 per cent larger than in 1940 to heavy volume of peacetime products up to the last quarter of 1941 and to war production "which was getting well under way in several of the divisions during the latter half of the year." He predicted dollar sales volume in 1942 "will equal, and probably exceed," the 1941 total.

Norge Division Active.

The company's Norge division had a "large volume of sales and a fine profit showing," Davis reported, despite curtailment of refrigerator production in the final quarter. This division, which faces complete shutdown of household appliance production, now is in the process of conversion to war work, he said.

The company spent $4,182,638 during the year for plants and equipment.

He asserted terms of the war orders received by Borg-Warner "will permit stockholders a profit margin that is fair both to the corporation and the government."

CIO SEEKS FULL LABOR CONTROL IN STEEL PLANTS

Pittsburgh, Pa., March 27 (AP).—Petitions for exclusive bargaining elections in 59 United States Steel corporation plants employing more than 100,000 workers have been filed by the CIO Steel Workers' Organizing committee with regional offices of the National Labor Relations board.

Subsidiaries included in the petitions, which the SWOC previously had announced it would file, are Carnegie Illinois Steel corporation, with the exception of the Gary, Ind., works; National Tube, American Steel and Wire, American Bridge, Columbia Steel, Scully Steel, Virginia Bridge, Universal Atlas Cement, and Oil Well Supply.

The SWOC already holds bargaining rights for its own members in the plants and contends the unionists represent a majority of the workers.

The union reported it already had won exclusive bargaining rights in Carnegie Illinois Sheet and Tin mill and steel works at Gary thru a check of union cards against the pay roll records.

10½ Million Lbs. of Dried Milk Sold for Lend-Lease

The largest purchases of powdered milk since the lend-lease program started were reported yesterday by the Agricultural Marketing administration. The federal buyers bought 10,560,870 pounds. Other purchases included 36 carlots of cheese at Plymouth, Wis., 9,942,200 pounds of dry beans, 257,427 gallons of concentrated orange juice, and 211,900 pounds of onions.

Offer Boston Loan Notes at Yield of 0.50 Per Cent

Halsey, Stuart & Co. yesterday offered 3 million dollars of city of Boston, Mass., 0.60 per cent temporary loan notes due Nov. 4 at a price to yield 0.50 per cent. The company had been awarded the notes earlier in the day at a $75 premium.

Shop Owners Rush to Share in Bullet Job

The War Production board's contract distribution branch in the Civic Opera building was swamped yesterday by inquiries from more than 500 small machine shop owners in the Chicago area eager to participate in the manufacture of armor piercing cores for machine gun and field rifle bullets.

They responded to an announcement Thursday by Thomas N. Wynne, Chicago district manager of the WPB branch, of a program to farm out work on the bullet cores to hundreds of small machine shops, garages, and factories in the Chicago area.

Include 4 Prime Contractors.

Meanwhile, Wynne disclosed that the program has been broadened to include a third prime contractor in Connecticut who has a war department order for 35 million .50 caliber bullets a week, and a fourth contractor, a large Chicago printing company. An automobile and an electrical equipment company are the other prime contractors. Their identities are withheld because of wartime censorship.

Wynne said the production goal contemplated under the plan is 200 million steel bullet cores of the .30 and .50 caliber size each week.

"Any shop that has the management and technical experience, some working capital, fairly skilled workmen, and space can get into this program," Wynne said. "The job demands only a simple 10 inch standard lathe to which certain tools are attached to hold the cutting tool and the piece of steel to be worked."

Display Sample Lathe.

Wynne said a sample lathe will be displayed next Tuesday in the WPB exhibit room in the Civic Opera building. Prospective subcontractors may register their facilities, examine the lathe and consult with WPB engineers in room 3010. The WPB will select the qualified shops for job assignments.

Wynne said the WPB would aid shop owners who lack enough capital to buy the lathe and accessory equipment, which will be made by an Indiana company. Cost of a complete unit will be about $1,000.

Owners of old lathes will be brought into the program later by the development of special holding attachments which will enable the used machines to work on bullet cores, Wynne said.

PUBLISHING FIRM HAS SALES GAIN, BUT PROFIT DIPS

Philadelphia, Pa., March 27 (AP).—President Walter D. Fuller reported to stockholders of the Curtis Publishing company today that circulation of the organization's four magazines in 1941 reached a new high average net paid total of 9,777,714 copies.

Net earnings were $2,059,656 compared with $3,044,643 in 1940. Higher costs because of the larger circulation figure and other factors reduced net profit, the report said.

The 1941 earnings covered the fixed dividend of $3 a share on the prior preferred stock, plus 10.186 cents a share on the contingent dividend on the same shares. The latter is payable April 28 to stockholders of record April 9.

DISMISS 23 EMPLOYES BECAUSE OF FORMER LINK TO AXIS BUSINESS

Washington, D. C., March 27 [Special].—The dismissal of 23 employés of the American Bosch corporation was announced today by the corporation at Springfield, Mass., and by the treasury, which had assumed supervision of it under its foreign fund control powers. Treasury officials explained that the men were being let go not because there was evidence of subversive activities against them, but because of their past connections with axis big business.

It is understood that this policy is to be followed, chiefly at the instance of the war department, in other war industries. This does not mean that there will be any discrimination against American citizens merely because they bear German names, but that American citizens who have had close connections with axis interests will have a lot of explaining to do to keep their jobs in war industries.

The treasury has been investigating the records and personnel of American Bosch since January to determine whether it was controled by axis interests in view of the fact that the majority of its stock was known to be beneficially owned abroad.

EXPERTS AND BOOKS SIMPLIFY WORK OF TRAINING ARMY COOKS

The National Live Stock and Meat board is simplifying the job of training army cooks by sending special books and its staff experts into army camps, R. C. Pollock, general manager of the board, told the agricultural council of the Chicago Association of Commerce at the La Salle hotel yesterday.

Books covering baking are being mailed to the camps and the board plans to prepare a new book on pork, he said. Other phases of handling meat products have been covered in the board's previous special publications for the army.

Pollock said eight members of the board's merchandising department are visiting camps and giving special instruction.

The board, a nonprofit organization financed by the meat industry, has conducted research into problems of handling meat under the unusual conditions with which the army is confronted, he said.

FEE CHANGES UNDER STUDY OF BIG BOARD

New York, March 27 [Special].—Two proposed radical changes in New York Stock exchange operations were announced today by President Emil Schram.

The first, which has been communicated to the membership and soon will be discussed by the board of governors, would impose a 1 per cent "tax" on net commissions received and returned on all deals on the exchange. It also would cut some of the present fixed fees, so that firms making the most use of exchange facilities would pay larger shares of the cost.

Plan Dual Seat Ownership.

The second change, not yet put into form for submission to the membership, would make stock exchange seats workable investment media, primarily by allowing a single member to own more than one seat and hold it for future use by a member of his firm or for resale.

Proposed revenue changes would cut membership dues from $1,000 to $750 a year; would cut from $1,000 to $500 the annual charge for a specialist post on the floor; would cut by $50 a year the charge for specialist clerks' tickets, bond clerks' tickets, and special bond clerks' tickets; would establish a special fee of $150 a year for registration of regular specialists and odd-lot brokers and dealers, and would establish a fee of $10 a year for the registration of associate and relief specialists.

Expects to Break Even.

Schram said no attempt was being made to obtain more revenue. Based on the average volume of 470,000 shares daily for the first three months this year, he said, the exchange would just about break even. If volume continues at its present 300,000 share pace, the exchange will actually lose.

The proposed changes would reduce to some extent the burdens on inactive members, floor traders and specialists, and will shift the load to the commission houses. Their additional costs, however, will be only a fraction of the additional revenue given them by the increases in commissions which took effect on March 16.

RETAIL DRUG UNIT TO FIGHT PRICE FIXING CHARGES

Newark, N. J., March 27 (AP).—Organized pharmacists, indicted by a federal grand jury on charges of conspiracy to violate the Sherman anti-trust act by price fixing, asserted today their intentions to fight the indictments.

John W. Dargavel, executive secretary and general manager of the National Association of Retail Druggists, said in Chicago his group would "fight these charges to the court of last resort if necessary, for neither the National association nor I personally as its executive secretary has violated the anti-trust laws."

New Trial for Timber Firm Officials Set for Sept. 21

Federal Judge Philip L. Sullivan yesterday set Sept. 21 for the new trial of nine officers and associates of Resources Corporation International, accused of $7,350,000 mail fraud thru manipulation of company stock and fraudulent valuation of timberland holdings. The first trial, which lasted more than two months, ended when the jury was discharged after failing to agree during 71 hours of deliberation.

Disclose Slate to Give Young Rule of C. & O.

Cleveland, O., March 27 (AP).—The Chesapeake and Ohio Railway company today formally disclosed a new slate of directors whose election would return Robert R. Young, New York financier and Alleghany corporation's chairman, to control of the road. Alleghany corporation was once top holding company in the vast Van Sweringen railroad system.

Robert R. Young.

The disclosure was made in a proxy statement sent to stockholders before the railway's annual meeting, April 21, when five new directors will be chosen to replace men Young once classed as allies of the Guaranty Trust company of New York.

Young lost control of the C. & O. several years ago as a result of a fight with the directors he accused of representing Guaranty Trust, then trustee for all three Alleghany bond issues.

Follows Settlement of Suit.

His recovery of power comes shortly after settlement of his $8,000,000 suit against George A. Ball of Muncie, Ind., millionaire fruit jar manufacturer. Young charged Ball misled him as to value of controling securities in Alleghany corporation and the C. & O. when Young, Allan P. Kirby, and associates purchased them in 1937.

Young's attempt to regain control was aided by the recent addition of two friendly directors to C. & O.'s 13 member board—Brig. Gen. Leonard P. Ayres, chief of the war department's statistical branch in Washington, and Kirby, Alleghany's president. Appointed to fill vacancies, they appear on the new slate accepted by a majority of C. & O. directors.

Five Members Slated.

The slate would place the following five on the board:

William H. Lipscomb of Leesburg, Va.; James M. Nicely of Guaranty Trust, now trustee for only one Alleghany bond issue; Carl E. Newton of New York, Alleghany counsel; Joseph P. Routh of New York, chairman of the Pittston [coal] company, and Herbert Fitzpatrick, former C. & O. chairman who resigned a year ago in an effort to end the dispute between Young and Guaranty. These men will succeed directors who have resigned or are being dropped from the board.

Among six holdovers from 1941 are Young, George D. Brooke, who, as president of C. & O. and two subsidiaries—the Nickel Plate and Pere Marquette—was paid $77,000 last year, the statement showed, and H. B. Erminger Jr. of Chicago.

ORDER 5 MILLION MORE BARRELS OF OIL TO EAST

Set Up Plan to Avert Plant Closings.

Washington, D. C., March 27 (AP).—Seeking to prevent war plant shutdowns in New England, Harold L. Ickes, petroleum coördinator, today directed the oil industry to supply 5 million additional barrels of industrial fuel oil to the east within five weeks. The program, recommended by the industry itself, called for larger use of rail and water transportation facilities and of eastern refinery capacity to offset the industrial fuel deficiency.

An oil man said this probably would cause a further reduction of gasoline stocks in the Atlantic seaboard area, but Ickes' aids declined to predict whether a further cut in gasoline consumption by motorists would be necessary in the populous area where a 20 per cent curtailment already has been instituted. The emergency was precipitated by the sinking of tankers and the diversion to war use of others that normally supply the seaboard states.

Emergency Steps Ordered.

The petroleum industry was directed to take these immediate emergency steps:

1. Alter the operation of refining facilities in the east from March 27 to April 30 so as to increase the yields of heavy fuel oil by at least 5 per cent with an equivalent reduction in the yields of motor fuel.
2. Load and ship 2 million barrels of heavy fuel oil by rail tank car from the midwest to the east during the five weeks.
3. Load a million barrels from the southwest on ship tankers bound for the Atlantic seaboard, in addition to cargoes already scheduled.

At the request of the industry representatives, Ickes also directed that all oil companies: Stop the hauling of oil by tank car over distances of less than 100 miles; load and unload tank cars on a seven day a week basis; load, unload, and operate trucks on a 24 hour a day basis.

FOLLOWS MIDWEST ACTION.

Yesterday's action of the petroleum coördinator followed a move on Thursday by the midwest states in district 2 to reshuffle transportation facilities so that more railroad tank cars and other carrying capacity can be made available for eastward shipment of oil and oil products.

The midwest oil industry, acting thru a general committee with offices in Chicago, announced a plan for pooling transportation facilities and lending or exchanging supplies to avoid unnecessary hauling.

A retailers' subcommittee yesterday proposed that service stations in district 2 operate on a flexible schedule of not more than 12 hours a day and 84 hours a week. The plan would leave operators a choice as to opening and closing times. A full marketing committee is expected to act on the proposal next Thursday.

NEW WPB POST EXPECTED TO GO TO J. L. OVERLOCK

Washington, D. C., March 27 [Special].—Joseph L. Overlock, Illinois director of the War Production board's contract distribution branch, probably will be named to the new post of regional administrator of WPB offices in Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, and part of Wisconsin, it was learned today. The regional office with headquarters in Chicago is one of the 13 to be established under a decentralization program announced yesterday.

Price Upswing Called Certain; Nation Urged to Stop Hoarding

Carothers' Warning

BY THOMAS FURLONG.

A further and perhaps rapid rise in the price level was forecast yesterday by Dr. Neil Carothers, nationally known economist.

A combination of price freezing and rationing of goods can accomplish a great deal in restraining advancing prices but they cannot be wholly effective under present conditions, Carothers said. He spoke at a luncheon meeting of the Executives Club of Chicago in Hotel Sherman.

"An almost irresistible set of forces are working to bring higher prices," he said. "Our national income is at a record level and rising steadily. At the same time 50 per cent of our total production of goods and services is devoted to war."

Terms Rise Inevitable.

With more purchasing power and a diminishing supply of consumer goods, no government control device can prevent an upsurge in prices, Carothers said.

Carothers, who is director of the school of business administration of Lehigh university, criticized congress and the administration for complacency in face of the war crisis. Steps that have been taken to control prices are proper ones, he said, but the government in other directions is acting feebly and its spokesmen are bewailing apathy of the public.

The public, he asserted, cannot be expected to be fully aware of the gravity of the war crisis when the administration leaders and congress do not face the situation realistically.

No Subsidy Yet Eliminated.

Not a single subsidy that was authorized before the war began has been abolished, he said. Some have been reduced but none eliminated.

Congress persists in its refusal to stop other non-essential expenditures, estimated at 2 to 4 billion dollars a year, he added.

"The government continues to pay farmers not to produce food," he said. "It refuses to sell its vast stores of grain and cotton rotting in government warehouses. It has done nothing to control strikes. It refuses to touch the 40 hour week issue. It has refused to consider any control of wages and farm prices. The first requisite for winning the war is efficient government and the end of complacency in Washington."

View of OPA Aid

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., March 27.—Dexter M. Keezer, assistant administrator of the Office of Price Administration, told a luncheon meeting of business editors here today: "We are losing the battle against inflation."

Dexter M. Keezer.

"Prices are going up all along the line, and at a dangerous pace," he continued. "While there have been cases of profiteering, it is not fair to blame the retailer indiscriminately for this. The records indicate that, as a whole, retailers have exercised considerable restraint in raising prices.

Figures Rise at 3½% Monthly.

"They, along with the rest of us, are caught by forces which are exercising a tremendous upward pressure on prices. Often they have resisted this pressure and thus forego profits they might have had.

"The nature of this pressure can be indicated by the fact that national supplies available for civilians are being cut about 1 per cent a month to meet military needs, while money available to buy these supplies [wages, salaries, profits, etc.] is increasing about 3½ per cent a month.

"This sets up a situation which, left alone, can result in a monthly increase of 3½ per cent in the cost of living—a ruinous rate of inflation.

Asks End of Hoarding.

"It was both to combat inflation and protect consumers from paying unreasonably high prices that the OPA recently set maximum prices which retailers can charge for seven important household appliances.

"The surest aid to the retailers in fighting inflation would be larger supplies of the things they sell. While we cannot hope for great aid along this line while the war continues, the situation would be eased materially by the elimination of hoarding, both by consumers and in trade.

"Many retailers have been fighting a good fight to curb prices, but they must have allies if the war against the terror of inflation is to be won."

BIG TRAILER TRUCKS MAY BE CONVERTED TO HIGHWAY OIL TANKERS

Tulsa, Okla., March 27 (AP).—Big trailer trucks which formerly hauled new automobiles may be converted into highway oil tankers, Wirt Franklin, production director for district 2 of the Office of Petroleum Coördinator, said today.

Franklin said it may be possible to mount tanks on the trucks. He said their use was being studied by a distribution committee as one means of freeing additional tank cars to carry petroleum products to the east coast.

MILWAUKEE LINE SEEKS TO PAY 19 MILLION INTEREST

Trustees of the Chicago, Milwaukee, St. Paul, and Pacific railway notified bondholders' committees yesterday they will ask authority of the federal District court to pay $18,940,155 in interest to security holders out of earnings in 1939, 1940, and 1941.

Payments in varying amounts would be made to holders of general mortgage bonds, the 50-year 5s of 1975, and the Milwaukee and Northern First mortgage and consolidated bonds. Trustees said the petition will show $34,160,182 in cash on hand March 14.

WPB ORDER BANS SIGNS MADE OF METAL ON JULY 1

Washington, D. C., March 27 (AP).—The War Production board today ordered production of metal signs halted after July 1 and directed sign manufacturers to effect a 50 per cent reduction in their use of iron and steel during the next three months.

Simultaneously, WPB froze all stocks of iron and steel now held by the sign producers and prohibited sale or delivery except with specific WPB authorization or to persons having high defense preference ratings, or to the RFC.

WPB called a meeting of men's clothing retailers to request reduction of prices of officers' uniforms. It warned that the government might go into the business. In some instances, items costing under $30 are retailed at more than $50, officials said.

Production of outboard motors, except for military orders, was halted and stocks of motors of six horse power or more in the hands of manufacturers were frozen by another WPB order.

February Output of Steel Plates Sets New Record

The steel industry produced a record tonnage of plates in February, a total of 734,656 net tons being rolled, against 417,637 tons in February, 1941, the American Iron and Steel Institute reported yesterday. In January, the output was 713,182 tons.

PREPARE START OF CREDITS TO SMALL BUSINESS

Reserve Bank Gets Many Queries.

BY LELAND FORRESTER.

The federal reserve board in Washington and the 12 federal reserve banks moved swiftly yesterday toward opening the floodgates of bank credit to small business to spur war production in accordance with President Roosevelt's executive order of Thursday. The President's order authorized the war department, the navy department, and the maritime commission to make or guarantee direct loans to small firms.

Acting immediately to prepare the reserve system for the work as agent of the treasury in the program, the board called upon each of the 12 reserve banks to choose an official to handle the task in its district, and directed that the selected officials be sent to Washington for conferences with the board next week.

Consider Chicago Selection.

Choice of the official for the 7th [Chicago] district was considered at the Federal Reserve Bank of Chicago late yesterday. Meantime banks in Chicago and elsewhere were flooding the reserve bank with inquiries about the program.

Some banking authorities privately expressed amazement at the potentialities of the vast credit program, its possible effects on the money and government bond markets, and the implications of the apparent intention of the government to guarantee loans made to war contract holders, regardless of credit standing, if the army, navy, or maritime commission considers the loans necessary.

The President's order transcends the established laws relating to the making, performance, or amendment of contracts, it was said. Going beyond the scope of legislation enacted last year permitting loans on assignments of war contracts or claims against the government [such as letters of intent], the new program removes all risk as far as the commercial lending banks are concerned.

Position of Government.

Formerly, the government did not guarantee loans made on war contracts unless the borrower fulfilled the contract and his goods met inspection requirements. Under the new program, bankers said, the government, once it has approved the loan, will stand good for it regardless of whether the borrower is able to perform his contract. That will mean, they said, that companies that on their own record are poor banking risks may rank with the best.

Some of the questions that were being raised by bankers were:

Will the national banks be freed of the restriction barring them from lending to one borrower an amount equal to more than 10 per cent of their capital and surplus?

What interest rate will be charged?

If the program succeeds, and the banks find a demand for their funds in war industries, what will be the incentive for banks to keep on investing heavily in government bonds which yield less than the new loans?

Can Upsets Be Prevented?

Can the treasury handle the new program with sufficient delicacy to prevent upsets in the money market and in the market for treasury bills?

The federal reserve board's immediate concern, it was said, was to determine what the navy, army, and maritime commission want. It was not clear to what extent the reserve banks might be called upon to rediscount loans for the member banks, but authorities expressed the view that the reserve banks might in some cases handle parts of loans that were too big for a single commercial bank.

DOWNWARD TILT IN STOCKS GAINS WITH WAR NEWS

Broad Sell-off Puts Many Issues 2 Points Down.

New York, March 27 (AP).—The stock market tilted downward again today. The list refused to respond to early recovery attempts and, in a fairly active sell-off near midday, numerous issues dipped as much as 2 or more points. There were few comebacks, altho dealings dwindled appreciably toward the close.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks was off .3 of a point at 34.4. Transfers of 313,440 shares compared with 301,360 Thursday.

War and Taxes Blamed Again.

The Burma crisis and reports of Japanese warships in or approaching the Indian ocean deterred buyers, brokers said. In addition, speculative spirits remained dampened by tax fears and thoughts of growing federal controls. The usual lightening of commitments for week-end safety also was a restraining influence.

Continued softness of the bellwether, American Telephone, which fell a point to a new low since 1938, helped chill Wall street spirits as much as anything else.

Others at lowest marks for the year or longer included Chesapeake and Ohio, Anaconda, Westinghouse Electric, and Woolworth.

CHICAGO PRICES FALL.

Most prices declined on the Chicago Stock exchange yesterday. Of 77 issues in transactions of 15,000 shares, 13 advanced, 43 declined, and 21 closed unchanged. Of the more active stocks, Peabody Coal advanced ⅛, Commonwealth Edison and Nash-Kelvinator were unchanged and Swift & Co. advanced ⅜. The changes in the half hour after the New York close were Consolidated Oil, Sears-Roebuck, and Swift, off ⅛ each; General Motors, up ⅛, and Bendix, up ¼.

Commodities

Continued mill demand sent cotton futures up for the sixth consecutive day yesterday. Closing prices were 45 to 65 cents a bale higher and within 95 cents of the peak established Jan. 27. All contracts closed above 19 cents a pound. Grease wool and wool tops remained unchanged. Traders expect an upward revision in grease wool ceilings to follow yesterday's advance in wool top ceilings, brokers said. Coffee, cocoa, and cottonseed oil closed unchanged at maximum levels.

ASSAIL PROPOSAL TO TAX STATE AND CITY BOND ISSUES

Called Step to Abolition of the Federal System.

Washington, D. C., March 27 (AP).—The house ways and means committee was told today that treasury proposals for taxing income from state and municipal bonds would lead to abolition of the federal system and the creation of "economic areas" governed from Washington.

Henry Epstein, solicitor general of New York state, asserted that the treasury sought "concentration of all fiscal power in Washington." Taxation of the bonds would result in "unlimited subjugation" of states and cities because their borrowing power would be impaired, Epstein declared.

Chatters Opposes Levy.

Carl H. Chatters, Chicago, executive director of the Municipal Finance Officers association, warned that cities chosen for expanding military establishments must rely on borrowed money to finance additional facilities such as water works and transportation systems.

Chatters said federal taxation of the income from state and municipal securities would "seriously hamper" cities, counties, and states in carrying out their assigned war duties.

Austin J. Tobin of New York, representing a group of state attorneys general, said such taxes would produce little revenues for the next 20 to 30 years.

Would Hinder Refunding.

"On the other hand, cities with urgent refunding problems, such as Detroit, Philadelphia, and Tulsa, would feel the impact of a tax on future issues immediately," Tobin said.

Dr. Harley F. Lutz, professor of public finance at Princeton, and Dr. Fred R. Fairchild, Yale economics professor, agreed with municipal officials that the proposed levies would result in higher interest rates on the bonds. Dr. Fairchild termed the proposals "an attack on the financial integrity of the states and municipalities."

Charles G. Oakman, Detroit city controler, said a survey had disclosed that all except 16 per cent of Detroit's outstanding bonds were held by institutions, corporations, or the city itself.

DAY BY DAY ON THE FARM
By BOB BECKER

Roses Soon Will Bloom.

March 27, 1942.

THE prairie rose, one of the most beautiful of all the wild flowers on the Wheaton farm, soon will be blooming in the yard of one of the farm homes.

There are hundreds of the common wild roses on the farm, but only a few of the prairie roses which are much larger and grow in bush form. We recall seeing two clumps of prairie roses along one of the farm lanes last summer. They were in full bloom, with perhaps 300 individual pink flowers on each bush.

In mid-January the gardener took about 50 cuttings from two of the prairie rose plants. These cuttings were stuck in plats of sand until last week, when they were planted in rose pots. After the danger of frost is over they will be planted as a hedge in the garden. When they are mature enough to rival the wild plants still remaining in the farm woods their delicate pink flowers should be one of the sensations of the summer.

Strive to Protect Plants.

This method of transferring the beauty of the wild plants to the farmyard was decided upon in preference to transplanting whole bushes. There are only a few of the wild plants on the place, and the men didn't want to take any chances of damaging them. The cuttings taken from the wild roses probably will help them instead of injuring them in any way.

There are several magnificent seasonal developments on the farm this week. The Muscovy ducks and turkeys in the barnyard started nesting, bluebirds are showing a proprietary interest in their newly erected houses, and the waterfowl on the big pond were released from their winter quarters and immediately started scouting around for nesting sites.

Canada Geese Impatient.

The Canada geese appear especially impatient to get started on the job of findnig a place to build nest mounds. When we walked back toward the pond to check our bird banding traps the other evening a single goose was prowling around at the edge of the oak trees about 30 yards south of the big pond. As we approached he took off and flew back to the pond. Another day we noticed a pair of geese in a little neck of the big lake.

In other years there has been some enmity between the Canada geese and the white swans. So far this spring these two co-residents of the big pond are getting along amiably. The other morning a pair of the handsome swans were gliding across the pond in the midst of five geese.

UNITED BISCUIT PROFIT FOR 1941 ABOVE A MILLION

American Viscose, Ohio Oil Have Gains.

Several large industrial corporations, including United Biscuit Company of America, Ohio Oil company, and American Viscose corporation, reported yesterday improved earnings for 1941.

United Biscuit, which has executive offices in Chicago and a number of bakeries and warehouses serving most sections of the United States, had a profit of $1,006,089, equal to $1.88 a share, compared with $931,678, or $1.85 a share, in 1940, President Kenneth F. MacLellan informed shareholders in his annual report.

Taxes Nearly Doubled.

Provision for federal and state income taxes was $420,000, against $241,147 in the preceding year. Consolidated gross sales aggregated $29,794,151, compared with $24,595,438 in 1940.

Ohio Oil company, Findlay, O., engaged principally in production and distribution of crude oil, reported its profit last year was $10,799,736, equal to $1.42 a share, compared with $8,733,164, or $1.02 a share, in the preceding year. Federal income and surtax provision amounted to $2,278,200, against $1,394,226.

Earnings of American Viscose corporation, Wilmington, Del., yarn manufacturer, were $7,993,598, equal to $3.92 a share, in 1941, compared with $7,884,677, or $3.85 a share, a year earlier. The company earned more last year than in any year since 1937. Provision for federal taxes was $6,150,000, against $2,350,000.

Yellow Truck Sets Records.

Net sales and earnings of the Yellow Truck and Coach Manufacturing company set new records in 1941, President Irving B. Babcock reported. Sales totaled $224,700,305, a gain of 131 per cent over 1940. Of total units sold, 51 per cent were for military purposes.

Net earnings of the company, which is affiliated with General Motors corporation, amounted to $10,029,540, equal, after preferred dividends, to $3.01 a share on the class B and common stock. This compared with $5,813,976, or $1.60 a share, in 1940. Provision for federal income and excess profits taxes amounted to $23,187,930, against $4,030,794 in 1940.

Beans Stored on Farm Show Deterioration

BY PHILIP WARDEN.

Soy beans remaining on the farms and in storage at country points are deteriorating rapidly and show extensive heat damage, factors that may thwart America's efforts to build up vast reserve stocks of industrial fats and oils, it was learned yesterday.

The Chicago Board of Trade sampling department disclosed that 90 per cent of the beans it analyzed in the last week have been damaged to some extent. Its tests indicate that beans remaining on farms in northwestern Illinois and in many parts of Iowa show extensive deterioration.

Tests Show Many Damaged.

Samples sent by mail by country shippers for testing at the Board of Trade contain on the average approximately 40 per cent damaged beans. Many samples contain more than 50 per cent spoiled beans and a few have run 90 per cent or higher.

On the other hand, beans held in commercial warehouses are showing only about 4 per cent damage, many less. This compares with an average of less than ½ of one per cent damage in beans marketed last fall.

Officials of soy bean processing companies with offices in Chicago report losses are extensive in processing heat damaged beans. The oil is off color and the meal cannot be used in products for human consumption.

High Moisture Beans Spoil.

Dealers said most of the damage results from high moisture content. Beans that farmers were able to get out of the fields before the fall rains set in are in good condition, but in some areas farmers are reported still combining soy beans.

In yesterday's trading in bean futures on the Board of Trade, the market opened fractionally higher, then went into a decline.

Wheat finished ⅝ to ¾ cent lower with May contracts at $1.25½ a bushel in one of the smallest trades of the year. Corn was ⅛ to ¼ cent lower; oats, unchanged to ⅛ cent higher; rye, ¼ to ⅜ cent lower, and soy beans off ⅜ to ¾ cent a bushel.

LONE STAR PLANS DIVIDEND OF GAS COMPANY STOCK

Philadelphia, Pa., March 27 (AP).—D. A. Hulcy of Dallas, Tex., president of the Lone Star Gas corporation, said today the company proposed to issue to its 16,000 stockholders 304,500 shares of Northern Natural Gas company as a dividend in the ratio of one share for each 18 shares of Lone Star.

This proposal, he said, will be made in an amendment to an application on file with the Securities and Exchange commission for approval of a plan of reorganization for Lone Star.

SILVER KING.

I've been looking around for a mining stock investment in view of the current demand for most metals. A friend mentioned Silver King Coalition on the New York Stock exchange. Since I know nothing of this company I would greatly appreciate a report.—M. C. L.

Answer: Lead normally provides the largest portion of revenues of the Silver King Coalition Mines company, but in recent years silver and zinc have become increasingly important. Some gold and copper also are recovered. Mining property is in Summit county, Utah, near Salt Lake City, where the company has its offices. The company was incorporated in 1907 as a consolidation of a group of companies and claims.

Silver King's sole capitalization is 1,220,467 shares of $5 par capital stock. Earnings have been irregular in recent years. Dividends have been paid regularly at varying rates since 1932. Results follow:

MOTOR EARNINGS.

Early in February a report on the White Motor company appeared in Investors' Guide. Earnings for the first six months of 1941 were given. Do you now have the complete 1941 figures as well as the company's total of unfilled orders?—W. M.

Answer: Net income of the White Motor company, Cleveland, O., in 1941 was $2,753,915, equal to $4.41 a common share, compared with $1,952,728, or $3.12 a share, in 1940. Sales last year rose to $72,775,310 from $37,573,956 the preceding year. At the beginning of this month unfilled orders totaled approximately $145,500,000, with delivery schedules extending into the first quarter of 1943. Sales of trucks, buses, and other vehicles in 1941 set a new record at 17,866 units, compared with 10,116 units in 1940.

GOVERNMENT INSURANCE.

Is the insurance issued by the federal government to members of the active services convertible from a term basis to regular 20 or 30 payment only at the end of the term period?—J. R. R.

Answer: Government life insurance may be converted from the five year term basis upon which it is originally issued after one year. At that time the insured may have the policy dated from the time of conversion or, by paying the difference in premiums, have it dated from the issue of the term policy.

PEOPLE AND EVENTS

Edwin B. Moran, division manager of the National Association of Credit Men, has been elected president of the Rotary club of Chicago for the club year beginning July 1. He succeeds Victor C. P. Dreiske.

Edwin B. Moran.

Henry A. Parish.

Henry A. Parish, superintendent of the Galena division of the North Western railroad, has been appointed superintendent of the Wisconsin division, effective April 1, succeeding H. R. Koch. Leon B. Kendall will succeed Parish with the Galena division.

William M. Paris, vice president and general manager of the Fleischmann Malting company since 1934, has been elected president of the company. The announcement was made yesterday by James S. Adams, president of Standard Brands, Inc., of which the Fleischmann Malting is a subsidiary.

H. P. Dutton, chairman of the industrial engineering department of the Illinois Institute of Technology, will discuss "Winning the War by Eliminating Waste" at a meeting of the Illinois Manufacturers' Costs association Monday evening in the Hotel Sherman.

C. E. Atwood, vice president of Acme Visible Records, Inc., Chicago, and E. D. Power, president of Lyon Metal Products, Inc., Aurora, have been appointed to the metal office furniture and equipment industry advisory committee of the War Production board.

Caspar S. Robbins, Chicago district manager of the Credit Clearing House, has been elected vice president. Robbins, 37, is the youngest officer in the history of the company. His headquarters will be in Chicago.

O. W. Winter, vice president in charge of manufacturing of the Republic Drill and Tool company, has been elected president of the American Society of Tool Engineers.

EGGS CLIMB DESPITE LARGEST RECEIPTS IN ALMOST 11 MONTHS

Wholesale egg prices advanced ¼ to ½ cent a dozen yesterday despite the largest arrivals of fresh eggs from country shippers since last May 7. Egg futures on the Chicago Mercantile exchange sold at the best levels in two weeks, closing .15 cent higher with October at 32.3 cents.

Belief that government agents had contracted for a record amount of powdered eggs and the active buying of processors in the wholesale markets accounted for the higher prices, brokers said. The day's receipts aggregated 1,257,990 dozens, the largest for a day in March since 1938.

Wholesale butter prices were unchanged with federal buying continuing to support the market. The federally financed Dairy Products Marketing association bought 57,600 pounds of butter in Chicago and 80,577 pounds in New York at a cost of approximately $45,000. There were no sales of butter futures.

URGES GROWING OF CASTOR BEAN, CUT OFF BY WAR

The commercial growing of castor beans in the United States was urged yesterday by Dr. W. L. Burlison of the University of Illinois before the Chemurgic conference in the Stevens hotel.

Imports of the bean which provides medicinal and industrial oils have been cut sharply because of the war, Burlison said, and there are many parts of the nation suitable to its commercial production. The best location is just north of the cotton belt and south of the corn belt, centering somewhere near the tip of southern Illinois, he declared.

The three day meeting which was attended by more than 500 scientists and agriculturists ended yesterday.

Quaker Oats Co. Buys Rockford Dog Food Firm

The Quaker Oats company yesterday announced the purchase of Chappel Brothers, Inc., Rockford manufacturer of dog food specialities. R. Douglas Stuart, executive vice president of Quaker Oats, said Frank R. Warton will continue in charge of the chappel business, which will operate in Rockford as a division of Quaker Oats.

WAR CONTINUES TO STEP UP LONG DISTANCE CALLS

Delays Few, Illinois Bell Reports.

The war-stimulated long distance telephone call business showed a further advance last month, the Illinois Bell Telephone company reported yesterday. The number of long distance calls originating in Chicago during February was 801,734, compared with 682,105 in February, 1941, and 589,656 for February, 1940.

The majority of calls are being made to centers of governmental, war production and military activities, officials of the phone company said. Despite the heavy volume of business the delays in establishing phone connections with the congested areas showed little increase, officials said.

Few Points of Congestion.

Included in the points of congestion are Washington, New York, San Francisco, Atlanta, and some points in Texas. To most other points there is little or no trouble found in making connections.

Helping to make possible the huge amount of long distance business are the so-called "carrier systems," which permit many conversations to be made simultaneously over a few wires. Another help which is to become operative this year is an all-cable transcontinental line. It will be the first such line and when it goes into service is expected to speed cross-continental calls.

Three Peak Loads in Day.

The phone company has 1,915 operators handling long distance calls, compared with 1,276 a year ago. There are three peaks in the business of the average day. The first is at 10:30 a. m. when the business man has read his mail and decides to call another city. The next peak is at 2:30 p. m. when after lunch business calls are made. The third is about 7 p. m., when calls are made from homes under reduced rate schedules.

In addition to their normal and direct war business Illinois Bell and its affiliated companies in the Bell system controled by the American Telephone and Telegraph company have worked with the army to perfect aircraft warning systems.

PROFIT CASHING AGAIN PUTS BOND MARKET LOWER

New York, March 27 (AP).—Renewed profit taking forced prices irregularly lower in the bond market today, the more speculative rail issues bearing the brunt of the selling.

Scattered losses of around a point were registered in that active section, where prices held close to high marks for the year despite their trend yesterday and today.

Prices were unchanged to fractionally lower in the foreign bond section with volume light. United States government bonds held steady in light volume.

KEMPER TELLS OF WAR'S EFFECT ON INSURANCE

Believes Auto Accident Total Will Fall.

Effects of war on insurance were emphasized in the annual report of the American Motorists Insurance company of Chicago submitted yesterday by James S. Kemper, president. He asserted that altho the war had created new problems, it should result in a marked decline in automobile accidents.

Kemper said his company is coöperating with the government in an effort to meet a number of unusual contingencies. One of these relates to losses suffered by the public during blackouts, whether rehearsals or the real thing. Another has to do with the possible injury and death of civilian employés in the event of bombing or shelling of workshops.

Seek to Guard Production.

"Our constant concern is plant protection from accidents that would slow down production, together with safety activities in military posts and factories under construction," he said. "The work of our safety engineering department has contributed to conservation of man power and material."

Kemper asserted one beneficial "by-product" of the war should be a reduction in the number and severity of automobile accidents, which last year caused the death of approximately 40,000 persons, an increase of some 5,500 over 1940.

"Now it is going to be fashionable as well as saving of cars and tires to drive carefully, and it is devoutly to be hoped that this wartime necessity for greater caution will become a national habit and persist in the years of peace to come," he commented.

Distribution of Earnings.

Kemper reported that net earnings in 1941 amounted to $1,428,545, which were distributed as follows: To stockholders for dividends, $60,000; to policyholders on premium refunds, $1,293,925, and to surplus and unassigned funds, $74,619. He said assets on Dec. 31 stood at $10,366,126, compared with $10,010,086 at the end of 1940; net surplus was $1,500,000, compared with $1,444,430, and premiums were $8,180,880, compared with $7,202,708. Assets included $4,370,399 cash in banks and $3,732,705 of government bonds.

HOGS SOAR AGAIN TO NEW 16 YEAR HIGHS IN CHICAGO

Below normal receipts at markets thruout the country yesterday drove live costs of hogs to new 16 year peaks in Chicago. The general level of prices was 5 to 10 cents higher than on the day the government announced price ceilings for pork and 30 to 35 cents higher than during the ceiling base period of March 3 to 7.

Top loads soared 20 cents to $13.80 a hundred pounds, highest since October, 1926. Packers' live costs averaged 15 cents higher at $13.60, the highest daily average since June, 1926.

RETAIL VOLUME HITS NEW PEAK ON EASTER SALES

New York, March 27 (AP).—The pre-Easter buying surge carried retail sales during the last week to a new peak since the Christmas rush, Dun & Bradstreet reported today. A survey showed seasonal interest at its height, giving variety, specialty, department, and shoe stores larger than average sales increases.

The general average increase was estimated at 16 to 22 per cent over the comparable 1941 period. The middle west gained 19 to 26 per cent.

Purchasing of men's clothing to beat style restrictions accounted for a heavy turnover in that line, the review said, adding that in some sections retailers were reported planning to ration men's furnishings to eliminate multiple buying. Wholesale volume reflected the retail sales rise, aided by the upswing in reordering and increased bookings of some lines of summer and fall merchandise.

Railroads' Equipment Buying Heavier in Year

American railroads last year bought $1,651,672,000 of equipment, or $477,590,000 more than in 1940, Railway Age estimates. The purchases were 62 per cent more than in 1939 and about equal to those in 1929.

Beautiful Children
IN COLOR

Mothers and fathers—mail photographs or snapshots of your children to the Children's Picture Editor of The Chicago Daily Tribune. From pictures submitted The Tribune will select four children each week to be photographed free of charge with the famous Tribune color camera. These pictures will be reproduced in full color in The Daily Tribune, and after reproduction an original color photograph worth $100 will be presented to each child whose picture appears. Mail your entries now. A full page of Beautiful Children in color will appear each week in The Daily Tribune.
